Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I take it for granted that many of you have heard the name of a man of antiquity, King Hammurabi, the old King of the Sumerians. King Hammurabi was the old gentleman who became the first codifier in the world. He was the man who introduced the principle of what the Romans called lex talionis, the law of retribution, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and so on. When he said "An eye for an eye," he meant that a person who was aggrieved should actually blacken the eye of his assailant.

Unfortunately, Mr. President, after being buried and dead for many millenniums, I see now that the shades of Hammurabi are beginning to stalk all over Pennsylvania. Recently, there were a crop of statements in the newspapers of Pennsylvania about the Board of Pardons. Two gentlemen from the House of Representatives even had the temerity of introducing a resolution to investigate this board. Now what do they think about? Do they think that leniency should be completely stricken from the rules and regulations of Pennsylvania? Do they think that people who are doomed to eternal confinement should have no cases which, when the circumstances are considered, command and demand certain ameliorative action.

Mr. President, about six months ago, I appeared before the Board of Pardons on a case which, in my opinion, was the most interesting in the annals of the board. True enough, it involved a youthful murderer from Reading who, after serving fifteen years, petitioned the board for commutation. This fellow, when he came into the Eastern Penitentiary, developed an ability as an atomic scientist. He had offers from all over the United States from outstanding engineering companies who wanted his services. Even from England came lucrative offers to join their staffs and do research on atomic energy and thermonuclear. While in prison, the man was a model prisoner. He developed a library, running close to 1,000 volumes. He became one of the finest printers and, otherwise, expiated the crime of his youth. He was only seventeen years old when he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The judge who sentenced him to life imprisonment realized that the sentence was rather Draconian. However, the judge was subject to the hysteria which gripped the city of Reading at the time of the crime. The judge, himself, came to plead before the board for leniency to this young man. The man was pardoned.

Now, Mr. President, I read in one of the editorials of the newspapers a reference to this case. We have to be critical; we may criticize but, in my opinion, before you start criticizing, study the case and then come to conclusions. For this reason, Mr. President, I believe that many statements in the newspapers—and I do not hold any brief for the Pardons Board—are rather conceived in haste. For this reason, I feel that I must bring it to the attention of the Members of the Senate. Before you condemn, before you criticize, do a little studying and then jump to conclusions. Please remember that King Hammurabi has no room in the life of Pennsylvania.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to mage report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1021, entitled:

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE SAFEGUARDING OF THE HEALTH OF THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH, BOTH THROUGH THE PREVENTION OF MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF MISBRANDED, ADULTERATED, UNWHOLESOME OR DELETERIOUS FOODS.

Messrs, HARNEY, MADIGAN and DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Agriculture:

In the Senate, March 13, 1956.

Whereas, The protection of the public health includes both the prevention of adulteration and misbranding of foods and the imposition of positive duties upon food manufacturers, processors, and sellers to offer pure, wholesome food, accurately and truthfully labeled; and

Whereas, While the laws enacted by the Federal Government dealing with both the misbranding and adulteration and the truthful labeling and representation of foods, in their application to interstate commerce, operate to some extent to protect the citizens of the Commonwealth, yet the Commonwealth's obligation to provide safeguards for the health of its citizens is not discharged by a reliance upon the Federal Government, and it remains the right and duty of the Commonwealth to take whatever steps necessary to insure that foods manufactured, processed, and sold within our state be wholesome and be completely and accurately labeded; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth's food laws deal primarily with preventing the adulteration and misbranding of foods and but infrequently provide for the complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the safeguarding of the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth, both through the prevention of manufacture and sale of misbranded, adulterated, unwholesome, or deleterious foods and through requirements for complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No No. 215

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 215.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on the adoption of this bill and wish to state my reason for doing so.

I object to the inclusion of subsidies for General Fund obligations. That is the only portion of the bill which I object to. I want the record to show that that is my reason for voting against it.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I likewise want to be recorded as voting "no" for the same reason expressed by Senator Propert.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Propert has already given my reasons for desiring to be recorded as voting "no." This is another facet of another increase in the school budget that will come back to haunt us and our budgets in the years to come.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I want to be recorded as voting "no," and join in the objections of Senator Propert.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

An Act amending the act of June nineteen one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 534) entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables" defining the jurisdiction of deputy constables

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 act of June nineteen one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 534) entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables" is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That on and after the passage of this act the sole power to appoint a deputy constable or constables in any ward borough or township shall be vested in the constable of such ward borough or township subject to the approval of the court of quarter sessions as provided by law and that no person shall be appointed as a deputy constable unless he shall be at the time of his appointment a bona fide resident of the ward borough or township for which he shall have been appointed and shall continue to be a bona fide resident for the time during which such appointment is made It shall be unlawful for any deputy constable to exercise any powers or duties relative to or arising out of any case or action originating in or brought before the court of any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace outside of the ward borough or township in which the appointing constable was elected

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President I, rise at this time to oppose the passage of Senate Bill No. 30, which limits the jurisdiction of deputy constables. I imagine that the sponsor of this legislation might have a particular problem in Allegheny County. However, in my opinion, deputy constables serve a very useful purpose, especially in the rural areas. I cannot see why it is necessary to penalize the rural areas because of some condition that might exist in the metropolitan areas.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members on both sides to vote "no" in opposition to this legislation.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

An Act establishing minimum compensation and increments for administrators and members of the faculty of the Thaddeus Stevens Trade School and imposing duties on the board of trustees of such school and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, would the proposer of these amendments agree to allow the amendments to lie on the table until tomorrow? I desire to put the bill over and that will give the sponsors of the bill an opportunity to find out about these amendments and what effect they might have on the bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if the Majority Leader so requests, I will refrain from offering the amendments and permit the bill to go over in order. However, we, on this side of the Senate, feel that it is rather unusual that we should set up a separate salary schedule for schoolteachers. What we want to do is to amend this act to conform with the salary schedule of the public schoolteachers and also that of Scotland School. We do not feel that there should be any preference.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will refrain from offering the amendments at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate either of these two new residents of Allegheny County as to what they are trying to do. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate either Senator Wagner or Senator Whalley.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wagner, will you tell me where you reside in Allegheny County?

Mr. WAGNER. Did you ask whether I reside in Allegheny County?

Mr. BARR. I asked whether you moved in.

Mr. WAGNER. I have the same relationship to Allegheny County, residentially, as you have, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. That is a very good answer. That is a very good retort, but I still pay my taxes there.

Mr. WAGNER. You and I both, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. Would you tell me what you are trying to do with these amendments?

Mr. WAGNER. Do you mean the amendments that Senator Whalley offered? I have not seen them in final print. I can tell you what we are trying to do with the bill.

Mr. BARR. All right, let me hear that.

Mr. WAGNER. As you noticed, in print the bill was submitted by request and the request was from the Education Committee which decided unanimously, when they were considering the distressed condition of the Pittsburgh School District, that if we were going to give Pittsburgh an additional appropriation over and above what they get under the formula that applies to the entire State, we also should provide a means for Pittsburgh to help itself in its school problems. They claim that they had no way to help themselves with an appointed school board, unless the Legislature directed such aid.

I think, Senator Barr, we should go back two years to the 1953 Session of the Legislature when Pittsburgh pleaded for additional money on the grounds that it was impoverished, but did not want to be classified as a distressed school district because of the dignity of the metropolitan area. The Legislature decided to give them the money at that time and also give them an apportunity to vote to increase their taxes to make up the additional slack. They took the money—pardon me; we gave them the money—and they had a vote and they defeated the vote to increase their own share of the cost. This year we find ourselves right back where we started, and Pittsburgh again is asking for money they say they need over and above their formula allocation in order to function.

The Committee on Education decided that instead of giving Pittsburgh the requested handout for two years, we would give it to them for one year, providing, at the same time, we passed a bill to put an end to this continuing distress and permit Pittsburgh to tax its citizens sufficiently to run their schools in the fashion to which they have become accustomed. Hence, this bill.

The amendments that were added today probably could be better explained by the person who offered them. However, I want it clearly understood that the bill had its inception in the thinking of the Education Committee, regardless of party, because the members of that committee are sufficiently interested in education everywhere not to want to see it break down anywhere. Yet we feel that we cannot, Session after Session, continue to appropriate to Pittsburgh $750,000 or more, which is in excess of what other districts get under the same formula by which Pittsburgh is paid.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Schuylkill kind of leaves me cold when he talks about distressed school districts. I have sat in this Senate since 1941 and I voted for more appropriations for Schuylkill County, for its distressed school districts, than any other county in this state. The gentleman, therefore, is either sincere or insincere.

In 1953 was passed a bill here and put it to a referendum, under the Republicans, in the city of Pittsburgh and it was defeated. This year our Democratic and Republican Members of the House and Senate got together and we passed a bill, giving them an increase of a mill and a half in real estate taxes, without any referendum. If Senator Wagner wants to be a party to the wage tax for the city of Pittsburgh, that is all right with me. However, I am tired hearing the whistles blown by the Republicans, on the other side, about the wage tax and then, today, find two Members of the Senate who do not come from Allegheny County or from the city of Pittsburgh try to impose a wage tax on the people in the city of Pittsburgh. I can just see Senator Watkins, Senator Harney and all the boys from Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware bleeding for this bill. I am sure they would; would you not, Senator Watkins?

Mr. WATKINS. I am going to vote "no" on any income tax at any time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, after hearing the side bar conversation, at least, we have one "no" vote. I will guarantee you we have a lot of "no" votes over here. Therefore, we will have to argue this out when it comes up for Final Passage. However, there is no one from Allegheny County on either side who would sponsor this bill.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the Senator from Allegheny County, Senator Barr, that he never voted for money for distressed school districts in Schuylkill County. Those distressed areas are not voted on specifically. The only thing he ever voted for was an appropriation for distressed school districts, to be distributed to needy dsitricts when the Department of Public Instruction would find that they were entitled to receive it. It is the same kind of a fund to which Pittsburgh could go under similar circumstances.

The reason, Senator Barr, that this special separate legislation is in is because Pittsburgh will not acknowledge itself to be distressed. It just acknowledges the need for millions of dollars that it does not have. I do not think the interpretation is quite fair about the wage tax. This permits Pittsburgh to do what some three or four hundred other districts do in the State, to levy a wage tax among their own people to keep their own children in school if that is the only way it can be done. If Pittsburgh does not want more money for their school children, the people of Pittsburgh do not need to take this opportunity to have a wage tax. However, if they choose to desire it, they still cannot have it unless the Legislature makes it permissive.

It is all right to stand there and almost arrogantly announce gleefully that there will be no votes on that side for this bill. However, I do not enjoy that declaration because as matters stand at this moment, the Committee on Education has directed that House Bill No. 917 should not pass unless this particular bill moves. If you are just going to arbitrarily, and coercively and politically say there will be no votes, then I am afraid you are making it almost impossible for Pittsburgh to get additional aid such as is proposed in House Bill No. 917.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, when the gentleman talks about arrogance, I want to say that his is the most arrogant speech I ever heard on the Senate floor. He says that the Committee on Education is going to direct fifty Members of the Senate on what they are going to do.

I want to say to Senator Wagner that I will go over to the Department of Public Instruction tomorrow and I will find out the amount of money that has been given to the distressed school districts in Schuylkill County during the fifteen or sixteen years that I have been here. I would be willing to make a bet here on this floor that out of the $400,000. I voted for just a few moments ago, at least eighty per cent of it will go to Schuylkill County. That has happened year after year, although I do not know about this year. However, I think this is the first year when we did not have to pass a deficiency appropriation for the distressed school districts mainly in Schuylkill County.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to the defense of the two sponsors of this measure in that it is not their wish to sponsor this legislation. However, several months ago, in the Committee on Education, of which I am a member, and being cognizant of the financial straits in which the school board of the city of Pittsburgh finds itself, I tried to secure from the committee the release of House Bill No. 917 because the city of Pittsburgh School Board needed the money for the biennium in order to carry on the orderly processes of their educational system. I met with very little success and very little sympathy from the members of the Education Committee, Republican and Democrat alike. The suggestion was made in the committee, not by any member from Allegheny County but by members from other parts of Pennsylvania, that Pittsburgh would have to raise the money itself. Finally, they came up with the proposal that they would release House Bill No. 917, not for the biennium, but with enough money for one year only, with the thought in mind that they would present to the city of Pittsburgh School Board the right to enact some other type of tax.

I would like to state parenthetically for the information of the Senate, although I am sure all of you know it but it may have slipped your minds, the School Board in the City of Pittsburgh is an appointed board and has no taxing power of its own. It can only put into effect those taxes that the Legislature gives it permission to enact. The Committee on Education thought that since the municipal government in the city of Pittsburgh was able to cut the one per cent wage tax, which was enforced there and had been cut to one-half of one per cent, then the city of Pittsburgh could be put on a par with all the other communities in Pennsylvania, whereby the municipal governments and the school boards, if they so saw fit, could enact up to one per cent of a wage tax. Half could be taken by the municipal government and half by the school board.

This bill was presented for that purpose. Certainly, it is not a bill that is backed by the Republican Caucus. It is a bill that was put out here to see whether or not it would be possible to secure bipartisan support for the measure in order that the much needed money in the city of Pittsburgh could be raised. How we can raise it, I do not know. I am sure that I would speak for all the Members of the Senate from Allegheny County, both Republican and Democrat, and I am sure that I would speak for all the Members of the House of Representatives from Allegheny County, both Republican and Democrat alike, in that we would like to see the school board of the city of Pittsburgh put, as we believe, on a par with the school board in the first class district in the city of Philadelphia. Seemingly, we cannot get anywhere with that. We have tried that, I know, for the past four years anyway and I believe a couple of years previous to that. This was an attempt, at least on the part of the Education Committee of the Senate, to peresent to the Senate the ways and means by which the city of Pittsburgh could solve its own problem.

I certainly canot speak for Senator Wagner; I cannot speak for the Committee on Education. However, I would think that Senator Wagner and all the members of the Committee on Education would welcome any suggestion that any Member of the Senate, either Republican or Democrat, might have to offer by which we could solve the needs of the city of Pittsburgh and the school system there. Certainly, the school board needs more money. It needs more money with which to pay its teachers. We cannot get it through State subsidy. Seemingly, every avenue of taxation on which they had the right to levy has been exhausted. The question surely recurs to them, and it is a major question to them, of how they will get the money to keep the educational system of Pittsburgh at least on a par with the educational systems of the other school boards all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think, perhaps, if I would have had an opportunity to have spoken first, we probably would not have had to take so long. The Senator from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, has asked for a suggestion and I could have given him a suggestion earlier in the debate.

Senator Fleming said that if anybody will come forward with the answer to the problem in order that Pittsburgh can be equalized with the rest of the school districts in their ability to meet their obligations, I might say that if you look in the budget, you will find that the budget provides for enough money in this biennium to equalize Pittsburgh's contribution out of the State appropriations on a unit basis, the same as is being received by the city of Philadelphia. That is all we ask for. We only ask that Pittsburgh be given the same unit refund on a subsidy base as what the city of Philadelphia has enjoyed for years. We do not want any wage tax for the school board. All we want is that they get their just share out of the taxes contributed to on an equal basis by the citizens of Pittsburgh and the citizens of Philadelphia and the other districts in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, in the budget the Governor has placed sufficient moneys to cover the amount needed to equalize the subsidies to Pittsburgh on the same basis as Philadelphia. You do not need any two per cent wage tax, or one per cent or a half of one per cent. Just give them the same money that for years has been denied the city of Pittsburgh School Board on the basis of their subsidy grants out of the Commonwealth's General Fund. That is all they ask in Pittsburgh. They do not want any instructions for new taxes; they do not want any permission for new taxes.

Senator Fleming, you have every right to fight for it, coming from that end of the State. Pittsburgh should not be the stepson or stepdaughter of the Commonwealth in the educational field. For many years, many of us have fought to try to have the Pittsburgh subsidies equalized with the Philadelphia subsidies. That is all it takes. The money that is in House Bill No. 917, about which you are talking, is already provided for in the budget by the Governor of the Commonwealth, who has seen the inequalities which have existed over the years and has tried to equalize it. That is all it takes at this time or any other time.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not see any reason why we should try to accumulate figures any more today, but before we are finshed with this we will get relative figures for Philadelphia and Pittsgurgh.

Without questioning at all the sincerity with which the suggestion was made by the gentleman from Westmoreland, I do not like to see the impression get out that somehow or other Pittsburgh has been denied its fair share of State school money, and that Pittsburgh has not received back in proportion what they should receive considering what they pay into the State Treasury.

Senator Dent, you know that the amount of money any school district receives from the State in subsidies has nothing to do with the taxes they pay to the State. It is based on a formula which has been determined and acclaimed all over the Country by which Pennsylvania has the fairest system of school financing on the State level of any State in the Union. The law provides that each school district shall have certain standards of educational services and they shall pay the share of that locally according to their wealth and the rect will be provided by the State. That is the basis on which Philadelphia is recompensed and it is the basis on which Pittsburgh is recompensed.

Mr. President, Pittsburgh says, "Give us what Philadelphia gets," simply because they want more money and Philadelphia is getting more. There is nothing to stop me, Senator Dent, from coming in here and picking out a school like Columbia, Pennsylvania, and finding that they get more money than Tamaqua, say that we should receive no less money in State subsidies in Tamaqua than they get in Columbia. You would simply have chaos instead of a formula. Now, Senator Dent, if the machinery is set up and if the revenues of the State are calculated in a fashion to take care of this, why do we have House Bill No. 917? If it is fair and square and proper, why do we not budget it, period, and stop there?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think that the Senator knows full well that if the subsidies were based upon a just evaluation, the Governor would not have put into his budget, at this time, an amount which would equalize the subsidy returns to Pittsburgh with those of Philadelphia. Senator Wagner might realize also that the school district we are talking about are, as has been pointed out, appointed and have no taxing powers. However, if one goes deep into the picture, as the Tax Equalization Board should have done many years ago—I understand there have been some reports made—you will find that the situation is based upon the valuation of properties as against the amount of millage assessed in the community and if you work this out, based on the formula which has been used and which Senator Wagner claims to be such a fair method, it will be proven without any doubt that Pittsburgh, for many years, has been reiceving less than the amount they are entitled to out of the State educational fund. That is the reason why they have always run into difficulties when we, in Harrisburg, increase teachers' salaries and go along on the other increased costs of public education by establishing standards, without taking into consideration the ability of an appointed school board to meet the prescribed and mandated increase in cost.

I do not believe that any committee should have the right to say to this Senate, "We recognize that Pittsburgh needs this money and we are going to give it to them only if they in turn pass additional taxes."

Mr. President, if we go into the communities, even into Schuylkill, I dare say, and if we have a fair appraisal of their ability to pay taxes and the assessed valuation of the properties as compared to some of the neighboring properties and go deep into the ownerships and so forth, we may even find that some of the communities which we have treated as distressed over the years may have some ability to meet their own needs, such as up in Schuylkill County or any other place. Therefore, we just cannot say to the city of Pittsburgh, "You are a stepchild in the educational field and we will only give you money to meet your needs if, at this time. you subject your people to an additional yoke of taxation."

Mr. President, I do not understand the logic behind such a move and I resist the attempt to put Pittsburgh in a class, or its school board in a class or its peoples in a class whereby the moneys which they are entitled to out of State funds are only given to them under a threat of being taken from them unless they do something which the Legislature wants them to comply with. I do not think that is the proper spirit to legislate in and the people of Pittsburgh are entitled to more consideration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has referred the following resolutions:

By Messrs. BELL and ISAACS.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 162.

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1956.

Under the statutory laws of the Commonwealth, the Board of Pardons has the power to hear applications for the remission of fines and forfeitures, and the granting of reprieves, commutations of sentence, and pardons, except in cases of impeachment, and to make recommendations in writing to the Governor thereon, in the manner provided in and under and subject to Article IV, section 9 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

The Board of Pardons consists of the Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Attorney General and Secretary of Internal Affairs, three members of the board constituting a quorum.

In February, 1955, the Board of Pardons commuted the death sentences of Theodore Elliot and Edward Hough to life imprisonment. Both men had been sentenced to death for killing a policeman.

Between April, 1955 and March, 1956, at least seventeen persons serving life imprisonment sentences for murder and killing have received commutation of sentence from the Pardon Board.

In its report, the March, 1956 Grand Jury of Delaware County condemned the action of the State Pardon Board for pardoning several convicted criminals. The Grand Jury said: "Our courts will become a laughing stock and respect for law and order will disappear if the pardon board is to set at naught all of the effort required to convict such criminals."

Clemency dispensed in a manner condemned by a Grand Jury and seriously questioned by responsible newspapers is well subject to inquiry by this Legislature; therefore be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring) That to preserve the administration of criminal justice, the President pro tempore appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House, who together shall constitute a joint commission and be authorized and directed to make an investigation of charges made of improper granting of clemency by the State Pardon Board.

The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before them. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this Session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. MULDOWNEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1956.

During the evening of March 9, 1956, more than 8000 screaming spectators at Penn's Palestra, Philadelphia, witnessed one of the finest and hard-fought city title basketball contests in Philadelphia history when North Catholic High School's Falcons by superb teamwork and sheer determination clashed with and shaded the Speedboys of West Philadelphia High Schol 68-67 for the City Crown. West Philadelphia, Public Conference kings, who entered the game unbeaten had their victory string halted at 17.

For the Falcons, coached by Ed Scullin, this was their first appearance in the Public-Parochial championship playoff. Bobby McNeill, one of the two Falcons named to the six-man All-Catholic Team and leading point producers for the Falcons this season netted 29 points on 12 fields goals and five fouls. He was named the game's most valuable player, for which he received the ninth annual Inquirer Award. McNeill had plenty of support from speedy Jim Kenney, another All-Catholic selection who accounted for 16 points, John (Josh) Keenan who ripped the cards for 13 points and the other members of the team who came through with timely points; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extends its congratulations to the basketball team of North Catholic High School, known as "The Falcons," upon its winning in a hard, clean fought battle, its first city championship. It also wishes to congratulate Coach Ed Scullin for producing a team with fighting spirit and Bobby McNeill and Jim Kenny for their leadership, ability and appointment to the All-Catholic Team; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House send a copy of this resolution to Coach Ed Scullin of North Catholic High School.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

The SPEAKER (Mr. Andrews) asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, personally I have always enjoyed such excellent personal relations with the Press that I have always hesitated on the floor of this House to indulge in any general criticisms.

However, I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that if I were the only one concerned in the statement to which I shall later allude, I would not now take the floor. As I have said, I have enjoyed very good personal relations with the Press throughout the years personally, but in every newspaper group there is always one member of the genus "McFightus."

I want to read a part, just one paragraph of a screed penned as a sort of feature. The clipping reads as follows:

> Leaders of House Bankrupt in Both Intelligence and Courage. A bipartisan committee of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg has produced a monstrous tax program.

I do not know the author of that statement, but I will warrant that if I saw the entire staff of that paper parade before me I could pick him out. He would be the one that swung his hips as he walked. I would classify this particular pen-wielder as a perfumed political illiterate, one mentally bankrupt, a person who could have reached his present sad state only as a result of continued intellectual self-abuse. There is a cruder way of saying that. His underclothing is probably laundered twice a day because he is a coward, cowards know fear, and they tell me in the books that fear stains underwear.

A newspaper is privileged to criticise our actions, but no newspaper within the bounds of properiety is justified in announcing to the people of this state that the leaders of this House, the ones vested by you as representing the leadership, comprise a group destitute of both intelligence and courage. I might accept the indictment on intelligence if it were backed by argument, but I do not accept the indictment of lack of courage.

Neither the public nor the Press has understood the logic, the logic of events, which made the bipartisan tax program the only means whereby the political logjam that had been engendered over the months could have been broken.

The Press has wondered why the Governor, who is called a "stubborn young man," did not months and months ago clear the way for a sales tax. What would he have used for votes? Not even the Governor of this Commonwealth months and months ago could have waved a wand, or by summoning Members into his presence could have produced a majority of the votes, 106 on this side of the House for a sales tax, and he did not have them on that side of the House.

Events had to drift to the point where bipartisan action was possible, and the attempt had to be timed. That attempt, when it was sent to the other Chamber, gave that Chamber the tools, the necessary tools, that enabled it to function. It could not have originated any tax legislation, and it found the legislation sent to it unsuited for the purpose of framing a general sales tax.

The bipartisan program as a matter of deliberation and of previous planning contained a choice, sales tax or income tax, and because it was sent to the other Chamber under bipartisan auspices it compelled action and constructive action would have been impossible before. That bipartisan program was not born overnight.

It was born out of the logic of a situation that had developed over the months.

You have a heavy program, a heavy calendar, and I do not care to consume too much time. This House was derided in another place and in the Press because it sent to the other branch of this General Assembly a tax bill that was supposed to be crudely drawn. Within the last few days we have received from the Chamber that criticized us a tax bill which contains more bugs than a thousand flophouse beds. And it is our business, it is our business, without destroying the tenor and texture of the bill, to remove the bugs.

This House of this General Assembly has a right to expect intelligent cooperation upon the part of the Press. I cannot continue along this line this afternoon, although I would like to cite many examples, but you can damn by a headline that in and of itself is innocent. "State Tax Vultures Denounced." "State Tax Vultures Denounced." Who are the vultures, the Members of Pennsylvania's General Assembly? Ah, you say, it is simply a headline over a letter to the editor. But it is the letter that is featured and it is the headline that stands, the headline that registers with the public.

If I had the time I would beseech a more intelligent and sympathetic consideration of the problems we face in taxation, although the newspapers probably are not interested. Why? Because they have no stake in any tax bill we pass. Free, and when they have a secure tax immunity, they are privileged to abuse.

Now we have a tax bill to amend. We have school legislation of impelling import, we have health legislation of great importance to the people of this Commonwealth, and we have before us the very unpopular job of bringing into line salaries in the public service, whether they serve in state institutions as technical help, technical advisers, whether they are professors at state universities, or whether they are cabinet officers or Members of the General Assembly.

We face a critical situation from the point of education in this Commonwealth, not only at the lower level but our universities are no longer able to pay the salaries necessary to maintain the quality in the staff that they should maintain. Many of our educators are leaving us, and that is particularly true at the state universities.

For years we have had a stream of technicians whom we trained in this Commonwealth in our state institutions, and they have drifted into other states because we have not paid them.

We have the General State Authority problems. What additional facilities will this General Assembly make possible by increasing the borrowing power of the General State Authority? To what extent should the borrowing power of the School Authority be increased? Those are all questions you will be asked to decide and are some of the most important issues that have come before us in the closing days, the closing hectic days, of the session.

As far as the Speaker is concerned and insofar as lies within his power, we will take the time necessary to adequately consider legislation that we originate here or legislation that is sent to us from the other Chamber, desires for a sine die adjournment resolution to the contrary notwithstanding.

We are a deliberative body. We are not subject to the whims of a few tired old men who serve in another chamber and who long to go home. We are young and virile and we have the stuff.

I thank the Members of the House for their indulgence. I crave their cooperation. I seek more cordial relations with the Press, more sympathetic relations, not sympathetic as far as we are personally concerned, but sympathetic with the things we are trying to do, the things we should do, and in the doing of which frequently we blunder.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 217, Printer's No. 1514

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 231, as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Any person entitled to vote at an election shall on the day of election be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours while the polls of the election are open This section shall not apply to a voter on the day of a primary general municipal or special elections if there are two successive hours while the polls of such election are open in which he is not engaged in any service or employment

Section 2 No deduction shall be made from the usual salary or wages of such voter and no other penalty shall be imposed upon him by his employer by reason of such absence (1) if the voter shall notify his employer before the day of election of such intended absence and (2) if thereupon two successive hours for such absence shall be designated by the employer and such absence shall be during such designated hours or (3) if the employer upon the day of such notice makes no designation and such absence shall be during any two successive hours while the polls are open.

Section 3 This act shall apply to and include employes of all political subdivisions

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, some of the Members may not know that this bill was amended yesterday to provide that only in the event an employee is required to work the entire time the polls are open would he be entitled to ask the employer to designate two hours during his working day during which time he would go to vote and for which he would be paid.

The bill now is in that shape. I see no reason why everybody cannot vote for this bill in good conscience.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. READINGER. For the information of the Members of the House, this bill also was amended yesterday. It provides that employers of fifty or more employes shall pay to an employe who is called for jury duty the difference between what the employe was regularly paid and the amount he receives for serving on the jury. It also limits it to a period of two weeks.

The bill as originally drawn, in my opinion, did not properly describe what was to be accomplished. I do not think there ever was any intention to bankrupt any small employers of two, or three, or five, people.

Furthermore, I do not know whether the draftsman had in mind the fact that there are employes, or persons, who are called to Federal jury duty and sometimes remain there as long as three or four months. It was my thought that the bill as drawn could inflict terrific punishment on some innocent employer and, therefore, I offered the amendments.

I think the bill as it stands now is a good bill and I am asking everybody in the House to vote for it.

Shall the bill pass finally?

(c) All other things and persons now taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth for county city and school purposes

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I think the Members should realize that this bill is a dangerous piece of legislation. On the face of it it would not appear that way. It says it clarifies, and that is not all that it could or might do.

We have talked many times about machinery bills here in the House and we all realize the threat that it places on industry. We know we just lost one major industry to Ohio as a result of our unfavorable tax structure, and we are just making a little headway since we have the broad base tax firmly established. So why wave the red flag any further at industry and say, "We may take a crack at you on your machinery and call it real estate?"

We have talked all those things over before, so I hope the Members in voting upon this bill will realize they are again asking industry not to come into Pennsylvania. Let us ask them to come here and not tell them we do not want them. A vote on this bill certainly will be an indication of whether or not we do want more work. If we have more industry, we will have more employment. Certainly what is good for business is good for labor in this respect. O I hope all the Members will vote against this measure.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman who just spoke gave you the wrong impression of this bill. This is not new legislation, this is the bill that was passed in the House in the session of 1953.

At that time machinery was tax-exempt in all counties of the state of Pennsylvania with the exception of Allegheny County. At the time this bill was drawn up Allegheny County and its municipalities could collect a machinery tax. The only thing we are doing in this piece of legislation is clarifying in the body of the bill the municipalities within Allegheny County.

This does not change the Act one bit, in fact, U. S. Steel, which is one of the big industries in Allegheny County at the present time, has indicated its willingness to pay this machinery tax. That can be verified by Members from Allegheny County.

The only reason this amendment to the Act is being written is to make it say what it means and what the intent of the Legislature is. The intent of the Legislature at the time this bill was passed was that every municipal subdivision in Allegheny County could tax machinery. That does not change the law one bit. The industry that is in Allegheny County is willing to go along and pay this machinery tax. That is all we are doing, clarifying the Act.

There is a possibility somebody could say, "Well, the Act is not right." This could be said in the interpretation of many bills we have in the House of Representatives, they have been changed after we passed them and they have become law. We are not changing anything in this bill that is in the Act at the present time. It is just clarifying the Act.

It is going to save a lot of municipalities in Allegheny County litigation that might cost a lot of money to take it into court. I think this is a good piece of legislation and it is not harming anyone. I think Allegheny County can get along with industry. Nobody wants to chase industry away, not even the Members from Allegheny County. So I hope everyone can support this piece of legislation.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, the law clearly states now that Allegheny County can assess machinery as real estate, and they have been practicing that for the last number of years. In the legislation passed in 1953 Allegheny County was specifically exempted from many provisions of that Act, so this certainly is not needed legislation. There is absolutely no question about that.

It could be a vehicle which could carry other very damaging legislation as far as industry is concerned. If it were needed legislation, if it were something that would help Allegheny County, then I would have no objections, but it certainly can do no good and can do harm. So it is really a useless bill.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the gentleman. This does not change the Act one bit. It is clarifying legislation and that is all it is—clarifying legislation. I want the Members to understand that.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1219, as follows:

An Act amending the act of August 5, 1932 (P. L. 45) entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced" reserving under certain conditions the legality of taxes imposed by any city of the first class notwithstanding the imposition of similar taxes by the State

Section 1 The act of August 5, 1932 (P. L. 45) entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced" is amended by adding at the end thereof a new section to read

Section 5 Notwithstanding any provision of section 1 of the act to which this is an amendment whenever any tax is imposed by the State the State tax shall not vacate affect or impair the levy or collection of any similar tax imposed by any city of the first class pursuant to this act if the act imposing the State tax specifically provides that the tax imposed by any city shall not be vacated affected or impaired

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Comimttee on Cities—Counties First Class.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1226, as follows:

An Act requiring the State Treasurer and other state officials to deduct the tax imposed by any first class city upon salaries wages and other compensation paid to officers and employes of the Commonwealth residing within that city and to make a return and remit the tax so deducted to the Revenue Commissioner of the city

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer or other appropriate state official to deduct at the itme of payment of the salary wage or other compensation to any officer or employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the exception of elected officials residing within any first class city the tax imposed by the city on the salary wage or other compensation due by the Commonwealth to any officer or employe thereof The State Treasurer or other appropriate state official shall on or before the last day of April, July, October and January of each year beginning with October 1955 make a return on a form furnished by or obtainable from the Revenue Commissioner of the city and pay to the Revenue Commissioner the amount of tax so deducted for the three month period ending on the last day of the month preceding

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill that was put on the calendar after having gone through a test vote last week, apparently only for amusement purposes, because there were at least 69 absentees in the House last week. This is a bill of considerable importance to the largest city in the state of Pennsylvania.

I want to call your attention to the fact that many employers all over the state, in fact, all employers, are now obliged to withhold taxes from their employes for the Federal Government. The city of Philadelphia also withholds taxes from 37,000 employes for the benefit of the Federal Government, that includes city employes and people who are employed in our school system.

This bill merely asks permission to have the State Treasurer, or other authorized officer of the state, withhold from those persons employed by the state who live in the city of Philadelphia the city income tax so that instead of having to spend money, spend time and engage in litigation to sue them, to harass them and subject them to various annoyances, they could be spared that trouble and have the same amount deducted and sent to the City Treasurer.

I have here letters from two of the Unions that involve the Public Assistance employes in Philadelphia and those who are employed by the State Liquor Control Board, the liquor store clerks. These two Unions support this bill and ask that this be done to spare them the trouble and the annoyance of making out separate returns.

What we are asking you to do is to give Philadelphia a lift in this particular matter so that we are not subjected to the extra expense of trying to collect the money, and so the taxpayer himself is not subjected to the annoyance of filling out a form or being dunned in case he fails to make the payment.

I ask you sincerely to support this bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement on this bill.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has just asked us to give Philadelphia a helping hand. I would like to give them another kind of contact.

This Philadelphia wage tax is one of the most unjust, discriminatory taxes—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, is the subject of the gentleman's remarks germane to the issue here? Is this bill being discussed with reference to the deduction features, or is the validity of the Philadelphia income tax going to be discussed?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The only question before this House is on House Bill 1226, Printer's No. 1353, and the remarks of the gentleman must be confined to that bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, insofar as I must confine my remarks to the subject of this bill, what is more unjust than facilitating the collection of an unjust tax? What is more unjust than facilitating the demand for tribute from the "City of Brotherly Love" for the right of a man to earn his daily bread?

I say, Mr. Speaker, we should not subject our state employes from the counties of the Commonwealth to this added unjust tax. To subject our state employes to such a tax is to levy tribute on their pay checks; to subject our state employes to the levy of this tax is to permit a flat base tax to be collected from their pay checks.

I ask that you vote "no" on this unjust method of collecting a discriminatory, confiscatory tax.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, answering some of the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, I am wondering how he feels about the other people in Philadelphia who do pay this tax regularly and have it deducted from their wages by others than the state? I am not interrogating the gentleman, I am just surmising what he might have in mind.

It seems to me we are not considering the wisdom or lack of wisdom of this particular tax nor the justice of it. We are considering solely whether it is proper to give Philadelphia an additional tool by which it can efficiently and equitably collect this tax.

I think this is a good bill and I think we should vote for it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is good legislation it should be applicable to every community in the state. Why should there be special legislation for the city of Philadelphia? We have other communities that have wage taxes. If the people who are supporting this bill want to see that the deadbeats on the state payroll pay their taxes, let it apply to everybody in the state.

Therefore, I say it is unsound, discriminatory legislation for the benefit only of the city of Philadelphia, also known as the County of Philadelphia.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman if the United States Government collects this tax for the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, not yet. There is a bill in the United States Congress and the committee voted on July 22nd, the Federal House Ways and Means Committee, to allow the Federal Government to withhold city income taxes from the pay of Federal employes who work in cities of 75,000 population or larger, but who live out of town. This not only applies to Philadelphia, but applies to ten of the largest cities in America—including Scranton, Brother Needham tells me.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman's answer to my question, I take it, after that long treatise, is "no." Is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Delaware, the Chief, Mr. Isaacs, please repeat that question? I had an aside here from one of the Philadelphia delegation.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman, after that long treatise, if his answer to my question is "no."

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, no, I would not say that. The bill is pending and I hope the second session of the United States Congress will pass it.

As a matter of fact, in one of the leading papers of Philadelphia, The Evening Bulletin, John Kaplin in an issue writes that our former commissioner sees the wage tax victory in sight.

We are loking to Congress to help in collecting from United States employes. So the answer is not yet "no," because the session is not over.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I am not too much impressed by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, crying due to the fact that some of the people who have this tax to pay will be annoyed by the collection of it. I think it is just another burden we are putting on this Commonwealth.

I will further substantiate the remarks of my colleague, Mr. Bell, also my colleague from Allegheny, Mr Goldstein, and ask the Members on both sides of this House to defeat this bill.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong the debate, but I feel it is necessary to make one remark in answer to a statement made by the learned gentleman from Allegheny County regarding so called deadbeats on the state payroll.

I know of no deadbeats on the state payroll. They a all honest, fair-minded and sincere men. I would say the only thing we are trying to do is to help them and save them the trouble of filling out forms.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, rise?

Mr. BELL. To make a few remarks in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Has the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, concluded his remarks.

Mr. TOLL. I am finished, Mr. Speaker, and I yield to the learned gentleman from Delaware County, Mr. Bell.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, the very learned gentleman from Philadelphia has just said there are no deadbeats on the state payroll. Then why does he need to force these people who are so willing, hold them by the throats, to pay this tax?

May I also say for the benefit of the gentleman from Philadelphia, because a bill is before the Congress of the United States does not mean it will become law any more than 3,300 bills before this General Assembly will become law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 1843 Contributions by Corporations Any corporation [or unincorporated association] which shall pay give or lend or agree to pay give or lend any money belonging to such corporation [or unincorporated association] or in its custody or control in violation of the provisions of Section 1605 of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred ($500) dollars nor more than five thousand ($5,000) dollars Any director officer agent or employe of any corporation [or unincorporated association] who shall on behalf of such corporation [or unincorporated association] pay give or lend or authorized to be paid given or lent any money belonging to such corporation [or unincorporated association] or in its custody or control in violation of the provisions of Section 1605 of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000) dollars or to undergo an imprisonment of not less than one (1) month nor more than two (2) years or both in the discretion of the court

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I hope the Members of the House will be more favorable to this bill than they were on the last one in which I participated.

I want to call your attention to the fact, Mr. Speaker, that this is a very important bill to the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

This is the bill in which a request is made to remove from the Election Code of 1937 the amendment which was inserted in 1943 to include unincorporated associations in the prohibition of contributions for political campaigns. The 1937 Code contained the provisions that corporations shall not contribute to political campaigns. The amendments of 1943 included unincorporated associations. That amendment was deliberately inserted to prohibit Unions from making contributions.

We are now asking you to remove from the Election Code of 1937 the amendment relating to unincorporated associations.

I want to point out that there is quite a difference between a corporation and an unincorporated association. By the very nature of the corporation the payment of a sum of money for political purposes would be against the very purpose for which the corporation was organized. In other words, it would be ultra vires if it was organized for business purposes.

There are corporations which can make political contributions, and the Act so states, if the organization is organized for political purposes, or if it is a political committee it can do so, but the ordinary business corporation cannot do it. However, there is no such restrictions, there were none anyhow, on unincorporated associations. There was no reason in 1943 for the insertion of the prohibition against these organizations.

I now ask you to consider this bill seriously. We are going to ask for a roll call, and you know these roll calls are important and they are remembered. I urge all of you to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. TOLL, NEEDHAM and Mrs. MUNLEY.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

(During the verification of the roll and before the result was announced.)

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I am not correcting the affirmative roll at this time, but I particularly listened at the time and there were five gentlemen on this roll who did not answer to their names.

It has been the position of this House that if a man sat in the House and did not answer that he be made to vote. Perhaps my hearing is not good, but I did not hear Mr. Welsh, Mr. Verona, Mr. Sigman, Mr. Hamilton or Mr. Flint answer, and yet they are on the affirmative roll. If those gentlemen desire to vote in the affirmative, I would say they should vote that way, but I do not believe the count should be taken if they do not answer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct. Members should not be recorded who have not voted. The Chair is informed that Mr. Welsh is on leave of absence and is not recorded. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sigman, is not recorded.

Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to ask about the other Members?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Verona, vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Verona. Is the gentleman in the Hall of the House?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. His name was on the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Can anyone verify that the gentleman was in the Hall of the House when the roll was called? If not, his name will be stricken from the affirmative roll.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. How did the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton, vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton. I see the gentleman at the microphone.

Mr. ROBERT K. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I was in my seat and voted "aye."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, is the gentleman in the Hall of the House? Is the gentleman recorded as voting?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is not recorded.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The gentleman from Potter, Mr. Flint, is the gentleman in the Hall of the House?

Mr. FLINT. I certainly was, Mr. Speaker. I voted in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman states he voted "aye" and will be so recorded.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. How did the gentleman, Mr. Whitenight, vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Montour, Mr. Whitenight, states he voted "aye."

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Thomas, vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman states he voted "aye."

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk informs the Chair that the gentleman is not recorded.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, how did Mr. Lawyer vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from York, Mr. Lawyer, is not recorded.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Rubin has been ruled out, I believe?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I can not hear the gentleman.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Rubin?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Mr. Rubin is not recorded.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Stephens?

The SPEAKER pro tempore The Clerk informs the Chair he is not recorded.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Verona?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny is at the microphone.

Mr. VERONA. Pardon me.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to—

Mr. VERONA. I understand I am not recorded. I voted "aye" and was called to a long distance phone call downstairs.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Did the gentleman vote "aye" on the first roll call?

Mr. VERONA. I did.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Did not the Speaker rule that the name of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Verona, be striken from the roll call?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair did so rule. The gentleman was not present in the Hall of the House and no one could vouch for him.

Mr. VERONA. Mr. Speaker .....

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have a point of order, I have the floor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Blair has the floor.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, then after a name has been ordered to be striken from the roll call, can that order be changed?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If the gentleman was in the Hall of the House during the first calling of the roll and states he voted during the calling of the roll, he is entitled to be recorded. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Verona, so state?

Mr. VERONA. I so do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will be recorded on the affirmative roll.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Welsh?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Mr. Welsh's name was checked and Mr. Welsh is on leave of absence.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Pettigrew?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman, Mr. Pettigrew, is not recorded.

Mr. BANKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Any further corrections to the affirmative roll? If not, the affirmative roll stands verified.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. VAUGHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during the discussion on the last bill it was brought out that some of the Members were checking out of the hotel. Does that mean that tomorrow is a consent calendar day, or should we all try to check out and save that extra day?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if the Members are starting to leave now to check out of the hotel, they are going to be here until the end of April. If we cannot work today at least until 6:30 o'clock and pass bills, whether or not we have a consent calendar tomorrow, then I assure you we are not going to be in any hurry to get out of here. That means we are going to come back week, after week, after week.

If you think it is going to be less expensive to check out today to save a few dollars and then come back an extra week or two my arithmetic must be awfully bad.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Since the Majority Leader has sought to raise the question whether or not tomorrow is going to be a consent calendar day, I think it is entirely in order. I believe the Speaker could rule that a roll call be taken right now of those who are going to be here tomorrow, so we will know whether we are going to be here wasting our time while others walk out and go home and tend to their business, or whether we can walk out too.

I think it is time that this is brought to a head. Let us get the matter resolved right now.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a few remarks concerning legislation pending on the calendar which is important to all of us. Also for a question of information. Last week we were .....

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. AUKER. For what purpose?

Mr. READING. For a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the purpose of getting consent for the gentleman to address the House.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, to address the House?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, at this time I must object to the gentleman's request to address the House on the general subject of legislation to be passed, and so forth, but I would have no objection to his making an inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears objection to the gentleman addressing the House. Does the gentleman desire to ask a question of information?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, would a motion be in order at this time for the Speaker to poll the House and the Members to answer "yes" or "no" as to whether they will be here tomorrow for a work session, so that all of us can be guided accordingly?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair wishes to state that House Rule 14 determines the order of business of this House. We are operating under that rule. This House has a right to change the Rule and the order of business by making a special order of business to take up a particular subject or a roll call. If the House desires to make a special order of business for that purpose, the Chair will entertain a motion.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the Chair to have ruled that he will entertain a motion to make a special order of business to take up this matter at this time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will entertain that motion and it will be up to the action of the House.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would request the gentleman to defer making such a motion at this time for the purpose of getting on with today's business. I assure him we will be here for some time and he will be given the opportunity, if he so desires, to make such a motion. If he desires to make it now, I will have to oppose it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Berks, the Majority Floor Leader, I would say if we are not going to have a working day tomorrow and if there will be enough Members say they are going home and will be absent without leave, that will give the rest of us a chance to check out the same as apparently some of their Members have already done, and possibly some of ours.

I think it should be determined right now when we have a full membership here. Last Tuesday night I was informed there was a working calendar on Wednesday. Before that I had been informed it was not a working calendar, it was a consent calendar, I checked out and I had one awful time finding a room for Tuesday night to stay over. To no avail whatsoever on Wednesday, because most of the Member had checked out.

As Mr. Lovett says, let's be fair—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have objected to the gentleman making a statement at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The point of order is well taken.

Will the gentleman yield and make his motion at a later time in today's session?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I assist the gentleman somewhat by making the statement that a great deal depends upon what we can accomplish today as to whether it would even be possible to have a consent calendar tomorrow.

There is no plan at the moment to have a consent calendar tomorrow.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, further speaking on the subject, I still do not thing it is fair to the rest of us who are willing to stay and work tomorrow in order to dispose of this legislation and get this session over with. A lot of the Members I understand have already checked out. Possibly it would be well, and I think very advisable, at this time to take a check of the Members to find who has checked out and who has not, so we can be guided about what to do tomorrow.

The hotels will not let us check out without paying our bill after 5:00 o'clock, some of them 4:00 o'clock, I guess. I do not think it is fair to the rest of us.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section three hundred eight of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053) known as the "Public Utility Law" is amended to read as follows

Section 308 Voluntary Changes in Rates (a) [Unless the commission otherwise orders no public utility shall make any change in any existing and duly established rate except after sixty days' notice to the commission which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the rates then in force and the time when the changed rates will go into effect The public utility shall also give such notice of the proposed changes to other interested persons as the commission in its discretion may direct All proposed changes shall be shown by filing new tariffs or supplements to existing tariffs filed and in force at the time The commission for good cause shown may allow changes in rates without requiring the sixty days' notice under such conditions as it may prescribe

(b) Whenever there is filed with the commission by any public utility any tariff stating a new rate the commission may either upon compalint or upon its own motion upon reasonable notice enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of such rate and pending such hearing and the decision thereon the commission upon filing with such tariff and delivering the public utility affected thereby a statement in writing of its reasons therefor may at any time before it becomes effecitve suspend the operation of such rate for a period not longer than six months from the time such rate would otherwise become effective and an additional period of not more than three months pending such decision The rate in force when the tariff stating the new rate was filed shall continue in force during the period of suspension unless the commission shall establish a temporary rate as authorized in section three hundred ten of this act The commission shall consider the effect of such suspension in finally determining and prescribing the rates to be thereafter charged and collected by such public utility

(c) If after such hearing the commisison finds any such rate to be unjust or unreasonable or in anywise in violation of law the commission shall determine the just and reasonable rate to be charged or applied by the public utility for the service in question and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the public utility and such rate shall thereafter be observed until changed as provided by this act] No public utility shall voluntarily make any change from existing rates except by filing with the commission a new tariff or a new supplement to an existing tariff either of which shall be deemed a tariff for the purposes of this section Such tariff shall state the new rates and wherein they differ from the existing rates Whenever a public utility shall file with the commission a tariff making any change from existing rates the public utility within five days after such filing shall give written or posted notice thereof to every customer affected thereby as the commission may prescribe by rule and written notice thereof to the municipal corporations in which any affected customer is served and if requested to do so by any such municipal corporation or other persons as the commission directs shall make available to it a copy of the tariff and of the data filed with the commission in support thereof

(b) Whenever a public utility shall file with the commisison a tariff which if applied to usage of service for the latest twelve months for which usage data are available would have increased the total operating revenues derived by the public utility from all intra-state customers within this Commonwealth by one per centum or more or would have increased the annual cost of service to five per centum or more of the total number of such customers the commission by order shall institute an investigation of the lawfulness of the rates contained in such tariff except as hereinafter provided the commission shall begin public hearings upon such investigation not less than sixty days and not more than ninety days after the filing of such tariff Such tariff shall not become effective no temporary rates shall be imposed and the existing rates shall continue in force during the first six months after the filing of such tariff or such shorter period as shall be required for investigation as aforesaid and decision thereon Upon a finding made at any time during said first six months that its decision cannot issue prior to the expiration thereof the commission may suspend the effectiveness of such tariff and either continue the existing rates in force or prescribe temporary rates for an additional period of not more than six months pending such decision When the total increase in revenues projected to an annual basis is less than five thousand dollars ($5000) the commission may at its discretion waive the provisions for public hearings and permit such rates to become effective sixty days after filing

(c) Whenever a public utility shall file with the commission a tariff making any change from existing rates other than a tariff subject to the provisions of subsection (b) such tariff shall become effective sixty days after the filing thereof unless the commisison shall otherwise order as hereinafter prescribed The commission by order may permit any such tariff to become effective retroactively or within less than sixty days after its filing if the public utility shall petition therefor and the commission shall find such permission to be in the public interest The commission by order may institute an investigation of the lawfulness of the rates contained in any such tariff and may by such order suspend the effectiveness of such tariff and either continue the existing rates in force or prescribe temporary rates for the first six months after the filing of such tariff or such shorter period as shall be required for investigation as aforesaid and decision thereon The commission shall begin public hearings upon any such investigation not less than sixty days and not more than ninety days after the filing of such tariff Upon a finding made at any time during said first six months that its decision cannot issue prior to the expiration thereof the commission may further suspend such tariff and either continue the existing rates in force or prescribe temporary rates for an additional period of not more than six months pending such decision

(d) Whenever the effectiveness of a tariff of a public utility shall have been suspended pursuant to the provisions of this section the commission shall consider the effect of such suspension in finally determining and prescribing the rates to be thereafter charged and collected by such public utility

(e) If after an investigation as provided in this section the commission finds any rates contained in a tariff making changes from existing rates to be unlawful the commission shall determine the lawful rates to be charged or applied by the public utility for the service in question and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the public utility and such rates shall thereafter be observed until changed as provided by this act

(f) The commission by rules or otherwise may reduce or waive the requirements of subsections (a) and (b) insofar as they apply to tariffs making changes in rates for the transportation of property either generally or of specified kinds or within specified areas or between specified points if the commission shall find that competition among the carriers of such property is sufficiently strong to discourage unlawful rates the commission may likewise reduce or waive such requirements for tariffs making changes in the intrastate rates or common carriers which transport persons or property in both intrastate and interstate commerce If the commission shall find that such reduction or waiver of requirements is necessary or proper to make the time of effectiveness of the changes in intrastate rates coincide with the time of effectiveness of similar changes in interstate rates

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman kindly explain what this bill does?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, as I undstand the bill, it increases from fifteen days to one year the statute of limitations for bringing a prospecution for filing fraudulent information with the Department of Revenue relative to motor vehicles.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, isn't this fifteen day limit the present limit for all summary appeals under the Motor Vehicle Code?

Mr. READINGER. I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker. I am not sure, but I think the gentleman is right.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, suppose an application is examined ten years after it is filed and it is discovered that a misstatement has been made in it, is it not true that under this bill the one year period begins to run within one year after the date of discovery?

Mr. READINGER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Can the gentleman tell me what the statute of limitations is in Pennsylvania for such crimes as treason, arson, sodomy, and all the other major criminal offenses?

Mr. READINGER. I am a little hazy in my law since I have not been practicing for the last year and a half, but I think it is two years, two years from the time the crime was committed, not from the time it is discovered.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. That is correct. I think, Mr. Speaker, in all fairness it should be stated that in a number of these major crimes the statute of limitations is six years from the time the crime is committed. Suppose an application is examined ten years after filing, would it not be true that within eleven years from the date the crime is committed a prosecution could be started under this bill?

Mr. READINGER. I suppose it could. I doubt if they could find the papers by that time.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I ask all the Members to vote against this bill. It would establish a new time limit in Pennsylvania within which a prosecution could be brought. It would, in effect, make filing a false application for a motor vehicle driver's license as serious a crime as every other crime in Pennsylvania except murder. In other words, you could bring an action within one year from the date the crime was discovered, rather than within one year from the time the crime was committed, which would mean, as Mr. Readinger frankly admitted, you could bring an action under this bill within eleven years after a false statement was made if it was discovered ten years later.

It seems to me it is a very dangerous bill from the viewpoint of possible political reprisal in searching old records to find out whether perhaps any minor false statements were made in applications.

For that reason I think it is a dangerous bill and I ask the Members to vote against it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, with all respect to my astute legal friend who has just spoken and without wanting to waste any more time on this bill, I would say if you are in favor of protecting somebody who makes a fraudulent or a false statement, vote against the bill. If you want the person to be punished, even though it takes a whole year to catch up with him, then vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the passage of this bill. In my opinion this is the most important bill presented to this session so far as affecting the general public and agriculture is concerned.

House Bill 1978, Printer's No. 1377, aims to rewrite the Pure Food Laws of Pennsylvania. This bill has moved very rapidly. It was introduced on January 18th and passed on quite quickly and is now on third reading calendar.

A word should be said about the enforcement of the Pure Food Laws. I would like to say that the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture in the enforcement of the Pure Food Laws through its Bureau of Foods and Chemistry has had at the head of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry many competent men over the years.

Under the supervision of these men the consuming public and agriculture have been protected against food fakers through its enforcement power. It has stopped the adulteration of many foods with chemicals and coal tar; it has driven from the market filled milk, which contained coconut oil; it has stopped the sale of sausage containing only sixty per cent meat; it has stopped the sale of fish painted with coal tar to look like salmon; it has stopped the use of formaldehyde and embalming fluid by food dopers. Through its enforcement powers the Pennsylvania Pure Food Laws and the Department of Agriculture have the wholesome respect of manufacturers everywhere.

Manufacturers are careful today about the food products they ship into this state, and the Federal agents of the government's Pure Food and Drug Act have a high regard for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and its food laws.

Just a word about the Pure Food Laws as it stands on the books.

The first law was passed in 1878 and it is the forerunner of all the pure food laws. In 1883 the Secretary of Agriculture was given the power to enforce the Pure Food Laws under the administration of Governor Pattison.

Many amendments and additions have been made to the law since that day and these things have been added:

The cold storage plants, butter, eggs, sanitary bottling, ice cream, filled milk, fruit syrup, carbonated beverages, milk testing and regulation of bakery and bakery products are all under supervision and inspection.

Oleomargarine has long been under control of the Department of Agriculture.

The session of 1951, just four years ago, amended the law so that colored oleo could be sold under certain restrictions.

Now we come to the time when we have a thirty-five page bill which would in the first place repeal absolutely the laws of 1771, 1881, 1871, 1883, 1887, 1891, 1907, 1909, 1915, 1925 and 1945. These Acts I do not care to describe fully, but they are the heart of the Pure Food Laws of Pennsylvania.

I think it is the general opinion of many people who have business with the Department of Agriculture with respect to food laws that this bill should not pass at this session and that ample opportunity should be given to provide a full and comprehensive consideration by the agencies who will be affected in the operation of the food laws.

I just want to quote from one letter that we have in support of the opinion, I shall quote but one organization, the Pennsylvania Bakers Association.

On February 17, 1956, the Pennsylvania Bakers Association addressed a letter to His Excellency, the Governor, George M. Leader, a copy of which letter was mailed to the membership of this House, and I quote in part from this letter as follows:

> "Legislation of this type is considered by our industry and others, as of major importance. We realize that the food processing industry, farmers and all levels of distribution must at all times bear in mind that the protection of consumers should be the first consideration in a basic food law. We have always recognized that the success of bakery operators depends entirely on the confidence consumers have in their products.
> For these reasons we are of the opinion that changes contemplated in the present law must be considered very carefully by all groups affected and interested. Up until now there have been only casual and occasional discussions or conferences on points in which our present General Food Law could be iproved. We have a high regard for the experience and knowledge of such prominent persons and authorities as Dr. R. Adams Dutcher, Dr. Joseph W. E. Harrison, Dr. William J. Schiller, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, the Pennsylvania State University and the Public Health Law Research Department of the University of Pittsburgh, who have made cooperative studies in drafting this bill.
> "We are confident, though, that conferences with the various parties interested in this legislation would be most productive and result in a revision which would make the General Food Laws of Pennsylvania the best in the country, pattern for other states to follow.
> "House Bill 1978 is presently on the third reading calendar. We feel that this is rather undue haste on major legislation of this kind and that—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light, yield momentarily to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker?

Mr. LIGHT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I request the Speaker to have less noise in the House. This is a very informative address by a man who knows about what he is talking, and it vitally affects everybody in this Commonwealth. He is entitled to be heard and heard attentively.

If you want to postpone it, we will postpone it. If you want to make noise, we will keep you here until midnight—we can if we want to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Blair is so right. The gentleman from Lebanon is entitled to be heard.

Mr. LIGHT. I am still quoting from the Baker's letter:

"We feel that this is rather undue haste on major legislation of this kind and that much more consideration should be given to this bill before it is enacted. Only a very few legislators can be familiar with all the issues involved.

"May we submit to you, therefore, that further action on this bill be postponed until either the Legislature or the Department of Agriculture has had ample opportunity to confer with all interested parties. We are sure this would greatly promote the aims cited in your message."

Signed: Pennsylvania Bakers Association, By Theo Staab.

That is the end of the quotation. The Members of this House will agree that as we enter the closing days of this session it is well nigh impossible to give careful thought and consideration to this voluminous thirty-five page bill to change the Pennsylvania Food Laws. These laws are well established and have public acceptance, so that any change, amendment or substitution should be given most careful study.

I would, therefore, ask the Members on both sides of the aisle to vote "no" on this bill so that sufficient time can be given for the necessary conferences of all parties affected by the operation of the Pennsylvania Pure Food Laws.

MR. TOMPKINS IN THE CHAIR

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker, the listeners on both sides of the aisle agree in large part with the remarks of the gentleman regarding this measure, particularly in quoting from the letter of the Pennsylvania Bakers Association. The letter was in part a kind of catalog of the organizations which were in favor of this measure.

I would suggest that the Pennsylvania Bakers Association counseling caution for further study is perhaps exceptional in its recommendations. It is true that Pennsylvania's Pure Food Laws have for many years represented a high level of concern for the public welfare.

At the same time it must be apparent that consideration should be given to the advances of nutritional science, toxicology and many other scientific advances which would indicate a revision of our statutes regarding food.

It is further my understanding that the statutes to be repealed by this bill would not remove any of the present safeguards which those statutes represent, but in fact this bill is in large part a collation, a codification, of many of the statutes of previous years.

The bill has had the approval and the study of the Council of State Governments; it has had study by the University of Pittsburgh; it has had study by very many of the trade associations. It does not represent any desire of any political faction. It has the endorsement of our state Department of Agriculture. It is closely modeled on the Federal Act.

It is submitted that it is a measure which deserves support on both sides of the aisle.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I wish also to oppose this bill, not as the expert the gentleman from Lebanon is, but because of some information I have concerning the bill.

I understand this bill was drafted after consultation with all parties concerned, except the food processing industry, the industry in Pennsylvania that must live with the statutes we pass in that field day in and day out, the industry which is vitally concerned with legislation such as this. Everybody was consulted about this bill, including all these various professors and college bodies, except the food processing industry.

I understand this bill would make a radical departure from the basic and well-understood Pure Food Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In talking to some members of the food processing industry, I understand they have no objection to some changes in the present law. They would have no objection at all to the passage of a uniform code such as approximately a dozen states have passed and which is modeled or patterned entirely after the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act.

If there are to be any other changes in the basic food law in Pennsylvania, the food processing industry wants a hearing. They were not given a hearing on this bill. They have not been given any consideration on this bill. I think for that reason, unless we adopt a uniform code patterned after the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act, before we pass any laws in this field we ought to call the food processing industry in and get their ideas on what the law should be.

For that reason, I ask the Members on both sides of this House to vote against this hasty, ill-advised legislation.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, as I said in the opening of the remarks I made, I am convinced that this is the most important piece of legislation that has appeared in this House when you view it from the effect it has on the general public, agriculture, food processors and everybody concerned.

I think if this bill had been introduced in this House a year ago, there would have been a chance to iron it out and satisfy the people who do not know what it is about. I will venture to say there are not ten men in this House who know anything about this bill. It is a thirty-five page bill. It was sprung upon us on January 18th in this House, and we have not had a chance to study it.

In fact, it is a complicated, difficult problem and all that we plead for is the defeat of this bill. We are only nine months away from the 1957 session of the Legislature, and I think the sensible thing to do is to defeat this measure and start a movement to study the Pure Food Laws of Pennsylvania. If it is found necessary to make additions, I think the people on this side of the House will be perfectly satisfied and will cooperate to get something better than we have if we need it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is this Conference Report in print and on our desks.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Conference Committee Report has been in the Members' files for more than a week under Printer's No. 559.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I believe the Senate History does not indicate that printer's number as being the latest printer's number, and that is the reason for my request. I know some of the Members were looking for this Conference Report. If that is correct, I will abide by that decision.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, just briefly.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. I find hyself in the same position as the gentleman from Delaware, I did not know the report was in the book, not having the right Printer's No. I would like to know if these changes which have been made since this bill left the House change the basic way in which the rental reimbursements, and so forth, are set up or whether the changes which were made are just technical changes, or what.

We would like to have some information before we vote on it. This is a pretty important bill from the standpoint of finances of the state.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker. The bill that went to the Senate with the amendments which were placed in the bill in the House is identically the same in every respect, except for one line in which we used the wrong words, and two technical corrections, the crossing out of two words. The bill otherwise is identically the same as passed in this House by unanimous vote.

Mr. AUKER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I am satisfied.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members to bear with us for another ten minutes or so, and then a decision can be made by the House on Mr. Auker's motion, if he makes it, concerning a working session tomorrow.

We have made enough progress today to warrant having a consent session tomorrow, if the membership of the House so decides. We have made good progress today on many of these bills, and there are several more we want to return to which we have passed over, and if the gentleman wants to make his motion to determine the will of the House at that time, it is quite all right with me. As far as the leadership on this side is concerned, we will have no objection to having a consent calendar tomorrow because we have processed a lot of bills today.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, am I in order at this time to make a motion, if I desire to make one, or is there a bill before the House at the present time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There is a bill before the House, but the Chair would like to carry out the wishes of the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader if they want an expression of the House regarding tomorrow's session.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think we should proceed with this bill and return to several others, and then the motion should be made, but not at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 802 on page 11 of today's calendar, Bills on Third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 802, entitled:

An Act to provide for an additional law judge of the orphan's court in the fifth judicial district

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, under Rule 14 of the House I respectfully move that there be made a special order of business the subject of whether or not Wednesday, March 14th, shall be a full working day for the consideration of the calendar. I ask that a slow roll call be taken so that the Members can decide.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business which is the motion of the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, "that Wednesday, March 14, 1956, be made a full working day for the consideration of the calendar.

A roll call having been asked for on the motion of the gentleman from Blair, the roll will be called.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, first I would like to thank the Members for being as patient as they have been in staying here today.

I now would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, if this motion carries and it becomes the will of the House that we have a working day tomorrow, whether he is prepared to move to bring in any absent Members to vote on the bills on the calendar if we do not have a quorum tomorrow.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am not. I do not feel it is within my prerogative to do so. I will have no part of that. The Members know they are supposed to be here. It is their duty to be here. They were notified that this week would be a full three-day week, as they were notified last week and the week before.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. AUKER. I feel that is the prerogative of the leadership on both sides of the House whether we should take the drastic action of sending the State Police after Members who are absent without leave.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker. I am somewhat at a loss as to what course to pursue in connection with this motion made by the gentleman from Blair.

When the letter was sent to the Members last week there were a great many bills on the calendar which had to be processed. There are still a great many bills on the calendar, but working as long and as vigorously as we have today many of the controversial measures now have been disposed of one way or another. There are perhaps twelve or thirteen controversial bills still remaining, there are many other bills which will be processed tomorrow whether we have a so-called working day or not.

I think every Member should vote his own conscience about this. The fact that the letter stated the Members should be prepared to be here three days should not be binding, because when you look a week ahead and try to estimate how many days will be required to pass a given number of bills it is almost impossible to tell.

I have been trying for a long time to get the Members to stay here three full working days, but we certainly have not been very successful. Whether we should make the move now or next week to bring Members in by force, if necessary, is a matter which will have to be decided when the absenteeism arises.

Personally I do not care which way the Members vote on this motion. I greatly fear that tomorrow we shall not have 106 votes on this side, we know we have five or six sick persons. How many will appear on the minority side I have no idea. If we have enough people here to work, to bring up bills that are controversial and process them, I will be very happy to do so.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say first of all that had not Mr. Auker made this motion, I would have done so.

As one of my colleagues behind me stated, ad infinitum we have had a letter from the Secretary of the House stating that Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday would be working days. Many of us have made sacrifices throughout the entire fourteen months in order to comply with our oath of office and to comply with our duties and obligations. Those of us who have not tried to escape these obligations should not be weighted down by the acts of a few individuals.

I believe we should have a working day tomorrow and I believe we should have had working days on prior Wednesdays. I know that the calendar today has pages 8, 9, 10 and 11 not acted upon in full.

The Speaker early in today's session said that we are a young and vigorous body and the mere fact that we work intermittently from 2:00 o'clock to 7:00 o'clock has not sapped our strength. We ought to be here to work and I say, let's vote on this motion and vote "aye" because the eyes of the people of Pennsylvania are upon us to find out whether we want to do our duty. I say we ought to do our duty and work three full days when we are called upon to do so.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, just a few remarks in furtherance of the motion.

Possibly there may be some Members who will vote for the motion and then go home any way. I believe there should be a motion, and possibly will be a motion, made tomorrow to poll the House. So if you are going to vote favorably on this motion, you had better be here tomorrow.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words in favor of this motion.

First, from a selfish angle, to those of us who come from far away and rail transportation is not readily available a consent calendar on Wednesday, after a notice to come down here for three full working days, is a double loss. We worked hard today. We are all hungry, we are tired and it is not wise for a man to start out on the road to drive 150 to 200 miles to get home. That means that tomorrow, as far as our businesses, our families and the rest of our pursuits are concerned, is a loss anyway.

Secondly, I do not think this House should put itself in the position this afternoon of voting to put itself on a consent calendar tomorrow. We all know it is open season on legislators. There are a lot of these boys who believe in the unicameral system, or who are working to abolish our two-party system, who are having a field day. People are impatient. They say what is the matter with you politicians? Why don't you get to work?

It does not make any difference whether you are Democrat or Republican. We are the House of Representatives, the body that is closest to the people because we are all up for reelection every two years.. I think it would be very ill-advised if the Press was to carry to the people of Pennsylvania that we decided to go on a consent calendar tomorrow after they have read the headlines that we have increased our retirement and want to be paid $7,500 a year.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I, too, have come prepared to stay three days. I, too, have a bill on the calendar in which I am very much interested. I am interested in debating it before the full House.

Since the motion by Mr. Auker did not include anything with respect to calling the Members back who might be absent tomorrow, I think it would serve no useful purpose and I, therefore, move to lay it on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman insist upon his motion? Does the gentleman wish to have his motion placed before the House before we hear from other members?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the motion.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BANKER. Am I to understand from the Majority Leader's remarks that unless the majority has sufficient Members to pass or reject all bills, it does not matter how many we have on this side of the House and we must wait until they can do that?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I hope my remarks did not convey the thought that no bills would be acted on just because they were controversial if we do not have 106 here. I believe the gentleman will recognize the fact that if we had a bill we considered of prime importance, we would certainly vote to put it on a postponed calendar and not give it a certain death because we do not have enough votes to pass it.

In other words, we will process everything we can with the Members we have.

Mr. BANKER. The proposition as set forth does not seem to be that way to me. We will take our chances on getting any bills through. All day the bills have gone right down the center aisle. It did not matter what the bill was if we showed any indication to start with an "yea," it was all "yea;" if we went "nay," it was all "nay." I do not think we are doing anything here except passing a lot of bad legislation following political lines.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I might say, unless both sides have agreed to a consent calendar, there cannot be a consent calendar. If the minority Members ever catch us here with less Members than they have, I would not blame them if they killed every bill they could lay their hands on if they did not like it. We hope that day will not come when you have more Members here than we have, but I think it is fitting and proper that we vote on this to determine whether the membership wants to have a working day. I say I will be very happy if you decide to do so. But that is a matter which has to be decided by this motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ROVANSEK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ROVANSEK. Mr. Speaker, is an amendment pertaining to the motion in order at this time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman state the nature of the amendment?

Mr. ROVANSEK. I would like to make an amendment to the original motion of the gentleman from Blair to add two additional days to his motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would have to rule the motion out of order.

Mr. ROVANSEK. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe it is fair to the Members who have been coming to the sessions here every day when they are called. I do not believe the Members who have been absent should abuse the Members who are sitting here at the present time.

I certainly will vote "aye" with regard to the motion that is before the House. I think it is about time we cut out this fooling around and get down to business. I believe we can adjourn this session by the end of this month if we do business the way we should do it.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I too came prepared to work four working days if necessary. If you will look at my past record, I have sat here cometimes when we have had a skeleton House. It is unfair to those of us who spend our time and make sacrifices when we have important legislation here to sit here and try to put it over. I was much in accord with our Majority Leader when he asked the gentleman from Blair if he was willing to have tomorrow a working day and to send for those who missing. I will sit here until they come, but I want to know it now if that is not going to be done.

He also stated we had accomplished quite a good bit today and that tomorrow could be considered as a consent calendar day. We don't have 106 in here now. I can almost guarantee you that tomorrow you will not have them. So why should we sit here if it is going to be a working day and not bring back the rest of the Members? We make sacrifices like others do. Last week was the first time I have been absent from a session since I have been here.

I think it is about time we get down to doing something and work for the interests of the people who sent us here. I will work tomorrow providing they are going to send for the rest of them. Look around at the empty seats now. You will have double that amount tomorrow. So if we are going to vote on this motion, I would like to include to send for those to be here tomorrow to work with us. Otherwise I am voting "no."

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jones, I might say that he has a perfect perogative as a Member of this House to make a motion that these men be sent for and not to try to shift that move on somebody else. Let him make the motion, if he is sincere about it.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Blair made the motion and I think he should be gentleman enough to finish it out and see that they are all here. I will not make the motion, it is his duty to do it.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I can sympathize with the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Moscrip, and the other Members who come long distances to be here. It is true we were notified by the Chief Clerk of the House there are going to be three working days. We were notified that last week, too.

Some of us are in a position where we can get home However, as late as this afternoon we were here and it was not until it was too late to check out of our hotel that there was an innuendo that tomorrow might be a consen calendar day.

As to the people who sponsor bills that are on calendar, after they are told we are going to have three working days, I say to the Members of this House if they are not interested enough in them to be here and support them, let's roll this calendar. Let's stay here tomorrow and let's work. If the people are here who sponsor these bills and those who are in favor of them do not have enough interest to be here, let's defeat them. Let's clear them off the calendar and get out of here.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a very brief statement. Just for the record, I would like to report that Westmoreland County is here 100 per cent and is willing to stay tomorrow.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair congratulates Westmoreland County.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if the concensus of the House is that we should have a working session tomorrow, will the leadership make an effort tonight to have attendance here tomorrow of the absentee Members?

Mr. READINGER. We would do that without any request from the membership of the House.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. By making an effort, I mean will the leadership put in telephone calls and send telegrams tonight to the absentee Members and advise them that a suggestion of the absence of a quorum may be made tomorrow?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe all but three of our Members are here who are not sick, and I am sure they have been listening very attentively. We will call the other three.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, again I would like to place on the record that the women Members of this House are in attendance and we expect to be here tomorrow.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I have listened quite attentively to every word that has been said. I am not going to brag about my record, it is there if you want to look at it.

However, Mr. Speaker, in the Legislative Journal these remarks, perhaps cast no undue reflection upon the House in general, but I believe the fact should be brought out in the same section of the Legislative Journal that this House has really worked diligently, long and seriously. We have passed a considerable number, hundreds of bills. We have worked, both sides, under our leadership. There may have been times and days when the complete membership was voted, but I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that when it was actually needed we usually had full attendance of the House to take care of the most pressing business at hand.

I would not want this day to close with all of us standing under the words that have been said in relation to attendance today. Our record is clear. We have passed hundreds of bills. We have passed an appropriation program and a tax program. If it so devolves upon the membership that they want to resort to extreme measures to bring back every Member to his seat, then I think the action should be carefully considered to when that move would be advisable.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair feels that the Members have heard sufficient debate in order to vote intelligently upon the question before the House. If we continue, we will probably be here until tomorrow and it will not be necessary to call anybody back.

Mr. BAZIN. May I ask what time we are to go into session tomorrow?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair does not know that. The adjournment motion will set the time for reconvening tomorrow.

Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, who can perhaps answer that question?

Mr. BAZIN. Yes, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker. I would say that our present plans are to call the session for 11:00 o'clock in the morning if it is a working day and 1:00 o'clock if it is not a working day.

The reason for fixing 11:00 o'clock is to give committees an opporunity to meet.

Mr. BAZIN. If it is going to be a working day, Mr. Speaker, and I am going to be here, I do not like to be here unless I am going to do something and I will have to amend that motion that the Members not attending be sent for.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment is not in order at this time. That would have to be done under a separate proceeding if it is desired.

Mr. BAZIN. I desire to be recognized immediately after the vote is taken on this present motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The roll was called.

Mr. STRAUSSER. The gentlemen from Schuylkill requested me to let them know whether tomorrow will be a working calander. The gentlemen from Schuylkill are Messrs. Kline, Breisch, Knecht and Kehler.

I will let them know they are wanted, just for the record.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HASS. Mr. Speaker, due to the extended illness of my colleague, Mr. Lawyer, who has been confined in a hospital, we neglected from itme to time to ask for leave of absence for him. Would it be in order at this time to ask for leave of absence for Mr. Lawyer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. After the result has been announced, the Chair will recognize the gentleman for that purpose.

Mr. HOLT. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear my name called on the affirmative roll, so I would like to be recorded as voting "aye" on the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McGee.

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I would advise the Chair that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, was called away shortly before the roll call. He is in town and he is remaining until tomorrow.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the record to show that Mrs. Reibman from Northampton County was here all day until a few minutes ago when she went home ill. Tomorrow I will be asking for a leave of absence for her due to illness.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair makes note of the fact that many of the Members who have not answered to this particular roll call were present in the House during the day and perhaps many of them are still in Harrisburg and some of them possibly in the Capitol.

We do not believe there should be any reflection cast upon Members who did not answer to the last roll call. for the purposes of the record, that fact should be noted.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, the Members of this House wore out four Speakers today. If you want us to continue to wear Speakers out, give us ten minutes for a sandwich.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The present Speaker has been on the floor of the House all of the time and is still able to go.

BILLS PASSED OVER

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has referred the following resolution:

By Messrs. GIBSON, DAVIS, GRAMLICH, JOHNSON, and VARNER. (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 163.

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1956.

The Upper Allegheny River Valley last week suffered the most disastrous flood since 1865. The Borough of Warren alone has been damaged, reckoned in money, far in excess of a million dollars. Most other up-river communities have suffered in proportion.

In contrast, Pittsburgh and the Lower Allegheny Valley have incurred but little damage. The reason, clearly, is that sizable heads of water were held back by the system of flood control dams in operation for the benefit of the lower river.

This system was authorized twenty years ago by the seventy-fourth Congress of the United States. However, the flood control dams for the upper river still remain in the preliminary planning stage—notably the great dam to be built athwart the Allegheny above Warren, reportedly near Kinzua.

Continued inaction in proceeding with the construction of the upper river flood control system, connecting with the main dam above Warren, means a heavy handicap to the northwestern Pennsylvania area—an ever-to-be-reckoned-with threat to life and property, and an active and deadening threat to the economic development of the region; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to expedite to the utmost the appropriations and any additionally need enabling legislation to bring into being the main upper Allegheny Dam and other uncompleted units of the Allegheny Valley flood control system without further delay; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

In the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, Amen.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, during this Holy Season, as we meditate on the culmination of Thy great work here on earth, where Thou didst lay down Thy life that we might have life eternal, we pray that we may walk close to Thee. As we have the daily problems come to us that seem to be insurmountable, help us to realize that they are very small compared to the problems that faced Thee in those hours of trial in Gethsemane, in the judgment halls and out on Calvary.

Guide us that we may link our lives completely with Thine and so live and walk that our lives may be an honor and a glory to Thy great sacrifice. We ask it in our Saviour's Holy Name, Amen.

REPORTED ROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HARNEY, from the Committee on Agriculture, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Harney, Madigan and Dent on March 13, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE SAFEGUARDING OF THE HEALTH OF THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH, BOTH THROUGH THE PREVENTION OF MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF MISBRANDED, ADULTERATED, UNWHOLESOME OR DELETERIOUS FOODS

In the Senate, March 13, 1956.

Whereas, The protection of the public health includes both the prevention of adulteration and misbranding of foods and the imposition of positive duties upon food manufacturers, processors, and sellers to offer pure, wholesome food, accurately and truthfully labeled; and

Whereas, While the laws enacted by the Federal Government dealing with both the misbranding and adulteration and the truthful labeling and representation of foods, in their application to interstate commerce, operate to some extent to protect the citizens of the Commonwealth, yet the Commonwealth's obligation to provide safeguards for the health of its citizens is not discharged by a reliance upon the Federal Government, and it remains the right and duty of the Commonwealth to take whatever steps necessary to insure that foods manufactured, processed, and sold within our state be wholesome and be completely and accurately labeled; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth's food laws deal primarily with preventing the adulteration and misbranding of foods and but infrequently provide for the complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the safeguarding of the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth, both through the prevention of manufacture and sale of misbranded, adulterated, unwholesome or deleterious foods and through requirements for complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 166, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 166, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS, INCLUDING IMPORT QUOTAS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

In the Senate, January 30, 1956.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability; and

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment; and

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become involvent; and

Whereas, Unemployment caused by the imports of residual oil, which increased 300% from an average of 45 million barrels in 1936, to more than 136 million barrels in 1954, or the yearly equivalent of 33 million tons of coal; and unemployment caused by importse of crude oil; various types of glass, steel, aluminum, brass and zinc products; pottery and chinaware; granite, tiles, cement, hardboard, plywood, hardware, plumbing, flat glass and other building supplies, lace, carpets and all kinds of woolen, cotton and synthetic fibre manufactured goods; leather and fabric gloves; bicycles; hydraulic turbines; machine tools and other machinery; heavy electrical equipment and other electrical industry products and electronics; watches, clocks and parts; optical industry products; cutlery; scientific apparatus; pencils and pens; pins, clips and fasteners; soft fibre; insulation board and manufactured cork products; chemicals; toys, mushrooms; farm, dairy and dried milk products, wallpaper, hats and millinery, printing industry products; ladies hand bags and leather goods; nails, wire, screws, bolts and nuts and many other commodities; will render the upholding of the economy at its highest levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus eliminated; and

Whereas, Agricultural products such as wheat, wheat flour, cotton, butter, cheese and peanuts enjoy the protection of import quotas; and

breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation, including import quotas, against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standard of our workmen, and the steability of our economy by unfair import competition and that the existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 166, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. YOSKO. I have often heard Senator Mahany say that we should not attempt to dictate to Congress regarding matters concerning Congress. I notice, however, that Senator Mahany is deviating from his stand today and he is making the motion that we approve this resolution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am making that motion as the Majority Floor Leader and not as the Senator from Crawford, Senator Rowland B. Mahany.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on the adoption of this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to make just one comment.

I should have asked for House Bill No. 675 to be passed over in its order because I am procuring some amendments to be inserted in this bill in compliance with the recent Supreme Court Decision. However, I request the indulgence of the Majority Party. I will probably have the amendments ready tomorrow and then I will ask for unanimous consent.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to assure the Senator from Washington, Senator Lane, that I will not object to his offering of any amendments to this bill. In fact, I have not objected to the offering of any amendments to any bill on Third Reading.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I might say that this Board of Censorship problem has been highly controversial here in the Senate for quite some time. I just wanted to advise the Majority Leader that we are trying to work out some reasonable amendments. I am gratified to know that the Majority Leader will not object to the amendments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I hope that the amendments will take care of the recent court decision. However, I want it clearly understood that I did not say that I would not object to the amendments. I said that I would not object to the offering of the amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I took from the gentleman's statement, wholeheartedly, that I thought he said he would not object to the amendments. Therefore, I have lost one point so far today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading??

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 996, Printer's No. 592, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if this bill is to be adopted this Session, it probably should be moved. There is a question, perhaps, of it coming up to a vote and having it voted on. However if you are not in favor of the bill, then I presume you will vote "no" and if you are in favor of it, then you will vote "aye." I think we should get to a vote on this bill and I can see no reason to have it passed over in its order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, yesterday Senator Barr had considerable debate on this bill with the Members on the other side. It was my understanding that they were supposed to get together and work out a solution. As of this date, they have not worked out a solution. Therefore, Mr. President, I am holding the bill on Second Reading in order that we might be able to correct the situation. That is my understanding and that is the reason I am holding the bill.

The Republican Members have the votes and if they want to object to it passing over in order, all well and good; pass it over. However, I must object to that and I must request that the bill go over in order as of today.

Mr. MAHANY. I have no objection to the bill going over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, Senate Bill No. 996, Printer's No. 592, will go over in its order.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1009, Printer's No. 571, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BLASS. Senator Lane, what is your purpose? This bill is merely for the purpose of expediting work on the peninsula in order to relieve the congestion in traffic of about 30,000 cars a day. If this can be used for that improvement and development, this work can be expedited and the people, not only of northwestern Pennsylvania but in Pennsylvania as a whole, will have the privilege of using the wonderful beaches that are already procured through this work. I hope the gentleman from Washington will withdraw his request to have this bill passed over.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Blass, is this legislation actually neded to expedite the health and welfare and economy of Erie County?

Mr. BLASS. It will expedite the welfare of the entire State of Pennsylvania and all the people who are frequenting this recreational park.

Mr. LANE. Including the Dominion of Canada and the Continent of Europe?

Mr. BLASS. Yes, a great many visitors come from those places, also.

Mr. LANE. I wish to advise the gentleman that the reason I am holding this bill up is because of the objection of one of the sponsors of the bill.

Mr. BLASS. One of the sponsors of the bill might not have understood just what it was aimed at, because the original bill was worded "protection and stabilization" and in order to properly provide for the improvement and development, they added the words "improvement and development" in order to permit the proper use of the appropriation passed in 1953.

Mr. LANE. Senator Blass, are you implying that one of the sponsors did not know what he was signing when he sponsored the bill?

Mr. BLASS. Yes, I am.

I think that the Minority Leader heartily agrees in the concepts of the bill. I think he is familiar with what is necessary to be done there. In fact, when he sponsored the bill, he was perfectly aware of the purpose of this amendment.

I hope, Senator Lane, you will withdraw your request so that this Senate Bill can go over to the House in order to permit it to be acted upon before sine die adjournment.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Blass, I would like, likewise, to appeal to the leadership of my Party's delegation here and inform them that time is of the essence on this bill, because the spring construction season is almost upon us. I know that Senator Blass, who is one of our most distinguished and hardworking Senators, is very much interested in this. I think he is correct when he says that all of us in Pennsylvania are like a family. If we do somehting here to help the Port of Erie, we are really helping everybody in Pennsylvania. I think we should give prompt and favorable action to this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to state that the wonderful argument advanced by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator McMenamin, has convinced me. However, my being convinced does not mean that the bill will be passed up today. We must convince the co-sponsor, Senator Dent. As of this moment, he is still not quite convinced.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BLASS. Will the Minority Leader agree that this bill be moved today and not be passed over in order, in order to expedite this construction?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in answer to the co-sponsor, the gentleman from Erie, I would like to have the permission of the Chair to invite the co-sponsor for a side bar conference for one minute.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have been waiting all Session for this moment to come.

The gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass, is finally appealing to all of us to expedite a bill which affects his District. Frankly, since it does affect his District and since I like to help Senators on problems that confront their Districts, I am going to ask the Minority Leader to withdraw his objection to the bill going over today. At the same time, however, I am going to call on the gentleman from Erie to give us, in Northampton and Lehigh Counties, a little bit of cooperation.

You know, Mr. President, we have a few bills in Senator Blass' committee which he has bottled up. They have to do with a water problem. I think this bill has something to do with water, too. I wish Senator Blass would call a meeting of his committee and release those bills from committee for the consideration of the Senate as a whole. The residents down in the Upper and Lower Saucon Valley are pleading with Senator Van Sant and me to get some action on these bills. The situation is such that it is destroying the property in the area. Therefore, Senator Blass, I hope you will reciprocate the cooperation that we are going to give you.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, now that I have been assured by the co-sponsor that the white fish will be running before we end this Session, I remove my objection to the bill.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1311, Printer's No. 1496, on second reading. go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, before we object to House Bill No. 1311 going over in its order, I would like to explain to the Senate that this is a bill allocating funds to the different municipalities. It has been amended in the House on two different occasions, and I think that we should now act on the bill rather than put it over. Putting it over in its order would only prolong the time when this matter could be settled definitely. It is, perhaps, a matter of such importance that the bill might eventually reach a conference committee. I do not know about that; that is only a prediction. However, I think we should now act on this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we on this side are well aware of the importance of this piece of legislation. We are now in the process of preparing amendments. We have schedules setting up the allocations to certain districts and we are not satisfied with some of them. Therefore, Mr. President, we want to prepare the amendments, offer them to the Senate as a whole, and, in all probability, they will be ready tomorrow. At that time, they can reject them or accept them, as they see fit. I feel, and of course the Caucus feels, that this bill should go over in its order until we have the amendments ready.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I can assure the Senator that we will not object to the offering of his amendments on Third Reading tomorrow. However, I feel that this bill should move so that we can act on it finally this week. I expect that tomorrow's Session will be the last one we will have this week. I would like to act on this bill finally tomorrow.

If Senator Lane has some amendments which he would like to present, he can present them tomorrow. I would like to have this bill moved today on Second Reading.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on page 26 of our Calendar, we passed Senate Bills Nos. 1023. 1024, and 1025 over in their order. These are the so-called omnibus road exchange bills. One bill amends the "Borough Rural State Highway Law," another amends the "City State Highway Law" and the third amends the "Rural State Highway Law."

I suggest to the Members that they look over these bills until the coming week and if they want to make any changes, we make our amendments at one time for the simple reason that these bills are pretty expensive to print and reprint.

Let me say further, Mr. President, that these bills originated in the Highway Department as a result of the bills which were introduced by Members of this body or the House. After those bills were introduced, the Highway Department sent out their representatives to the various and sundry counties and made a survey of the routes to be taken off the highway system and the routes to be added. After careful consideration on the part of these representatives of the Highway Department, they decided that the roads which are now embodied in these bills are the ones they would favor taking over or deleting. However, it is a matter for this body and the House to decide.

If you insist on other roads being deleted or added, it will be up to you to prepare your amendments and we should agree that those amendments will be ready by early next week, preferably on Monday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I talked with Senator Wade and Senator Diehm yesterday in regard to these bills. I went over to the House this morning and reported to the House that I thought there were two different sets of bills, one affecting Lancaster County and another county left out. The House told me that if we wanted to wait and amend the bills over there, they would do it. Mr. Petrosky, Chairman of the Highways Committee in the House, gave me his definite word.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think perhaps the best thing for us to do, and save the money, is for Mr. Wade, Mr. Petrosky and myself to sit down and come to an amicable agreement on how to handle these bills.

BILLS ON THIRD READING CALENDAR CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, at this time may we revert to page 12 of today's Calendar and proceed to the consideration of Bills on Third Reading and Final Passage?

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 64, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in order for the simple reason that it presumes to do something that, if it is going to be done, ought to be known by the school districts of the State just as soon as possible.

I do not want to appear to be arbitrary in the matter, Mr. President, because the bill has been on the Calendar for months. I was asked to let this bill go over in order, in the interest of having it passed, until the tax measures were passed. The tax measures have been passed and this bill has gone over in order three or four times since.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is an appropriation to enable the Department of Public Instruction to reimburse school districts locally for any interest they paid on borrowed money while they were waiting their subsidies from the State. If they have to expend that interest on the borrowed money from their own treasury, there budgets will be out of wack and there is no way in which they can retrieve those funds.

I only know of one valid question to be raised about this bill and that is, we may not know exactly how much money is required to pay the interest on these borrowed sums. However, that does not have to be determined today. If we make the money available to the Department of Public Instruction for the repayment of interest, certainly the department can ascertain what moneys have been borrowed and from where and at what interest rate and for how long to substitute for the State subsidies until they arrive.

Mr. President, I think Senator Dent will agree when I say that he requested me personally, asuring me that my chances of passing the bill would be much better, to wait until the tax issue was resolved. At his request I did that one, two and three weeks. Since that time, Senator Lane has suggested that the Department does not know how much money it will take and they have not ascertained how much it will cost.

The Department of Public Instruction has made no such representations to me. I learned, through an intermediary, that the Department feels as though this money would cover the interest which is required to square the accounts. With that assurance, Mr. President, I would ask the Senate to vote on this bill. Those who think it is a fair shake, and that it is reasonable and decent to make up these local budgets by replacing their interest money expended, I think should vote for it and those who do not will have to take the responsibility for withholding it from the school districts.

I do not see where there is anything to be gained tomorrow or Friday or Saturday that we do not have today. For these reasons, Mr. President, I object to the bill going over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is true that I talked to Senator Wagner about this bill on numerous occasions and told him, as I tell this Senate now, that our chances of doing this, if we desire to have it done, would be after the tax bills were in and we started to measure how much money we had.

I think that even Senator Wagner will admit that many school districts in Pennsylvania borrow money against the subsidy payments even when the subsidy payments come in on time. The question that the Department of Public Instruction has raised lately is, how are we to determine whether the amount of money they ask for in interest has a direct relationship to the fact that they did not get their money, due to an overdue payment, or whether it was from one of the times when they would have borrowed money anyway.

Many school boards borrow money in anticipation and on the strength of their subsidy payments. Are we opening up a field of future State appropriations on into eternity? The next thing I said to Senator Wagner, and I still stand upon that ground, was that when the tax situation was settled, we would consider this bill.

Mr. President, we have before us on the table $52,000,000 worth of the revenues which are to be spent during this biennium. The Governor has asked that the bill be recalled because, on its passage through the Senate, someone slipped a Mickey Finn to the Members of the Senate and put an amendment into that bill which cuts the appropriation by an unfigurable amount. No one here knows how much it is and no one can honestly say they know how much they cut from the $52,000,000. Estimates run anywhere from $6,000,000 to $36,000,000. The legislation will put us into court immediately upon its enactment when the department starts to collect it. Therefore, out of the $52,000,000 we may not receive $26,000,000. Can you tell me, Senator, where not only this $750,000, which you say is a fair way to reimburse these school districts, is coming from but also the amount of money that the State has paid out in interest because this Legislature was unable to pass any of the Democratic-sponsored tax legislation bills?

Mr. Wagner, they borrowed money and they have interest to pay. The State borrowed money and it has interest to pay. Now you want to give the money to the local school districts because that is a nice, pretty election thing to do, but what about giving the State money to pay not only the interest to the local districts, but the interest on the loans which they had to make; the very loans which the State had to make to pay the money to the districts so that they would not have to make loans?

Mr. President, you cannot say we are fair to that particular little school district back home and be unfair to the parent company, as it were, the Department of Public Instruction in the State. Unless you settle the tax problem, I believe that this legislation ought to be opposed. I am still willing to try to work it out when we finally know how much money we are going to get.

You have on your table today $52,000,000 worth of taxes which you passed last week that this Senate is refusing to recall from the Governor to amend. If you think it is fair to shortchange the budget $52,000,000 more and still give this money to the local school districts, then all I can say to you is that you are holding out to the local districts an empty promise, because the Governor cannot do anything but item veto this particular bill if it ever gets to him. The Governor must, of necessity, meet only those appropriations that are preferred under the law.

Therefore, Mr. President, I say to you that if you are genuinely interested, and I believe you are, in the local school districts getting some of this interest money back, then there are two things which must be done. First, let us see what we are going to do with this $52,000,000 and let us see what amendments we can work into the sales tax in order to clarify it and see how much money it will bring in, and then get the Department of Public Instruction to come here with a formula which will give us some sort of a rod to measure with on whether we are paying interest on loans that are normally made by school districts or whether we are only going to pay on loans that were made under distress.

Under this bill, Mr. President, no person can tell when the school district borrowed as a normal procedure because their subsidy came in after they needed the money, under normal subsidy payments, and when it was because of the distress due to the fact that we had no money in the till in the State.

I think, Senator Wagner, that we would be on much sounder ground if we wait until we develop the tax program and determine what it amounts to. As it stands now, I can assure you, Senator Wagner, the Governor cannot sign this bill.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I realize that there is certainly some virtue in what the Minority Leader has just expounded. I am aware, too, that, as usual, he is very persuasive when he is completely correct and when he falls somewhat short of that.

I know there are school districts that chronically borrow money in anticipation of their State appropriations. Their budgets usually reveal the fact that they have not provided sufficient funds to last until their appropriations are due. I realize the Department would have to prescribe a form by which they would have to prove that the money was borrowed because the appropriation was not received. I believe that could be devised.

This $52,000,000 that we are going to be short or are not going to be short, I am not completely familiar with it at the moment—I assume that the figure will be reconciled in some satsifactory form. However, yesterday, we had quite a harangue here about what I thought was an unbudgeted sum of $800,000. Senator Dent said that we did not need to be disturbed about the extra money because the Governor had anticipated it and had it in his budget. I did not know that. I am not an accountant and I am not the best man on this floor with figures. However, I did not know that there was upwards of three-quarters of a million dollars in the Governor's school budget for something that was not a customary expenditure. We had no reason to believe it was going to be an established expenditure. When you are talking about anything under $1,000,000, it is a case of now you see it, now you do not. If you are not for it, you cannot find it and if you find it, it is always anticipated and there.

Mr. President, I do not want to be petty about this; I do not want to be quarrelsome, but I do not want to see this bill go over in order week after week and week after week. The House could always withhold its final concurrence or agreement until the wherewithal, financially, was established. However, I am willing to let the bill go over in order today. I will ask the Department of Public Instruction for a suggestion as to their procedure for this reimbursement and then I will bring it up again next week, knowing better but hoping optimistically that we will have unanimity in the disposition of the appropriation.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Education, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wagner, I am glad that you withdrew your objection to this bill going over in order today.

Do you have any figures to substantiate the $750,000?

Mr. WAGNER. I do not, Mr. President. You will recall that this bill was introduced, I believe, a year ago. The Members of the Minority Party, when I made an explanation of the purpose of the bill, anticipating what might happen because of this deadlock which was evident at that time—that it was a figure which seemed to be reasonable and probably sufficient—said that we would not likely have any need for this. They said the State would find ways to pay the subsidies when due. However, they seemed to smile upon it in case such an eventuality should develop.

Mr. President, the only word that I have on that is that the School Business Division of the Department of Public Instruction has indicated that they thought this appropriation would be sufficient to cover those needs. However, there are no figures to show how they break it down or how they justify it.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wagner, is there a possibility that you could secure some of those figures from the Department of Public Instruction and make them available to us next Monday?

I want to also add that I feel you should appreciate the position we are in here. Here is a request for $750,000. It seems to be hypothetical figure. We are not sure as to where we are going. I would like to have something before me to justify my vote on this piece of legislation. If the interest is due and owing on appropriations which were deferred in 1953, we appreciate the fact that it is an obligation of the Commonwealth. At the same time, this practice of writing blank checks, actually, I am not for. I would infer that this seems to be a blank check because it appears to be a hypothetical figure. If Senator Wagner could supply us with that information, in all probability there would be a change in our position over here, just as long as we know where we are going, how much money we are going to spend and what we are going to spend it for. I hope Senator Wagner can secure that information, or a part of it, and then we will know just where we are going and what we can do.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not think I have to remind the gentleman that I have at no time implied that he is not interested in this the same as I am. I have no doubt that he would be as pleased as I to make this reimbursement. We will try to get some figures that are, if not final, at least indicative of what we need. That request will be made of the Department of Public Instruction today, with the hope that they may be available on Monday.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, just one more question, Senator Wagner.

I believe you will recall that several weeks ago I supplied you with a carbon copy of a letter which was sent to us by the Department of Public Instruction, objecting to this measure. Is that not correct?

Mr. WAGNER. I have in my hand, Mr. President, the copy of the letter, which I shall return to the gentleman as soon as I leave the microphone.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the gentleman. I just wanted to make it clear to the Membership of the Senate that we had this information. We supplied it to the Chairman and, therefore, we are not fully to blame over here for holding this up. We should have had this information and Senator Wagner, being the Chairman of the Committee on Education, would be the person, naturally, to whom we would look in regard to receiving these figures.

Mr. WAGNER. I, personally, would have appreciated it very much had I been supplied with these figures. Frequently, the Department of Public Instruction, when they screen school bills as they historically do, will comment and give you reactions. This was my bill, as far as sponsorship was concerned. I am Chairman of the Education Committee, and the first word or comment I received on it from the Department of Public Instruction was from Senator Lane, by way of the Honorable Henry B. Leader, Legislative Secretary in the Governor's Office. However, the whole thing added up to what we both have agreed upon up to this point.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the gentleman.

The PRESIDENT. Has the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, withdrawn his objection to the bill going over in its order?

Mr. WAGNER. I have, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Objection having been withdrawn, Senate Bill No. 223 will go over in its order.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 656, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to provide for a deficiency in the maintenance of wards of the Commonwealth at said institution.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Watkins, this deficiency appropriation to the Elwyn Training School seems to be a duplication. Back on December 12, 1955, a similar deficiency bill for the Elwyn Training School passed this Senate after considerable debate. I would like to know the reason for this second bill, calling for a deficiency appropriation to the same school.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I think perhaps Senator Yosko is a little confused on this matter. The bill that went through before was a deficiency for a previous biennium.

Mr. YOSKO. Which biennium? It was for the 1951-1955 biennium.

Mr. WATKINS. Yes, it was for the 1953-1955 biennium, but it was a deficit. In other words, it was money due Elwyn from that 1953-1955 budget. We are, therefore, setting that up in here. If there was a deficit in 1953-1955, we would need the money for 1955-1957 as well.

Mr. YOSKO. Yes, but the 1955-1957 biennium is not over. How could you ask for a deficiency appropriation for 1955-1957? You did not, as yet, get the appropriation for the Elwyn Training School for 1955-1957. That is the next bill.

Mr. WATKINS. We are fast down there; we try to get in on the ground floor.

Mr. YOSKO. I beg your pardon?

Mr. WATKINS. I said that we are pretty fast down there and we try to get in on the ground floor. We like to be ahead.

Mr. YOSKO. I cannot hear you.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a minute? Perhaps we should have a little conference.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask that this bill go over until we can talk about it.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I object to that. I asked for us to be at ease for just a few minutes in order to talk to Senator Yosko. We can fight that out later.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, would like to hold a private conference.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I will be glad to talk to him. However, why must we hold up the rest of the Calendar while we are talking?

Mr. WATKINS. It was my idea that we be at ease. If you do not want to be at ease, I insist that we vote on the bill and let us go on with it. I just asked that we be at ease until we could discuss this measure. If you do not want to do it, say so.

Mr. YOSKO. Yes, I will be glad to.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, Senator Watkins and I have agreed that this bill go over until Monday and I, therefore, ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 566, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Our heavenly Father, we spend this moment with Thee as a time of remembrance of Thy great love. Thou hast given to us in the day past all the needs of life. Indeed Thou hast been with us each day, as Thou wert with the fathers who founded this nation and this Commonwealth. We praise Thee for Thy steadfastness and never swerving provision of all our needs.

We look to this new day with hope and anticipation of Thy guidance as we set ourselves to the tasks set before us. Give us strength of body and of spirit that we may be able to hold to right in all endeavors. We invoke Thy blessing upon each of Thy servants here, upon the men of the other house upon whose shoulders also rests the responsibility of the welfare of the millions whose lot is cast with us in this Commonwealth. Especially do we pray Thee that Thou wilt give our Governor and all his aides Thy wisdom in their part of guiding the affairs of this Commonwealth.

We lay upon Thee our cares now, that we may be able to give ourselves completely to this day. We pray for Thy forgiveness for our errors of the past and by Thy help we would not commit these errors and sins again.

Finally, our Father, give us that close fellowship with Thee that shall enable us to receive Thy promise of eternal life, given through Christ our Lord, Amen.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. VERONA asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Municipal Corporations to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HOCKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, day before yesterday Mr. Wescott and I introduced an amendment to the Sales Tax Act to take out fuel oil, gas and steam. Today we have an amendment to the same Act to take out household supplies which will take care of soap powders, mops, brooms, wax, and so forth, which are very essential to the housewife in this Commonwealth.

We think most of the articles we are trying to amend out of the bill are not luxury items, they are necessities in every home.

We are not doing this just as a gesture, we are doing it in all sincerity. If I am incorrect, and I may be incorrect on my figures, the two items that we are trying to take out of the bill will amount to about $22 million.

We are not just hollering take this out and curb the Democratic administration on the Hill. We do not want them to lose a dime. So in lieu of those two items Mr. Wescott, the gentleman from Susquehanna, and myself are introducing a tax measure which will give the administration $5 to $10 million more than they would get out of these two items.

We are introducing a tax measure, a soft drink tax, which has been proven in this state. It is no guesswork. You know how much money you will get out of it in a biennium, because we have already had it and for some unknown reason it was taken off the books.

I want it definitely understood that we are not trying to take anything away from you people on the other side. We are going to give you back more than you are going to lose.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I offer these following bills and ask you to give them consideration.

SUSPENSION OF RULE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the special rule adopted by this House some months ago forbidding the further introduction of bills be suspended in order that two House bills may be introduced.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

On a rising vote, one hundred and six Members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative, the motion was agreed to.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the special rule adopted by the House forbidding the further introduction of bills be suspended in relation to the bills which were just introduced by Mr. Hocker and one other bill which is being submitted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we are perfectly willing to go along with the gentleman's suggestion. The bill that was just put in by Mr. Hocker, I would interpret as being a tax bill. Would we need suspension of the Rule for that one bill?

The other is to amend the present sales tax. Would that come under the classification of a tax bill?

Mr. READINGER. It probably would. I just wanted to clear away any doubt about it so there would not be any question about its being allowed to be introduced.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, about a week ago I went over to the Reference Bureau and I asked them to draw up a bill for me, a world-shaking bill, a bill I know all of you would have voted for, and the Reference Bureau informed me that we could no longer have bills prepared. So I am distressed here this morning when I find that bills are still being introduced. I do not think it is fair. I do not want to paraphrase the gentleman from Westmoreland, but I feel that perhaps other Members have been faced with the same problem.

I believe we should have some explanation. If I want a bill introduced now I feel I should have that opportunity because I believe it would only be fair to me and to the others.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is of the opinion that the bills come under the Rule. They were introduced by Mr. Hocker and filed with the Clerk.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

On a rising vote, one hundred and six Members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative the motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I think the gentleman has a justifiable complaint.

The instructions which I gave to the Bureau a short time ago were that no bills were to be prepared for Members any longer during this session, unless either the Minority Leader or myself sent a note to them directing them to prepare the bills. We did not want the Bureau kept busy preparing bills if they did not relate to a situation which had arisen recently and which the Member was seeking to correct. If it was something which could have been done prior to the deadline we fixed we thought it should have been done before.

Because of the fact that conditions do arise, through court decisions, perhaps, or change of circumstances, it sometimes becomes necessary at this late date to introduce bills.

So if the gentleman would see his Floor Leader I am sure he will be perfectly happy after consulting with him about it and perhaps get his bill drawn.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean and the Chair desires to make a statement.

Many weeks ago this House adopted a resolution fixing the last day for the introduction of bills. It is a customary and traditional resolution.

The Chair for weeks has been very, very lenient both with the folks in the so-called front office, who did not seem to be able to arrive at any terminal facilities with regard to the introduction of bills, and with the Members of this House. We must some time have a date when we no longer introduce bills, if we are ever going to have a sine die resolution.

I drew the line yesterday when the administration presented a bill which in my opinion should have been presented some time back. I notified the Majority Leader that the Chair had concluded that the time had come to operate under the Rule. Of course, any Rule the House makes the House is at liberty to rescind, or amend, or lay aside temporarily.

It is a matter of indifference to the Chair personally whether we go on introducing bills from now until the time Christmas looms. The Chair wants to cooperate with the Members of this chamber and the Members of the other chamber in trying to create a calendar which eventually can be terminated. It is within the jurisdiction of the House how far they want to go in the matter of introducing bills, but the Chair will insist when bills are introduced that this House by a constitutional majority suspend the Rule.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, one of the bills introduced this morning as a result of the suspension of the Rules was sponsored by myself. I want to explain the reason for introducing that bill and asking for the suspension of the Rules.

Senate Bill 215 provided that all applications for new construction or projects by the General State Authority would have to be taken in order. It was discovered later, and the Conference Committee of the House and the Senate both agreed this change should be made, that it would be advisable to permit the Authority to make exceptions in cases of fire or acts of God where undue hardship might be created in a particular school district. Inasmuch as the Conference Committee report on the Senate bill had not been accepted, had not been filed, it was impossible to introduce the bill to amend the law prior to that particular action.

That is the reason why the bill was not introduced and could not have been introduced before this morning.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. LEONARD asked and obtained permisson for the Committee on Judiciary Special to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, while this has nothing to do with bills, I thought while we did have a fairly full House I would like to see what the consensus of opinion might be.

I believe yesterday we sat here through quite a lengthy day, whether it was warranted or not is beside the point. I note now we are getting into the closing days of the session. You and I and many Members have sat around here for many hours, going into 10:00, 11:00 and 12:00 o'clock at night. I was wondering if it might be wise and if it would meet with the approval of the Chair and the Majority Leader—I only bring it up as a suggestion, not a motion at this time to see how the Members feel—to try to adjourn in the future at 6:00 or 6:30 every night rather than go into these lengthy sessions.

I do believe that by extending the session without a time limit we get into a lot of wrangles that are unnecessary. I wonder if the Members themselves—as the Senate now does, adjourn every night at 6:00 o'clock—would agree that we do make it a ruling that from now on out, particularly in view of the fact that we will have lengthy sessions. it might be advisable to adjourn at 6:00 or 6:30, whatever would meet with the approval of the membership.

It is merely a suggestion, Mr. Speaker, and not a motion. I wonder what the Majority Leader would be thinking in that respect and what the Members would be thinking.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman want to know what I am thinking now or what I will be thinking at 6:30, because if he is thinking about 6:30 I will be thinking about eating too.

I think the remarks made by the Minority Leader are very appropriate, and I would like to assure the membership that it is our intention, as it was in the past, to not hold the membership here beyond 6:30 on any day. Even though the Speaker said we are young and vigorous and virile, we still get hungry. I think it is better for us to eat at a normal time than to eat at 9:00 or 10:00 o'clock at night.

Yesterday was an unusual situation, and I do not believe we will have many instances where that will reoccur. We are planning and intending to run the sessions so they will terminate at either 6:00 or 6:30 every day.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might observe that perhaps a night session would be less exhausting than some of the evening activities in which various Members indulge.

Incidentally, the Chair regrets the fact that night sessions seem to have gone out of fashion. When the Chair first became acquainted with the functioning of this House, night sessions during the closing months of the session were a daily occurrence. The House a number of years back during the last month of a session had no idea of trying to conclude its business and arrive at a sine die date with day sessions, they worked days and they worked nights and there were always a constitutional majority in the Hall of the House. The majority party in those days managed to have a majority on the floor.

While the recommendations of the Chair have small weight the Chair would earnestly advise when business can be expedited that we return to that tradition.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I just rise to notify the Speaker that I know his statements do not apply to anybody in the House, but yesterday several Members came to me with a suspicious gleam in their eye and wanted to know why the Speaker had a haircut, a new suit and used perfume. There was considerable attention directed to that fact. I said I knew the Speaker was going on television and that he had no other reason to get his hair cut and look as pretty as he did.

So I would assume, Mr. Speaker, those statements you made do not apply to any Members of the House, because be careful, "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones."

The SPEAKER. The Speaker was simply streamliniing for action on the floor of this House. He claims the privilege of getting a haircut at least once a year.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. FILO asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Boroughs to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be in the position of asking for any further delay on this bill, but I rise at this time for the purpose of asking that the bill be passed over until next week without any change because of two facts: 1. There are several Members who would like to vote on the bill but are not here today due to illness and leave of absence has just been requested for them; 2. There was an objection by the A. F. of L. Union. That objection was cleared up yesterday.

I would like the benefit of a caucus on Monday to decide finally on the disposition of the bill and I assure the House that on Monday without any further delay the bill will, as far as I am concerned, be disposed of one way or the other.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 1891, Printer's No. 1427, be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion to recommit this bill. It has been in Law and Order was reported out, was returned and reported out again.

In my opinion there is no further study necessary. It is a matter of whether the Members want to vote for the bill or against the bill. Therefore, I ask the Members to vote down this motion in order that this bill may be voted upon.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, this bill was originally in the Liquor Control Committee and was reported out. Then it was recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order. When it was brought up in the Committee on Law and Order it really was not given any serious consideration at all. There were a number of factors involved in this bill that were not even brought up in Committee.

Unfortunately, those Members who did oppose the bill and who were interested in the veterans' groups never had an opportunity to present their views to the Committee because of the speed with which this bill was reported out of Committee.

The purpose of recommitting this bill would be to give those groups who oppose the bill an opportunity to present their views to the Committee.

Therefore, I ask all the Members of the House to support my motion to send the bill back to Committee for further consideration and study.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon, a division was called for, thirty-five Members having voted in the affirmative and seventy-seven in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call attention to the very important provisions of this bill. First of all, it is called the bootleggers bill, but, actually it does not affect bootleggers at all.

There are adequate laws on the books at present which take care of bootleggers. This particular bill is aimed directly at the veterans' groups and it provides for the confiscating of property belonging to unlicensed establishments. The unlicensed establishments this bill refers to are unquestionably the veterans' groups, who are scattred throughout the state and are unable to purchase licenses because of the quota system.

It could also be applicable to many local organizations such as fire house associations, local athletic clubs, and other such groups, who are unlicensed.

Furthermore, it increases the penalties for violation of the liquor laws. No one has any objection to the increase of penalties, but we certainly do object to the confiscation of veterans' properties in situations of this kind.

Therefore, I think if you feel inclined towards veterans and veterans' groups you will vote against the passage of this particular piece of legislation.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to make it as hard as possible for speakeasies to operate in the state of Pennsylvania. In fact, the penalties are too light. Those who are familiar with the Liquor Control Law know that a licensed establishment is subject to the same fine as an unlicensed establishment.

In this respect this law provides for the confiscation of equipment used in an unlicensed establishment. It is sound legislation. There are many establishments throughout the state of Pennsylvania operating ornately which are nothing but speakeasies of the prohibition era competing with properly licensed businesses which are subject to the scrutiny of the Liquor Control Board.

Any person who is in favor of good, sound liquor law enforcement in this state will vote for this bill. The only people, I think, who are against the bill are people who are operating illegally.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is in error when he makes the statement that this bill is designed to reach veterans' organizations. That is absolutely untrue. If it affects any veterans' organizations which are illegally selling beer and liquor, then it should affect them. There is certainly no undue penalty being imposed upon them when we amend the law to provide that the bar equipment, or whatever else might be used in the illegal sale of beer and liquor, should be confiscated or could be confiscated.

The increase in the fine from a maximum of $300 under the present law to $500 is certainly no great imposition on anybody.

The gentleman from Allegheny has very well stated that it is designed to help crack down on speakeasies. That does not mean veterans' organizations either, that means anybody who sees fit to violate the laws of Pennsylvania.

I would like to read a very brief comment from the Liquor Control Board in relation to this bill. It states as follows:

> The Board's enforcement officers now have sufficient power under the provisions of the present Liquor Code to prosecute persons engaged in the illegal sale of liquor and beer, and to confiscate property. This is presently being done. There is no objection to this bill as it merely increases the amount of the fine and provides protection to lien holders in the confiscated equipment and appurtenances.

This bill was amended the other day at my request to read as follows in part:

"Any equipment or appurtenances actually used in the commission of the unlawful acts may be confiscated.

There was some question as to whether all property in a club, or another establishment, whether it was used in the sale of beer and liquor, or not. could be taken by the enforcement offiers and confiscated. This restricts it to only the property that might be used in connection with such illegal act.

It also protects the lien holder who might have sold a piece of bar equipment, or whatever they use to sell beer and liquor.

I think it is a good bill the way it is and I think we should vote for it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, if I may?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Leader tell me whether or not this bill would strike at socalled bottle clubs or an outfit that operates on what they call a bottle basis? There are a number of legitimate operations in the state where the members of the club bring their own bottles to the club, have them marked, and so forth, and they dispense their own bottle to themselves or their friends at that place. Will this affect that type of club, what they call the bottle club?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker. I thank the gentleman for his explanation of a bottle club. I must confess I have heard of them before.

My answer to him would be that if the organizations of which he speaks were found to be operating illegally under the bottle system, then they would be under the terms of this bill. If the manner in which they operated did not constitute a violation of the law, then this would have no application to that organization whatsoever.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill, and not for the purpose of condoning illegal acts upon the part of any person, or persons, that engage in the traffic of liquor.

The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, has stated that the Liquor Control Board has sufficient power as the Act is drawn today and the only added penalty provision in this bill is to raise the fine from $300 to $500.

If it came before the Assembly with a raise in the fine from $300 to $1,000 or $2,000, I would support it because then I believe you would be striking sufficiently hard at the persons you are trying to reach.

However, due to the composition of many of our veterans' organizations as they are set up under charter. you will find there are possibilities under this where a particular post may be operating in a social manner with its members only, but due to extenuating circumstances we have brought about by our Liquor Control Act and the quota system we find in areas that are highly populated now these organizations cannot get licenses.

Several weeks ago we voted upon a bill to allow an official census to be taken in those areas with an influx of population wherein veterans of the military service established new posts as a social order for that community and today cannot procure a license.

Certainly this will be an imposition on those posts because under the written section of this act on page 3 it sets forth that their equipment can be confiscated.

Now if we want to hit at the speakeasies, if we want to hit at the bootleggers, let us raise the fine up to about $5,000, then we con accomplish the purpose.

However, I see no purpose whatsoever to be accomplished by this bill since the Liquor Control Board does have sufficient power today to take care of those cases of speakeasies and bootleggers.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, there is one question about this bill that puzzles me somewhat.

Under the American Legion's set up, the American Legion does not condone being in the liquor business. Neverthless, we have a number of posts of the American Legion throughout the state that do dispense liquor and have a liquor license.

I am fearful of this bill due to the fact that the equipment is possibly owned by the American Legion, but the organization's setup within the American Legion may be responsibile for some violations. Therefore, if I understand the bill correctly, the equipment which belongs to the American Legion could then be properly confiscated by the enforcement officers. That is the one problem which worries me in this bill.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, this bill has nothing to do with any of the veterans' organizations or any licensed dealer in liquor or beer. The only thing I can see wrong with this bill is the increase in the fine from $300 to $500.

If we are going to stop these speakeasies from serving liquor and beer to our 'teenagers in Pennsylvania, we should raise this up to $5,000, I agree with Mr. Petrosky. At least, we are getting a little more fine by raising it from $300 to $500.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think we are overlooking one thing here, and that is that any organization or individual who now does these things is subject to a penalty and after the first offense can be put in jail as well as fined.

I think too much stress has been laid on the fact that the veterans are involved, and to me that is sort of insulting to the veterans because in a sense you are accusing them of doing illegal acts. Veterans have no more right to commit an illegal act than anybody else.

It seems to me we should not vote on a bill on the basis of whether some veterans' organization, which has been unfortunate enough not to be able to get a license, should be protected by our laws or should be allowed to flaunt our laws.

I presume the liquor agents have been performing their duties as they should, and where they thought it was proper to investigate and arrest they did so. This will not make any difference in the enforcement of the law, because if the laws are not going to be enforced this will not be enforced either. If they are going to be enforced, then it should be done properly and the equipment used should be taken away from them.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I will just take a moment to answer the Majority Leader.

First of all, I think he is incorrect in his interpretation of the present law. The law at present does not provide for confiscation of property of unlicensed establishments.

It is true under the present law if it is a bootlegging establishment the Liquor Control Board can confiscate the property, but this is not dealing with bootleggers as such. A bootlegger is a person who manufactures his own stuff and then sells it without paying the state license fees and the tax on the stuff.

This is referring specifically to unlicensed establishments and it is providing something new in the law to provide for the confiscation of property in those unlicensed establishments, even though they may be selling or may be using beer or liquor that has paid the state tax.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1894, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" making it unlawful to listen into deliberations of juries and for unauthorized persons to be present in grand jury rooms

Section 1 The act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) known as "The Penal Code" is amended by adding after section 305 two new sections to read

Section 305.1 Unlawfully Listening Into Deliberations of Jury Whoever by any scheme or device or in any manner for any purpose listens into or attempts to listen into the deliberations of any jury grand petit or traverse shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or undergoing imprisonment not exceeding ten (10) years or both

Section 305.2 Unauthorized Presence in Grand Jury Room When a grand jury is in session no person shall be allowed to appear before it or to be present in the room where it is assembled except those authorized by law or required by proper order or process to be present Whoever violates the provisions of this section or who aids or abets the violation of this section shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and in default of payment of the fine and costs shall be sentenced to imprisonment not exceeding sixty (60) days

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Judiciary Committee for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, has moved that House Bill 1894 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for further study.

This bill was released from the Committee on Judiciary on December 13, 1955, without, as I recall it, any particular objection being made in the Committee. It passed second reading on December 19, 1955. It has been on the third reading calendar since that time, a period of almost three months.

I suggest that the bill has been on the calendar long enough for everybody to have had plenty of opportunity to make all the study of it they want. I feel the bill is important enough that it should be voted upon by the entire House membership and not returned to Judiciary for any further study.

I will ask for a division on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am a Member of the Judiciary Committee and I want to say to the gentleman from Cameron that I was not present at that particular meeting when the bill was brought up and reported out.

I think the bill has some merit, but I think at this particular time it deserves further study because of the fact that at about the same time this bill was introduced another bill sponsored by Messrs. Goldstein and Davis,

House Bill 1903, was also introduced covering the same subject matter.

This bill makes it a felony to unlawfully intercept or listen to a jury's deliberations, and the bill to which I just referred makes it a misdemeanor. The latter bill sponsored by Messrs. Goldstein and Davis also provides for the removal from office of public officials who have anything to do with the tampering and also the dismissal from office of any public employes involved.

I think these bills should be considered together and that is my reason for suggesting that it be recommitted.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to rise to object to the motion made to recommit the bill and to second the remarks made by Mr. Tompkins.

We have been in session now almost fifteen months and this bill has been on the calendar for four months. It was considered thoroughly in the Judiciary Committee. I was there when the bill was considered and there were no special objections made to it at that time. It has never been asked before that it be recommitted.

The Judiciary Committee, so we have been informed by its Chairman, is practically winding up its work, and so it should after being in session this long. It seems to me very untimely now to ask to have a bill to go back to that Committee.

I would ask all of the Members to oppose the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division having been requested, fifty-six voting in the affirmative and seventy-one in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

It was agreed to.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to give any lengthy dissertation on this bill, I think the membership of the House is fully aware of what the bill is intended to do.

I might say in brief that the bill makes its a felony punishable by fine and imprisonment for anybody to eavesdrop on the deliberation of a jury. That is one of the most sacred fundamentals we have in our American system of jurisprudence and in our American system of democracy. When you and I, or our friends, or our families, or anybody, is summoned for jury duty, if he has the feeling he is not protected in being able to speak his mind freely in connection with the duty he is performing as a juror, without being listened in upon and without being subjected to pressures and threats from those who might find out what he said, then we are very rapidly going to break down our system of government and we will come to anarchy.

We all know what happened in several of the Federal Courts out west during the past year or so. We might say there is plenty of penalty provided for this situation today. I might call your attention to the fact that there are plenty of penalties provided for anybody who tries to bribe a juror, or tries to tamper with a juror, and every other conceivable act except a person listening in on the juror.

When it is done with the connivance and the approval of the courts, such as was done in the cases in the Federal Courts in the west, what protection have we in anything except that of laws. After all, this nation is a nation that was built upon laws and not upon men.

The intention of this bill is to forbid any such activities in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to forbid even judges from doing so.

I have prepared a considerable brief in connection with this, and in this brief there is reference to judges who have been chastised by our higher courts for trying to go into jury rooms, or district attorneys have been chastised for trying to stay in the grand jury room during deliberation. I am not going to read the brief, I am going to ask permission to submit it for the record.

I feel the bill is sufficiently important for the safety of our country and of our democracy to have a bill of this kind on our statute books.

Mr. Tompkins extended his remarks as follows on the record:

THE SACRED CURTAIN

An incomprehensible contradiction occurred in the year 1955. While there was much agitation to enact laws to curb and prevent wire-tapping of individuals, including suspected and known criminals and subversives[1]; there was at the same time wire-tapping being done under the guise of reform (maybe), exploitation (perhaps), which threatened the very foundations of American Jurisprudence, and the freedom and liberty of our people.

We have often heard it said "It can't happen here," but as summarized in U.S. News & World Report[2], "The latest "reform" movement involves "wire tapping" of Jury Rooms.

"Tapped wires and wire recordings gave interested professors, judges and lawyers all of the conversations, arguments and decisions of Juries in six federal cases—without the Jurors' being aware of it.

"The idea has been to tap in on jurors in every State, find out how the system might be "improved."

"Then the lid blew off, when Senators learned about it. Now Juries, at least in Federal Courts, probably will be protected by federal law against eavesdropping."

The wire tapping of the Juries was all the more reprehensible because it had the prior approval of the Court.

Grand Jurors in Pennsylvania must take the following oath: "that you will diligently inquire and true presentment make of such articles, matters, and things as shall be given you in charge, or otherwise come to your knowledge in the present service. That the Commonwealth's counsel, your fellows, and your own, you will keep secret. That you will present no one from hatred or malice, neither will you leave any one unpresented for fear, favor, affection, hope of reward or gain, but will present all things truly, as they come to your knowledge, according to the best of your understanding."[3]

Sadler says "The form of oath is of ancient origin, and is preserved at least in substance."

The Superior Court of Pennsylvania however in Commonwealth v. Kirk, et al,[4] states the oath to be of statutory origin in Pennsylvania:

"We may further state that the statutory authority for the secrecy of the Grand Jury proceedings in this Commonwealth goes back to an Act of the Provincial Assembly passed in 1696, entitled "The Frame of the Government," which is found in "Charter to William Penn and Laws of the Province of Pennsylvania." * * * It is sometimes erroneously entitled "The Duke of Yorke's Book of Laws." * * * "The Form of the Grand Inquest's Attest shall be in these words, viz:

> "Thou shalt diligently inquire and true presentment make of all such matters and things, as shall be given thee in charge, or come to thy knowledge, touching this present service. The Kings Counsel, (thy) fellows and thy own, thou shalt keep secret, & in all things thou shalt present the truth, the whole truth & nothing but the truth to the best of thy knowledge."

Numerous reasons have been assigned for this rule of secrecy.

The Superior Court in Commonwealth v. Kirk, supra cites Professor Wigmore on the reasons for the rule: "(a) The Grand Jurors themselves are to be secured in freedom from the apprehension that their opinions and votes may be subsequently disclosed by compulsion.

(b) The complainants and the witnesses summoned are to be secured in freedom from the apprehension that their testimony may be subsequently disclosed by compulsion, and this in order that the State may secure willing witnesses. (c) The guilty accused is not to be provided with such clues as will enable him to flee from arrest or to suborn false testimony or tamper with witnesses.

"(d) The innocent accused, who is charged by complaint before the Jury, but is exonerated by their refusal to indict, is entitled to be protected from the compulsory disclosure of the fact that he had been groundlessly accused." In his discussion, Professor Wigmore shows that the third and fourth reasons have no application to a purely investigating Grand Jury, as distinguished from a regular or indicting Grand Jury, for in the former there is no accused, guilty or innocent; and as respects the action of a regular Grand Jury upon the innocent accused, the public character of our records discloses all persons who are accused, and a return of "ignoramus" or "not a true bill," is the very best vindication one can have."

Other reasons have been stated as follows[5]: To promote freedom of deliberation and opinion among the Grand Jury, which would be impaired, if it were known that the part taken by each, might be disclosed to the accused or his friends."

"If the oath of secrecy were honestly observed, it would save the Grand Jury from the importunities (to say nothing more), of the accused and his friends, to dismiss the complaint or reconsider the finding. This "ploughing" with the Grand Jury, at least in some localities, has assumed alarming frequency and boldness."

Another compelling reason is stated by Chief Justice Stern[6], citing United States v. American Medical Association, D. C., 26 F. Supp. 429, 431, "where defendants moved for an investigation of proceedings before the Grand Jury, inter alia, improper conduct on the part of the government attorneys and stating that some members of the Grand Jury had indicated a willingness to talk with defendants' counsel concerning such matters, it was held by the Court," * * * in refusing the motion, "The effect of granting such a motion would be to break down all legal checks against technical, dilatory tactics. The strong presumption of the regularity of Grand Jury proceedings would no longer prevail. * * * Every accused could upon the filmiest pretext enlist the Court's aid in a 'fishing expedition,' to discover some supposed irregularity to use as a basis for dilatory action; to call over the evidence and get the government's case against him in advance of trial; to divert and turn back the course of a criminal case from a trial of himself to a trial of the Grand Jury and the prosecuting officers. * * * There could be no effective way of guarding against the manifold abuses that such a practice would encourage. * * * It must be remembered that sound reasons of public policy in the administration of justice lie back of the rules which forbid free access to these channels of information."

It is true that some inroads have been made upon the rule of secrecy, with a resulting number of established exceptions. Thus a Grand Juror has been held to be a competent witness to prove who the prosecutor was. Huidekoper v. Cotton, 3 Watts 56. Or to contradict the testimony of a witness as to what she testified to before the Grand Jury. Gordon v. Commonwealth, 92 Pa. 216; Commonwealth v. Carr, 137 Pa. Super 546, 10 A2nd 133. Or to testify that the indictment was based solely upon testimony heard by the Grand Jury in another case against another person. Commonwealth v. Green, 126 Pa. 531; Commonwealth v. McComb 157 Pa. 611; Commonwealth v. Ross 58 Pa. Super. 412.

Irrespective as to the number of exceptions to the secrecy rule, the Courts[7] have said it must be conceded that exceptions to the rule shall not be carried so far as to conflict with the Juror's oath. "He shall not testify (a) how he or any member of the Jury voted, (b) nor what opinion any of them expressed in relation thereto, (c) nor to the act of either which might invalidate the finding of the Jury. His action, and the action of his fellow-jurors, must be shown only by the returns which they make to the Court."

Where the District Attorney remained in the Grand Jury Room during deliberations the Court[8] said: "The District Attorney is the attendant of the Grand Jury; it is his duty as well as his privilege to lay before them matters upon which they are to pass, to aid them in their examination of witnesses, and to give them such general instruction as they may require. But it is his duty during the discussion of the particular case, and whilst the Jurors are deliberating upon it, to remain silent. It is for the Jury alone to consider the evidence and to apply it to the case in hand; any attempt on the part of the District Attorney to influence their action or to give effect to the evidence adduced, is in the highest degree improper and impertinent. Indeed, it is the better practice, and the Jurors have an undoubted right to require, that he should retire from the room during their deliberations upon the evidence and when the vote is taken whether or not an indictment shall be found or a presentment made."

The rule of secrecy for Jury deliberations applies also to Petit and Traverse Juries and civil cases.

In Hunsicker v. Waidelich, et al[9] where the Judge entered the Jury Room in the absence of counsel and, while the Jury were deliberating, said "How are you getting along?", and one of the Jury said "All right," and the Judge then said "All right, I will wait"; altho the Court held the circumstances of this particular occurrence was not a reversible error, it did say:

"We cannot, however express too forcibly our disapproval of his action in invading the secrecy of the Jury Room. Instructions to the Jury must be given in open Court in the presence of the parties or their counsel. There may be no private communication of any kind or character between the Judge and the Jury, and if additional instructions are needed they must be given in open Court. The trial Judge should not, under any circumstances, enter the Jury room, however innocent and proper the purpose may be: Sommer v. Huber 183 Pa. 162. There is no way of determining the influence which such act might have on the minds of the Jury, and the only safe course is to avoid all questions by strictly adhering to the long established practice which requires all deliberations by the Jury to be conducted in the utmost privacy."

In Cluggage V. Swan,[10] where an attempt was made to impeach the verdict by the testimony of the Jurors themselves, Mr. Justice Yeats said: (September 23, 1811)

"I frankly confess that I feel the utmost repugnance to such testimony. By admitting it (testimony of Jurors to impeach their verdict) I as readily perceive, that I should open a door to the exercise of the most pernicious arts, and tampering with Jurors; and that the practice would be replete with dangerous consequences. Jurors, who have been sworn or solemnly affirmed to give a verdict according to the evidence, come with a bad grace into a tribunal of justice to prove their own dishonorable conduct, and affix a stigma on their companions who may be unheard in their defense. Besides, in the language of some of the cases, I cannot see how such testimony could be heard by the Court, without proceeding against the Jurors criminally. * * * But above all, I greatly fear that the practice if adopted, would tend to an inquisition over the consciences of Jurors, as the grounds and reasons of their verdict, and being questions of fact more frequently before the Court for their decision, than is consistent with sound policy. I am opposed to penetrating into the recesses of a Jury Room, through the instrumentality of Jurors, who are kept together until they have agreed upon their verdict. * * * I am of opinion, that the testimony of Jurors ought not to be admitted to invalidate their verdicts."

This ruling was re-affirmed in Redmond V. Pittsburg Rys. Co.[11] (March 21, 1938), with Mr. Justice Schaffer continuing:

"Speaking through the present Chief Justice (Kephart) in Friedman V. Ralph Bros., Inc., 314 Pa. 247, we repeated the thought and reaffirmed the policy so long ago announced by saying: "What is more important, we cannot accept the statement of Jurors as to what transpired in the Jury Room as to the propriety or impropriety of a Juror's conduct. To do so, would destroy the security of all verdicts and go far toward weakening the efficacy of trial by Jury, so well grounded in our system of jurisprudence. Jurors cannot impeach their own verdict. Their deliberations are secret and their inviolability must be closely guarded."

So when the 1874 and all prior Constitutions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania[12] says: "Trial by Jury shall be as heretofore," certainly one of the elements of "heretofore" must be that Jury deliberations be secret, and that they be kept secret.

And beyond both the State and Federal Constitutions we hear the patron Saint of the Common Law, Blackstone[13] referring to trial by Jury as "a trial that hath been used time out of mind in this Nation (England) and seems to have been coeval with the first civil government thereof."

And Repp, a Danish Jurist[14] observes: "Respecting the antiquity of Juries, perhaps we ought to say nothing more than this, that their origin lies beyond the age of clear history."

It can't happen here! Well it did happen here in America, and all because certain Judges whom we commissioned as sentinels to stand guard over our delicate and priceless fabric of freedom saw fit to desert their post of duty, aided and abetted by certain reformers (maybe), exploiters (perhaps), who for the first time since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, saw fit to penetrate the sacred curtain of secrecy of the Jury Room.

Their idea was to try it in every state in the Union. Well, they have not tried it in Pennsylvania, as yet, and in an attempt to make sure that they can't do it or even try it in this Commonwealth, I introduced House Bill No. 1894, which at the time of this writing is on the third reading calendar in the House of Representatives which provides:

> "Whoever by any scheme or device or in any manner, for any purpose, listens into or attempts to listen into the deliberations of any Jury, Grand, Petit or Traverse shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $10,000 or undergo imprisonment not exceeding 10 years or both."

In this connection it is interesting to note[15] that "anciently it was held that if one of the Grand Jury disclosed to any person indicted the evidence that appeared against him, he was thereby made accessory to the offense, if felony, and in treason a principal."

This might be a just punishment for those who eavesdrop.

As to the reasons advanced for the tapping of Jury deliberations; Reform (maybe), Exploitation (perhaps). Improvement—In this I must confess full agreement with the statement of G. K. Chesterton[16] that:

> "Our civilization has decided, and very justly decided, that determining the guilt or innocence of men is a thing too important to be trusted to trained men. It wishes for light upon that awful matter, it asks men who know no more law than I know, but who can feel the things I felt in the Jury box. When it wants a library catalogued, or the solar system discovered, or any trifle of that kind, it uses its specialists. But when it wishes anything done which is really serious, it collects 12 of the ordinary men standing around. The same thing was done, if I rembember right, by the Founder of Christianity."

Permit me to conclude with the words of Representative Israel Washburn of Maine, spoken in the House of Representatives on March 14, 1856, In Re Kansas Contested Election[17]:

> "Trial by Jury, the palladium of civil right and personal security, born of the conflicts of liberty with despotism, and baptised in the blood of men struggling to be free, consecrated in our hearts as the ancient and indefeasible heritage of the people * * *, stands against all assaults."

Let's keep it that way.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman mentioned, Mr. Speaker, that there were several cases in the Federal District Courts, I believe out West. Would the gentleman state what particular courts out west and how many specifically?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not have that in my brief. I have reference to the reports which came out on that in the U. S. News and World Reports and other publications. My recollection is that they listened in on five different cases in the Federal Courts, some grand jury, some traverse jury in civil cases.

Mr. McCORMACK. As a matter of fact, it was one Federal District Court, was it not?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, as I understand it, there were five different cases where they listened in on them.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman said also, I believe, that there is nothing in the law to prevent such eavesdropping now?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman was a district attorney, or an assistant district attorney, was he not, for Cameron Country?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Will the gentleman restate his question?

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman was a district attorney, I believe, in Cameron County, was he not?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Did this ever occur to the gentleman before to prevent any tampering with the jury while he was in office?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No one was tampering with jurors. This was something which was done without the knowledge of the jurors that it was being done.

Mr. McCORMACK. But prior to the article covering that story in the paper this legislation never occurred to the gentleman, did it?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right, it never did because I thought our judges were at least honorable enough not to permit any such things as this to go on.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman say that the judge today does not have power to cite anyone for contempt of court who attempts to tamper or in any way interfere with the deliberations of the petit jury or the grand jury?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would say, yes, the judge would have the power to cite for contempt, but suppose the judge joins in on the proceedings, such as happened in the cases out in the west?

Mr. McCORMACK. Was the gentleman's answer yes or no to that?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would answer he would have the power to cite for contempt, but suppose the judge makes himself a party to it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is that what the gentleman fears?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, it has happened before, it could happen again.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker. I think, although there are some possible merits to this bill, that there is a greater possibility that it might interfere in some way with later ideas and thoughts on how we can get better juries possibly, or any number of suggestions that might help in the judicial system. I think to unduly hamper that possibility by this legislation at the present time might be unwise.

As was pointed out today, the court clearly has the right to punish for contempt any interference by anyone in trying to intercept jury communications or grand jury deliberations. I think there is really plenty of law to support what I say, and I think the sponsor will agree with me. If we read that story coming out of Illinois, I believe there was some attempt to listen in on a jury's deliberations. I think this bill was hastily devised and if it had been thought over it might not have been brought up today. I ask the House to vote against it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker. I rise to support this particular bill. As to the question of whether or not it was hastily gone over, I would suggest to the gentleman that if he attended the meetings of our Committee he would know that nothing is hastily gone over when there is any question about the merits.

This is a very important piece of legislation. There has been some reference made to what happened out in the midwest, but it has not been explained to the Members of this House. I feel for those of you who did not read the article, did not follow through on it, you should know what actually took place.

A midwestern university, I believe it was the University of Chicago, decided they would have a project to find out and inquire as to how efficient and how good the jury system was. They decided as part of the project they would request permission from the court to listen in to jury deliberations. They then went to the judges and the judges granted permission to this board of inquiry, or group of investigators, to find out and listen in on the deliberations of a jury without the members of that judy knowing they were being listened to.

One of the most important things we must protect if we are going to continue to enjoy freedom in this country is the sacredness of the jury. Every juror should be permitted to deliberate without any fear, without any thought whatsoever, that someone might be listening in or that someone previously has tapped the jury room.

As it has been pointed out, it probably will not happen too often and no judge will permit it to be done without his consent, but I do not know of any place in the statute books where there is anything which says the judge cannot agree to it. That is what we are trying to do this morning. We are trying to put on the statute books of Pennsylvania. a law which says that a judge himself cannot permit it to be done. While he has the right to cite for contempt of court any person who would do it without his permission, under the present law there is no way to punish the man that does it with permission. What we are attempting to do this morning is to see that that permission will never be granted by any court in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I had intended to vote against this bill, also thinking it was completely unnecessary. However, after listening to the debate on the matter, I believe both the gentlemen speaking for it know what they are talking about and I have changed my mind. If it is necessary, if there is a defect in our law, even though the possibility of this happening is very remote, I will vote for it because I do not like to see the possibility even remain.

I do not think it should be done, I do not think anybody should be allowed to listen in on these deliberations, and if this fills the gap, I am going to vote for it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, it might not be correct. I do not know, but nevertheless there was an implication in what Mr. Readinger said that the two gentleman who spoke on behalf of the bill knew what they were talking about. Therefore, the fellow who spoke against it did not know what he was talking about. If that implication is correct, I feel it is not a correct one. It is erroneous despite the fact that Mr. Lopresti, the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, spoke on behalf of it and Mr. Tompkins, a former District Attorney, spoke on behalf of it. I feel as though I know just as much about the present laws affecting eavesdropping and any other tampering with juries as the two flattered gentlemen.

Insofar as attending Judiciary Committee meetings, I think . . .

The SPEAKER. It is hardly pertinent. Attendance at Judiciary Committee meetings is not relevant.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, if the Speaker would wait until I finish the sentence. I think I have a right to correct the inference that I do not attend meetings, since it was raised by the Chairman. I want to say to this House—

The SPEAKER. Any discussion regarding attendance at committee meetings is not revelant to this question.

Mr. McCORMACK. May I interrogate the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Mr. Lopresti?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. In the debate on this bill, Mr Speaker. the gentleman mentioned the fact that if I had been in attendance at the Committee meetings I would know that every bill was discussed thoroughly with respect to the merits of it.

In that connection I will ask the gentleman whether or not House Bill 1903 was considered at the time this bill was reported out?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I will say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that this bill was discused in the Judiciary Committee and I feel it was discussed thoroughly by the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is the gentleman talking about House Bill 1903?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I am talking about the bill before the House at the present moment.

Mr. McCORMACK. I ask the gentleman again, Mr. Speaker, whether or not House Bill 1903 concerning the same subject was dicussed with this bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wants to give the widest possible latitude, but the questions of the gentleman are not revelant to the matter under discussion. The deliberations, who was at committee meetings and who was not at committee meetings has no revelance in this discussion.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is that debatable?

The SPEAKER. That is not debatable. That is a decision of the Chair from which the gentleman is at liberty to appeal at any time.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I would certainly like to appeal that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Is the appeal seconded?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no second.

Mr. McCORMACK. There is a second right here, Mr. Comer.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is the Speaker going to remain in the Chair?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. If this is considered a democratic process I do not like it, Mr. Speaker, and I will go on record as saying that today. I am trying to get an intelligent discussion on this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is distinctly out of order. The Chair will read the rule:

> "A Member shall not relate in debate what was done or said in committee except such as is contained in the written report or is authorized by the committee."

If the gentleman, Mr. Lopresti, raised the question, he was out of order as to who was at the meeting and who was not.

The Chair is ruling correctly because if what happened in Committee became a matter of discussion upon this floor it would violate every rule of parliamentary procedure.

The Speaker is quite well acquainted with the Rules of this House, as is the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am well aware of that Rule, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield to the gentleman from Cambria?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I wish to state, Mr. Speaker, that the question first came about by the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia to the effect that this bill was hastily considered in Committee. To which I replied that if he would have attended those meetings he would know that we do not consider bills hastily.

The SPEAKER. The discussion from the first was out of order.

Mr. McCORMACK. That is not a correct . . . Well, I don't want to go into that any further, Mr. Speaker.

I will again request permission to speak on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. McCORMACK. I think, Mr. Speaker, I should have the latitude to discuss another bill in connection with this.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill under discussion.

The Chair wants to be as lenient as possible, but the Chair is going to administer its functions as Speaker in accordance with the Rules of this House.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield to the Majority Leader?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I was about to ask whether the gentleman would yield for just a moment before he starts to discuss the bill to allow me to remove the unfortunate implications which arose a minute ago when I said that after listening to the two proponents of the bill I became convinced that perhaps it was necessary to have it and therefore was going to vote for it.

I certainly did not mean to imply that the gentleman from Philadelphia does not know what he is talking about. Unfortunately, I did not hear very much of what he had said. He may be right and he may be wrong, but at least I have been convinced by the proponents that it is necessary. I certainly do not want him to even suspect that I think he does not know what he is talking about.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the benefit of the gentleman from Philadelphia that if the Chair strictly enforced the Rules the gentleman, having spoken twice, would not again be entitled to the floor. The Chair has not enforced that Rule, and the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. That would be a novel enforcement of the Rule. The first time since I have been sitting in this House, I will say that.

The SPEAKER The gentleman is out of order. The gentleman has the floor and is not in position to engage in an argument.

If the gentleman desires to appeal from the decision of the Chair, he is entitled to do so, otherwise, he will observe the rulings of the Chair.

The gentleman is in order to debate the bill. He was recognized for that purpose. He has debated the bill at considerable length, and is again recognized.

Mr. McCORMACK. It was brought out here that this bill was designed to correct even judges, or to protect juries against judges, who might be involved in tampering with the jury or listening in on their deliberations.

I say this bill as drawn will not do the job thoroughly, and I think for that reason there should be provisions that would expressly say that a judge who in any way attempts to tamper, or to connive in tampering, with the jury should be removed from office. The bill does not say that. I think that is one of its shortcomings since this does have a drastic effect.

I think we should vote it down at this time and perhaps at some later date come up with a bill which will take care of that defect.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

"An Act relating to plumbing providing for certification registration and regulation of persons engaged in plumbing creating a State Public Health Plumbing Board in the Department of Health prescribing its powers and duties and those of local governments with respect thereto and making an apropriation."

was defeated on final passage, Tuesday, March 13, 1956.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McGee vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Governor Leader last night in Pittsburgh, after attacking the sales tax which he had just signed, said, and I quote: "Imagine what we will be able to do when we get a Democratic Senate."

It is very easy to imagine, as the Governor asks us to do, if the people of this state are tricked again by wild promises to turn over complete control of the Legislature to Governor Leader, what is going to happen. It is not hard to imagine we will have a wage and income tax with the rates running from one to ten per cent because with the legislation going through this year the Governor will be back in the next session asking for an additional half billion dollars over and above what he is getting this year.

It is not hard to imagine that the appropriations which have been reduced this year will be back double and triple what have been proposed this year.

It is not hard to imagine that the Governor will ask for a one hundred per cent increase in the appropriation for his own office instead of the 65 per cent he asked for this year and has received.

It is not hard to imagine that instead of the present braintrust we will see the whole Capitol crawling with starry-eyed theorists and no one to stop them.

I am afraid the Governor is not going to get his wish. The people have been fooled once too often and they are not going to be fooled again. They have had it during the last fourteen months and they certainly are not going to ask for more of the same confusion, the same broken promises that have been dished out to them so far under the present administration.

The Governor says he signed the sales tax with bitterness in his heart. I suppose, too, he kept the Sales Tax Bureau up to full strength during the last six months, when we had no sales tax and the Governor was saying he was going to veto it, with bitterness in his heart.

We are beginning to suspect, and the people are beginning to suspect, that the Governor has felt all along it would finally be a sales tax, but he wanted to keep up the suspense just long enough so that when a sales tax would finally have to be passed, it would be a three per cent sales tax and not the two per cent that was possible last May or June.

After all, did not the Governor tell us in his budget message that it would be either a wage tax or a three and three-quarter per cent sales tax? Has it not been clear for the last twelve months that the people would never stand for a wage tax?

When I am asked, "Why did you urge a sales tax," I say, "I did not urge a sales tax. I wanted the Governor to keep his promise of no tax, but when he gave us no choice except a wage or a sales tax, I chose a sales tax because it was fairer than a wage tax."

When we passed the new corporation taxes here the other day, that made the total of taxes on the books the sum of a little better than $1 billion. This sum would just about equal the budget of Governor Fine in the last two years of his term.

When we passed the sales tax, we gave Governor Leader $320 million in new money for him to spend.

Who is not playing fair? Who does the Governor think he is kidding now?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid I was a little inattentive when the gentleman began his remarks. I missed his announcement of the office for which he is running.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1939, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing use of money from resident hunter's fees for controlled burning of marginal and submarginal game land.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that there are a number of our Members sick and others who are not in their seats at this time, rather than poll the House or resort to some other measure, I move at this time that House Bill 1939 be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon a division was called for. 73 Members having voted in the affirmative, 64 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to continue through the calendar.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILLS

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I move to put the rest of the bills on the third reading postponed calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. I believe it is necessary to make a separate motion for each separate bill the gentleman desires to put on the postponed calendar as it is called up.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct. The point of order is well taken.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a motion to adjourn.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order. A motion for adjournment is always in order.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a division.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's request comes too late. The Chair has ruled that the noes have it.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. Speaker, may I ask for a roll call vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is too late.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday we voted to have a working day and we are working. What causes this great unrest all of a sudden I would not know.

There are quite a few non-controversial bills on the calendar which we would like to dispose of today and it would have been unfortunate if the motion to adjourn had carried so prematurely.

Judging from the voice vote I just heard, the men who voted yesterday to have a working day are still willing to work.

It is our intention not to go beyond about 5:00 o'clock, if that meets with the approval of the membership. Perhaps it will not be necessary to continue that long.

I do hope we can continue with the calendar and dispose of a lot of these bills whether they are controversial or non-controversial.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. EHRGOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last night we spent practically an hour or an hour and a half making a grandstand play to the Press. I think it was useless. We wasted our time last night and we are wasting time today.

I hope the Press rips apart the grandstand play of yesterday and tells the people of Pennsylvania the facts. We are wasting our time today and I hope we will all try to live up to what we really believe in and not speak mere words.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader has said the Members voted for a working session and we are doing that today.

There are legislative processes that contain a time element which are very necessary and essential. setting up the conference committees, setting up concurrences or non-concurrences in amendments from one House as it affects the other House, and so forth. All this comes in to the proper legislative processes, and it does take an element of time in order to dispatch these items in the Hall of the House. All of the older Members know that.

I do not believe the Press will want to consider ripping the House apart for the grandstand play of yesterday. We are working and we will continue to work to dispatch the business of the day that is before us on the calendar.

BILL ON THIRD READING

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1940 as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McINROY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

While I fully intended to debate this bill, I was busy at the time and about ten names had been called before I knew on which bill the roll was being called. So I would just like to make this statement for the record and for the benefit of those who are listening.

Personally, I think it is a bad bill. I think the purpose of it is to tie the hands of the Game Commission. It must be that the sponsors of this bill do not have confidence in the Game Commission, or they would not earmark this money to be used for cutting.

This other bill which is ahead of it I fully intend to debate next week.

As far as the cutting is concerned, I do not object to it, but I do object to this idea of tying the hands of the Game Commission.

I have a letter here from Doctor Goddard, who is the head of the Department of Forests and Waters and a man who I think both sides of the House admire not only for his honesty but for his ability. I have a letter also from the head of the Game Commission objecting to this bill.

I guess we will have to say we had a "fast one" pulled on us this afternoon, because the vote was started before I knew what was going on. I had specifically asked to debate this bill. However, I will have to graciously step aside and say this, that I think it is a bad bill, I think it is wrong to go against Dr. Goddard and I think it is wrong to go against the head of the Game Commission, Mr. Bennett.

I am going to do my best to defeat the bill in another method. You can figure out what method that may be. I will do my best, and Mr. Breth and the others who are in favor of controlled burning had better pull out their big guns next week. We will see whether that one passes or not.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for the time and indulgence of the House.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. I have such implicit confidence in the gentleman from Armstrong that from the Chair I must express regret that anyone should have presumed that the Chair would pull a "fast one."

I hope the gentleman realizes that the phrase was not quite in order. I have implicit faith, and I believe this House has, in the integrity of the gentleman from Armstrong.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, just to make another short statement.

I certainly did not intend to say in any way that I lacked confidence or that the Speaker pulled a "fast one." Perhaps I was at fault. I was busy at the time, but I had my name down to debate it. We will say there was a mistake made.

I will graciously step aside, as I said. Although I think the bill is a bad bill, it passed and we bow to the majority temporarily.

Again, I apologize if I have said anything against the Speaker, which I certainly did not mean to do. I think a lot of the Speaker, I think he is a very fine man and I did not do it intentionally.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman for his statement and wishes to say that the Chair purposely paused for a considerable time before putting the question. The Chair apologizes for not having seen the gentleman's name on the calendar to debate the bill. I offer that apology to him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that any gentleman in this House is ever denied his right to speak on any bill. I do not regard his remarks as reflecting upon me or the cosponsors of the bill. Mr. Smith and Mr. Wilt.

It was not my intention and I know not the intention of the cosponsors, of anyone over here, or of anyone who voted for the bill, to shut off debate or to "pull" anything. This is not the place those things can be done.

We are all Members of an honorable body. I think our procedures are on a honorable basis and that is the way I will strive to maintain them.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will now return, without objection, to page 6 of today's calendar. House Bill 1644, Printer's No. 1198 was incorrectly placed on the second reading calendar. It is a bill on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1644 entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, line 1 of Title, by striking out "transportation"

Amend Sec. 4, page 4, line 6, by inserting after "each" storage

Amend Sec. 4, page 4, line 7, by inserting after "each" storage

Amend Sec. 5, page 4, line 13, by striking out "transportation"

Amend Sec. 5, page 4, line 14, by inserting after "dispensing" but not the transportation.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I rose to interrogate, but as an alternative today I will ask permission of the House to make a brief statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, yesterday when I rose on this bill there were a number of items in my mind which were not clear after reading the bill. I had intended to interrogate one or more of the sponsors, but since they were not in the House the bill was postponed. Since that time I have conferred with those gentleman, and they have explained some of the points I had in mind.

Basically I think this bill is aiming at a condition which probably needs some remedial action. There are some items in it I feel are not too well drawn, but I feel they are overcome by the benefits in the bill.

I intend to vote for the bill and ask all the Members to vote for it.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, in this bill the penalties are severe. I was wondering whether one of the sponsors could explain the basis for these severe penalties on page 15 of the bill Section 18.

> Penalties. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act or any rule regulation or order made pursuant to this act shall for the first or second offense upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty days and for a third or subsequent offense if three offenses including the last offense are committed within one year shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both.

I was wondering whether one of the sponsors of the bill could explain why the penalties are so severe.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will one of the sponsors of the bill answer the interrogation of the gentleman? Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will volunteer as a lawyer not as a farmer.

I certainly believe it to be good policy, if somebody wants to commit as many as three offenses within one year, that he should be given a severe penalty. That seems to be the intention of the amendment the gentleman is referring to.

The prior law provided for a lesser penalty for three offenses, but they could be committed at different times not all within one year.

I believe the object of this whole section is to prevent offenses from being committed. Apparently the present law is not severe enough to prevent them from being committed.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. You know, we have to have something like this because these city slickers have been taking advantage of us poor farmers for many years. We just have to have something to protect us. This is based sort of on a uniform fine, or whatever you might call it, a penalty bill, Mr. Speaker, and I understand it is the same thing in the feed bill.

We farmers are very thankful for anything you fellows will do for us.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 1 The Governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute a compact on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with any other state or states legally joining therein in form substantially as follows

The party states find that the proper and expeditious treatment of the mentally ill and mentally deficient can be facilitated by cooperative action to the benefit of the patients their families and society as a whole Further the party states find that the necessity of and desirability for furnishing such care and treatment bears no primary relation to the residence or citizenship of the patient but that on the contrary the controlling factors of community safety and humanitarianism require that facilities and services be made available for all who are in need of them Consequently it is the purpose of this compact and of the party states to provide the necessary legal basis for the institutionalization or other appropriate care and treatment of the mentally ill and mentally deficient under a system that recognizes the paramount importance of patient welfare and to establish the responsibilities of the party states in terms of such welfare

Article II

As used in this compact

(a) "Sending state" shall mean a party state from which a patient is transported pursuant to the provisions of the compact or from which it is contemplated that a patient may be so sent

(b) "Receiving state" shall mean a party state to which a patient is transported pursuant to the provisions of the compact or to which it is contemplated that patient may be so sent

(c) "Institution" shall mean any hospital or other facility maintained by a party state or political subdivision thereof for the care and treatment of mental illness or mental deficiency

(d) "Patient" shall mean any person subject to or eligible as determined by the laws of the sending state for institutionalization or other care treatment or supervision of this compact

(e) "After-care" shall mean care treatment and services provided a patient as defined herein on convalescent status or conditional release

(f) "Mental illness" shall mean mental disease to such extent that a person so afflicted requires care and treatment for his own welfare or the welfare of others or of the community.

(g) "Mental deficiency" shall mean mental deficiency as defined by appropriate clinical authorities to such extent that a person so afflicted is incapable of managing himself and his affairs but shall not include mental illness as defined herein

(h) "State" shall mean any state territory or possession of the United States the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico

Article III

(a) Whenever a person physically present in any party state shall be in need of institutionalization by reasons of mental illness or mental deficiency he shall be eligible for care and treatment in an institution in that state irrespective of his residence settlement or citizenship qualifications.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this article to the contrary notwithstanding any patient may be transferred to an institution in another state whenever there are factors based upon clinical determinations indicating that the care and treatment of said patient would be facilitated or improved thereby Any such institutionalization may be for the entire period of care and treatment or for any portion or portions thereof The factors referred to in this paragraph shall include the patient's full record with due regard for the location of the patient's family character of the illness and probable duration thereof and such other factors as shall be considered appropriate

(c) No state shall be obliged to receive any patient pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this article unless the sending state has given advance notice of its intention to send the patient furnished all available medical and other pertinent records concerning the patient given the qualified medical or other appropriate clinical authorities of the receiving state an opportunity to examine the patient if said authorities so wish and unless the receiving state shall agree to accept the patient

(d) In the event that the laws of the receiving state establish a system of priorities for the admission of patients an interstate patient under this compact shall receive the same priority as a local patient and shall be taken in the same order and at the same time that he would be taken if he were a local patient

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that the penalty in this bill is certainly very heavy. There is a $1,000 fine and I think imprisonment from one to five years.

I think we should realize there are circumstances under which an individual may be found guilty, and may even plead guilty, to hit-and-run where property only may be concerned.

The penalty at the present time can be very expensive insofar as our courts are concerned, and many have been penalized under that law. I would not object if the penalty were more reasonable. I think we are becoming very expensive and certainly very severe in the penalty that is imposed for this type of crime.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, with the hit-and-run record so far this year in Pennsylvania, I do not think the penalty is strong enough in this particular bill.

We have lost some twenty-three lives by hit-and-run in the past ninety days in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and I think it is time we do something about stopping it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. MIKULA. Mr. Speaker, I think it is an imposition on the part of leadership of this House to keep us in session with so few Members. It is not fair to the membership, it is not fair to us here at the present time.

At this point I make a motion that we do adjourn, until Monday, March 19, 1956.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman wish to amend his motion to fix the time of meeting on Monday?

Mr. MIKULA. Until the coming Monday at 1:00 o'clock.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to adjourn until Monday, March 19, 1956 at 1:00 o'clock.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker. I do not know whether the question is in order, but is the Senate still in session?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That has nothing to do with the motion before the House and the motion is not debatable.

Mr. SARRAF. Therefore, the question is out of order?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is out of order.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MIKULA and Mr. EHRGOOD and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I do think a word of explanation possibly should go to some of the newer Members who do not know quite what it is all about as far as the dying days of a session are concerned.

I agree with that we are sitting here seemingly wasting time, there is no doubt of that, but I can also tell you right now that there are mesages going back and forth between here and the Senate. Some of the older Members have sat here, and I mean it and can prove it, for twenty-four hours straight in past sessions trying to clean up the business of the House.

I do not say that trying to get slaps on the back, but you are either sitting here and doing this for four or five hours on days like this, or at the end of the session you are going to sit here for a week and do nothing while conference reports are being printed and messages are going back and forth. That can extend into sixteen or eighteen hours a day.

The dying days of a session are always this way. They are not nice, they are not things you and I like to do. You either have to do it this way, the easier way, the least of two evils, let us look at it on that basis, or sit around for sixteen, eighteen and twenty hours.

Every conference report, if you do not know it, has to be in print. The end of a session, the last two weeks, you will see hundreds of them.

That is the position you are in. Probably we have wasted some time. I am not trying to defend anybody. I am not saying this on that basis. We, when we were the majority party, tried to do these very things. I think in fairness to the majority party you should be patient. While you may think they are exploiting us at this time, or you may think they are wasting our time, and perhaps they are in some cases, it is not something they are doing purposely.

I do believe a motion to adjourn at this time is not in order. I know it is not debatable and that is the reason I am talking after the motion. I do wish you would try to consider the fact that nobody wants to sit here. I do not want to do it either, nor does the Majority Leader. I do wish you would consider the fact that you are either going to do it this way or sit here for a week, maybe five. six days, eighteen and twenty hours straight and it is really a very hard job to do.

I do think you should consider those things before these motions are made.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was sitting here listening to the vote on the motion to adjourn hoping it would be defeated, and thinking to myself how much of our time this afternoon we are wasting on such motions.

I am very happy the Minority Leader made the statement he made, because it clarifies a lot of things in the minds of the new Members.

I stated earlier that we expect to finish by 5:00 o'clock. Since we have been here only about six hours today, I am beginning to wonder whether we are going to start fighting for a four-hour day. Men for years have fought to get an eight-hour day, and here we are acting as those we do not want to work six hours. So will you please be a little forbearing for the rest of the afternoon?

I think we will be out of here by 4:45 o'clock, or at least our working session will be over by that time. It is possible we may have to stay in session until 7:00 or 8:00 o'clock, depending upon the matters which are coming over from the Senate. That does not mean the Members cannot go home if they so desire. So, I ask your forebearance for a while so we can dispose of the rest of the bills on the calendar, with the exception of a few.

We are not wasting our time. These bills must be voted on, and if they are not voted on now, they must be voted on some other day.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, something else was just brought to my attention. Probably the Majority Leader does not realize it, I know I did not.

One of the reasons some of the Members are rather anxious to go home is because the weather is closing in that is, fog. If that be true, and I belive it is, I think it might be advantageous if the Majority Leader would run all controversial bills right now and leave the noncontriversial bills. That would release the Members at a little earlier time if it could be arranged.

Mr. READINGER. Will the Minority Leader advise me which bills are controversial?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 524, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators therof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" defining transit mix vehicles and fixing registration fees and permissible weights therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 102), page 3, line 6, by inserting after "vehicle" which has been registered under the provisions of this act at any time prior to June 1, 1956, and which is

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is either good or bad without these amendments. I am asking the membership to vote the amendments down.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, if you will just bear with me a moment I will get the microphone down to my level.

Mr. Speaker, I offered these amendments, and if you will be good enough to bear with me I will read you this short memorandum which was left by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Reidenbach, who had to leave. I am really substituting for him.

The story is that in 1953 this House passed unanimously a bill which was finally enacted into law that same year legalizing a new type of vehicle on the highways of Pennsylvania. This vehicle was a four-axle truck, which consisted of two pairs of axles, one pair being in front of the vehicle and the other pair of axles being in the rear. It was recognized by practically everyone in the Legislature that this vehicle was many times safer than the existing types. It distributed the gross weight of the vehicle more evenly on the highways, thereby causing considerably less damage to our highways.

We are now asked to consider Senate Bill 524, which would eliminate all of the benefits derived from past legislation. We are being asked to consider the elimination of all axle limitations for transit mix vehicles. Does this House realize just what the elimination of these axle limitations could mean so far as destruction to our highways and bridges? We are being asked to pass legislation which could legalize a vehicle with practically all of the load of the vehicle on one axle. The terrific strain imposed on our highways as a result of this staggers the imagination. I predict if this bill passes many of our bridges will be damaged beyond repair.

This bill we are being asked to consider is a discriminatory bill as well. In other words, only one favored, special group would derive any benefit from its passage.

The proponents of this bill would have you believe that by raising the license fees as they have done, they have given sufficient concessions to take care of the possible objections to the bill.

I really believe this is a debate on the subject of the bill itself. You have heard what the amendments proposed and Mr. Reidenbach has asked for support of the amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOCKER. This is a highly controversial piece of legislation. I would ask you not to call this bill with a light House like this, because I know a lot of the Members who left on account of the ice and snow in the northern tier are opposed to this bill.

I would ask you to hold it over, or do something with it, as it is a highly controversial bill.

Do you want it on the table or on the postponed calendar? I will move to put it either place.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will recognize the gentleman for the purpose of making a motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to state that I have no objection to the bill being placed on the postponed calendar, but we are still in a working session, we have not gone into a consent calendar. If the gentleman desires to make that motion, it is quite all right with us.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon, a division was called for, seventy-four Members having voted in the affirmative and forty in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 543, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (f) of section nine hundred three of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by changing the maximum gross weight and axle load of certain commercial motor vehicles

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 661, as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. KAMYK and LUTTY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 14, 1956.

March 14th marks the anniversary of the day John and Helena Sarraf became the parents of a son. It was an important day for them and an important day for us. For that son grew to manhood, educated himself in the medical profession, and joined in the civic life of his community and State.

He is Dr. George Sarraf, the leader of the Allegheny County Democratic Delegation in this House. "Doc," as we know him, is more than a leader, he is a personal friend and counselor to every member of this House. He carries his prescription book with him at all times and is ever ready to prescribe for our ills. His most outstanding characteristic is extreme generosity. There is not a person who has associated with him during his twenty-two years in this House, who does not recall some kindness or favor extended by the "Doc," and with never an expectation of return; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives, set this day apart to honor Dr. George Sarraf, and in recognition of the honor he has brought to himself, through his good works; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends to "Doc" its most sincere birthday greetings, and its warmest wishes for continued success and honor; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Honorable George J. Sarraf.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this bill, which changes the provisions of bail for persons charged with the commission of sex crimes, and some other bills on today's Calendar, notably the bill outlawing switch blade knives, represents a direct attack and action by this Legislature on a problem that has been become an increasing menace in our larger cities.

I think all of us have been concerned with the reports we have been reading in the newspapers in recent years concerning vandalism and hoodlumism by groups of teen-age gangs and young gangsters, generally, and also with the rising percentage of sex offenses that we have read about in the newspapers. I think apparently Philadelphia has had ,like other major cities, a real problem in this respect.

Mr. President, these bills should go a long way toward curing that situation and helping the authorities in Philadelphia to clean up the criminal elements that have received so much notoriety in recent years. I understand that in neighboring towns, near Philadelphia, for instance, one of the cities passed an ordinance banning switch blade knives, and stabbings thereafter decreased fifty per cent within the next year.

Mr. President, I also want to say at this time, in urging favorable consideration of this legislation, that the Philadelphia Inquirer is to be commended for the leadership it has taken in this fight and, particularly, Senator Mullin and Senator Silvert who have interested all of us in these problems in Philadelphia.

SENATE BILL No. 797, PRINTER'S No. 499, RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 15, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 797, Printer's No. 499, entitled "An Act amending the act of June 24, 1931 (P. L. 1206) entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' requiring entrance of bond in appeals from board of adjustment rulings affecting zoning regulations."

This bill attempts to alter existing procedures in taking appeals in zoning cases. The language used to effect the changes is vague and indefinite and imposes serious problems of constitutionality.

Furthermore, the bill provides that where an appeal is taken from the grant of a permit to build in conformity with the zoning ordinance, the appellant must file a bond of not less than 25% of the cost of construction. This requirement would impose an excessive burden on the taking of appeals in such cases and would undoubtedly close our courts to legitimate appeals. I do not believe that such procedure is desirable or necessary.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 877, Printer's No. 385, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 571) entitled as amended 'An act relating to assessment for taxation in counties of the fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for county borough town township school except in cities and county institution district purposes and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation thereof for such purposes creating in each such county a board for the assessment and revision of taxes defining the powers and duties of such boards providing for the acceptance of this act by cities regulating the office of ward borough town and township assessors abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class providing for the appointment of a chief assessor assistant assessors and other employes providing for their compensation payable by such counties prescribing certain duties of and certain fees to be collected by the recorder of deeds and municipal officers who issue building permits imposing duties on taxables making improvements on land and grantees of land prescribing penalties and elminating the triennial assessment' imposing certain temporary restrictions on the taxing authorities of political subdivisions affected by the provisions of said act."

This bill amends The Fourth to Eighth Class County Assessment Law by imposing certain restrictions on such counties following the establishment of the permanent record system and the making of its first assessment of real property under that system. The act requires that if political subdivisions which levy its real estate taxes on the basis of that first assessment must for the first year reduce its tax rate so that the total amount of taxes levied for the year equal the same total amount levied during the preceding year. The only way to avoid this restriction is with approval of the court of common pleas of the county.

Such a requirement would be unduly restrictive on the thousands of local subdivisions throughout the Commonwealth which will be affected by county reassessments, many of which would normally require increases to meet their obligations during the first year following the reassessment. Furthemore, to require them to obtain the approval of the court before increasing the tax rate would create an excessive burden on the courts. The disadvantages which would accrue as a result of passage of this bill far outweigh any possible protection afforded property owners.

For these reasons, this bill is not approved.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it is my purpose today to make a remonstrance and, at the same time, to make an appeal to the Chairman and the Members of the Labor and Industry Committee of this Senate. I would like to speak to that point, about House Bill No. 1587, which, to my mind, is one of the important measures introduced at this Session for the benefit of industry in this Commonwealth. A lot of pious cant goes on in this august Hall with regard to our solicitude for the well-being of industry.

Mr. President, here is a bill which, in my opinion, is very important for the health of many of our important industries in this Commonwealth. This bill was introduced in the House of Representatives in June of 1955. It was passed, came to this Senate and it was referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on October 3, 1955. Since that time, in addition to my own efforts, hundreds of letters have been written by industry throughout this Commonwealth on behalf of this bill and addressed to Members of this Senate. Upon inquiry, I learned that a very large number of letters have been written on the same subject to our Department of Labor and Indusry.

This bill is evidently not a political bill. There is nothing in it that should be at all controversial or of a partisan nature. I have not talked to anyone who has even suggested that there is anything political about it. We, therefore, cannot charge any delay to that score. This bill would certainly benefit industry. This is testified to by the hundreds of letters and the personal appeals of many of the engineers who are engaged in industry on behalf of this bill. This is a bill which would provide for the better safety of our workers in industry and the citizens of the Commonwealth. This bill has the support of most of the industries in this Commonwealth and, especially, those industries which are engaged in manufacturing, using pressure vessels or boilers. This bill, I understand, is supported by the Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania. It certainly has the support of the Department of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth. It is a bill which conforms to most of the laws that are already in existence to protect the safety of citizens of other States. Most of the States in this Country have similar laws upon their books.

If all this is true, Mr. President, then who opposes it? To the best of my knowledge, I have been able to find only one source of opposition, but apparently it has been a very powerful and, certainly, a very successful one. This is a part of the oil industry in Pennsylvania. Before I go into the reasons for this opposition, let me tell you a little bit about the bill so that you can try to figure out, as I have, why anyone should oppose it.

The main purpose of this bill is to make it possible for the Department of Labor and Industry to enforce our present boiler law in a sane and sensible manner, in an effective manner, which will really provide for the safety of our citizens, particularly those in industry. The present boiler law is badly outmoded and almost impossible to enforce. It was passed twenty-seven years ago, in 1929, at a time when unfired pressure vessels, which now form a major part of the enforcement activities under this bill for the Department of Labor and Industry, were practically unknown. No one even thought any law concerning them was necessary. Eight years later, when these pressure vessels began to be used, the boiler law was amended and the definition of the word "boiler" was amended to include these unfired pressure vessels. All of the provisions of the act, which applied to boilers, were made to apply to these unfired pressure vessels.

Today, the use of these pressure vessels has expanded in a fashion that I can only describe as incredible. Today these pressure vessels are used to contain air, water, oil, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, other gases and many chemicals. These pressure vessels range in size from vessels which are one inch in diameter, about as big as my thumb, to vessels which have a capacity of 50,000 pounds. The use of these vessels has expanded to include a fascinating array of uses in industries and in professions. However, under the law, passed in 1929 and amended eight years later, the term "boiler" includes all these various types of unfired pressure vessels. It makes it practically impossible to have any sort of sensible or effective enforcement. It requires all of this pressure equipment of all these different types, regardless of how big or how small, regardless of whether it is very high pressure or very low pressure, to be constructed, to be stamped and to be annually inspected under exactly the same terms as the largest boiler in the Commonwealth.

On the face of it, this is obviously ridiculous and impossible of enforcement. It makes it really impossible for the Department to maintain a competent inspection to protect the safety of our citizens.

What would this bill do, Mr. President? House Bill No. 1587 would simply split up this antiquated definition of the word "boiler." It would put boilers in one category and it would put unfired pressure vessels in a separate category. It would further authorize the Department to make exemptions of those pressure vessels which, let us say, were very small or of very low pressure and did not require the rigorous controls and specifications necessary for huge boilers, under thousands of tons of pressure. In other words, it will allow the Department to treat these unfired pressure vessels separately from boilers.

This, of course, is necessary in order to have good enforcement. The Department, at present, is unable to give that kind of enforcement to the law. It would save money for the Commonwealth; it would save the Department from unnecessary "snoopervision" over certain types of vessels which are made by the thousands and which do not need the rigorous examination that the larger ones do. In view of these facts, Mr. President, it is hard to see why anyone in the Commonwealth would be opposed to this. However, I have already told you that a part of the oil industry has registered opposition so successfully that this bill is still incarcerated in committee.

What are the reasons for the opposition of a part of the oil industry? You can believe that I, of course, was very much interested in this. I talked to the engineers of numerous corporations, particularly in refrigeration. The engineers of this industry are very anxious to have this bill passed because they use unfired pressure vessels. I talked to members of the Department of Labor and Industry and both of them told me that they had met with representatives of the oil industry, at least that part of it which is opposed to this bill, and had asked them what they thought was wrong with the bill. They asked how this bill would hurt them. They asked whether they could do something about it to make it conform to their wishes. They asked what was wrong with this bill. The answer that both of the members of the Department of Labor and Industry got, according to what they told me, is that the oil industry has no objection whatever to the provisions of this bill. There is nothing in this bill, according to my sources, which will hurt the oil industry. The oil industry, they say, admits this. Then, why do they not let go of their iron grip on this thing and let us have this bill, which is so necessary to many of our important industries? The answer is that although there is nothing in the bill that will hurt them, they are asking the proponents of the bill to agree to an amendment which would accept the inspection reports of their company's own paid inspectors in lieu of the inspection which is mandated by the present law through the Department of Labor and Industry's inspections. I wonder if you see what that means. It means that instead of the inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth going out and making these inspections, these companies wish the Department to accept the inspection of their own paid employees in lieu thereof. Such a privilege, to my knowledge, has never been granted to any industry in any kind of manufacturing.

It is obvious that the public's interest is involved in this thing. The Department cannot simply abdicate and say, "Yes, you have your own inspectors inspect them." If they did it for this industry, it is very obvious that other industries would ask for the same privilege. Steel companies manufacturing, let us say, large hoists which, if they are not safely constructed, would come crashing down and threaten the lives of employees and citizens, might ask for the same privilege. They might ask that their own inspection be considered adequate and to have the Department's inspection cease. This, of course, is an impossible request from the standpoint of public safety because we run this Commonwealth not for the interest of a small segment of our industry, but for the safety of the whole citizenry of this Commonwealth and for all the employees.

Since House Bill No. 1587 in no way is injurious to the interest of the oil industry and since it would provide so many benefits for a very important part of our industry in this Commonwealth, in addition to making a mild remonstrance about it, I would at this time like to appeal to the Chairman and to the Members of the Committee on Labor and Industry to give House Bill No. 1587 consideration and to bring it forth to be voted on on this floor, at which time we can present to the Senators who will vote upon it a case for it. In that event, I am confident that it would receive the support of this Senate, that it would be signed by the Governor and that it would become law.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the remarks of the gentleman from York are, in a large measure, correct. Most of the support for this bill, and there has been a great deal of support for it, has come from manufacturers of what are termed unfired pressure vessels. I do not have the benefit of a technical discussion prepared for me by, I presume, the Department of Labor and Industry or the manufactury in the county from which the gentleman hails, which manufacturing company is interested in the passage of this bill and has had their chief engineer up here discussing it with me and with others on a couple occasions.

However, Mr. President, in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, as we all know, there are a number of medium size and small refining operations. These industries inform me that, first, they have a number of patented processes in operation which are operated under royalty agreements. Inspections are made of those vessels, which I presume are fractionating towers and similar installations, by the owners of those processes and by the insurance companies covering those owners as well as the refineries.

Under this bill, Mr. President, if they were required to submit to an inspection on the part of the Department of Labor and Industry at times when their continuous processes might be interrupted, it would cause the manufacturers a great deal of expense in the conduct of their refining operations. That is the principal objection I have had to this bill. If that matter can be straightened out, as I have stated to the Secretary of Labor and Industry and to others who are interested in the manufacture of a totally difierent type of pressure vessel, possibly the committee might give further consideration to the bill.

For the benefit of the gentleman from York, and this information has been current for several months, this bill has been considered in committee. It has been carefully considered not only in a regular meeting but in meetings with the engineer, to whom I referred, in private discussions. Incidentally, that engineer admitted that the chemical and oil industry might have a valid objection.

Mr. President, it might be possible to work something out, as I wrote to the Secretary of Labor and Industry when I said this:

"When the men from the Department were here last week, I went over this matter with them and an endeavor will be made to satisfy the industries which feel they would be hampered by passage of this bill.

"It has been suggested also that the A.S.M.E. Code be incorporated in the bill. However, I feel that as Codes are subject to change through advancements and changes in industries that the Department should have wide latitude in adopting rules," which is, I believe, a part of the bill and with which I agree.

However, that one obstacle remains, Mr. President, and aside from the fact that the bill has been considered in committee unfavorably, as yet no satisfactory answer has been made to me.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the probelm of wire tapping and its effect on the people of Pennsylvania, and to include in the study a comprehensive review and consideration of federal laws and the laws of other states on the subject of wire tapping; and be it further

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTGATE THE SAFEGUARDING OF THE HEALTH OF THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH BOTH THROUGH THE PREVENTION OF MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF MISBRANDED ADULTERATED UNWHOLESOME OR DELETERIOUS FOODS

In the Senate, March 13, 1956.

Whereas, The protection of the public health includes both the prevention of adulteration and misbranding of foods and the imposition of positive duties upon food manufacturers, processors, and sellers to offer pure, wholesome food, accurately and truthfully labeled; and

Whereas, While the laws enacted by the Federal Government dealing with both the misbranding and adulteration and the truthful labeling and representation of foods, in their application to interstate commerce, operate to some extent to protect the citizens of the Commonwealth, yet the Commonwealth's obligation to provide safeguards for the health of its citizens is not discharged by a reliance upon the Federal Government, and it remains the right and duty of the Commonwealth to take whatever steps necessary to insure that foods manufactured, processed, and sold within our state be wholesome and be completely and accurately labeled; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth's food laws deal primarily with preventing the adulteration and misbranding of foods and but infrequently provide for the complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the safeguarding of the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth, both through the prevention of manufacture and sale of misbranded, adulterated, unwholesome, or deleterious foods and through requirements for complete and accurate labeling and advertising of foods.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 12, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. MADIGAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1311, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing a permanent allocation of a part of the fuels and liquid fuels tax proceeds to cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships for their road street and bridge purposes conferring powers and imposing duties on local officers and the Department of Highways and making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the reason I have called this bill up at this time is so that the different organizations and subdivisions of government may be notified if we take that action now; whereas if we wait and the Calendar should not be entirely considered today, it would be late to get notice to these groups.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

This is the reason for my request that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before considering House Bill No. 323, Printer's No. 1521, may we be at ease for about five minutes?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have received a number of objections to this bill,, especially from the National Rifle Association of Washington, D. C. The objections are aimed at section five of the bill.

I have an amendment prepared to eliminate section five from the bill. I have been advised that there will be objection to that amendment.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 323, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the protection of the public safety by regulating the sale offering or exposing for sale at retail and the use of air rifles defining air rifles authorizing cities boroughs towns and townships to issue permits for licensing and to regulate target ranges imposing duties on the Pennsylvania State Police sheriffs police officers and constables and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to make my position specifically clear here today. I believe that we could amend House Bill No. 323 here on the floor. I feel, too, that it is good constructive legislation, which is going to provide a law which we actually have needed for a long, long time.

Mr. President, I do not agree with the recommitment of this bill and, therefore, I want to be recorded as voting "no."

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I happen to be a member of an organization known as the Lions International which is very much interested in this question of the protection of the eyesight of children and blindness, a lot of which has been caused by the mishandling of air rifles.

I have two sons who use rifles and who belong to clubs where they are taught how to use their rifles, but I still believe that this bill should be passed. This bill can be passed by wiping out section five, which is the objectionable feature of the bill in so far as these sportsmen's clubs are concerned. I see no necessity to return the bill to committee. I think the amendments proposed to be offered by Senator McGinnis would suffice. Therefore, I, likewise, wish to be recorded as voting "no" on the recommitment.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I am opposed to recommiting this bill because I am interested in saving the eyes of our children. I want to be recorded as voting "no" on the recommittal motion.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on this motion.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, apparently the only reason that motivated Senator McGinnis in sending this bill back to committee is that he is afraid the Great Dane will be injured if this bill is not sent back to committee.

I am worried very little about the Great Dane but, like Senator Schmidt, I am worried about the safety of our children. I, too, want to voice my objection to recommitting this bill.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the Clerk will call the roll on this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—23

Berger,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.	Peelor,	Wade,
Chapman,	Madigan,	Propert,	Weiner,
Diehm,	Mahany,	Seyler,	Whalley,
Flack,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	McPherson, Jr.,	Taylor,

NAYS—11

Dent,	Hays,	Mullin,	Silvert,
Derk,	Lane,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Haluska,	Mallery,	Schmidt,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1021, entitled:

An Act authorizing the recovery of damages from parents of children destroying property

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1021, Printer's No. 587, in my opinion, is a very poor type of legislation to put on the books of Pennsylvania. This bill would endeavor to change a law which we have had from time immemorial, and that is to exempt parents from responsibility for the so-called torts of their children.

This bill, Mr. President, says that if a child maliciously and wantonly destroys property of the Commonwealth or of any subdivision of the Commonwealth or any private individual, the parent of that child shall be liable to the extent of $150.

Being a parent myself, I have, at all times, tried to teach my children to appreciate the property of others and to refrain from any destruction. However, you and I know that there is wanton and malicious destruction of property by children who come from homes of parents who have not neglected the care of those children. To say that those parents shall be liable for the destruction by these children is something I do not believe in.

Mr. President, the average parent will pay for any of this damage voluntarily, but to impose this legal responsibility is something that if we go one step further, we are liable to say that if a child commits a crime the parents are going to be liable for that crime. I do not think anybody here feels that this should happen.

This bill is also drawn very loosely, because there is nothing in the bill to determine whether or not a child has committed the damage and whether or not the damage done was wanton and willful. Mr. President, a child may be with a group and some damage is done and there is no way to determine whether or not the child has committed that damage. Yet, you propose to say by this act that you shall assess damages up to $150 on the parent. I think this is a very loosely written bill and it is a step in the wrong direction. Therefore, I ask the Members of this Senate to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, as sponsor of this piece of legislation, I want to say that I believe the bill will have a great deal of merit if for no other reason than the moral issue which is behind it.

Today, Mr. President, we see juveniles who willfully and maliciously destroy property. They will go along with knife blades and scratch automobiles; they will break into school houses and do thousands of dollars of damage. There may be a group of these children together, but if those boys and girls knew that their parents were held responsible, they might think twice before they do anything destructive. The bill, as I originally drew it, provided for damages of $300 to be collected from the parents, but the committee saw fit to amend it to $150.

Two States, Michigan and New York, have this law on their books. In both of these States, the amount of damage that has been done has been reduced to as much as fifty per cent because these juveniles realize their parents are responsible financially for some of this malicious and willful destruction which they do to the school houses or to people's property.

One more thing, Mr. President. Senator Schmidt spoke about the fact that he did not think the parents should be responsible for their children's damage. Our books carry laws which say that if a dog or cat goes into your garden and destroys your flowers, the owner of that dog or cat is responsible. Certainly if they are responsible for their animals, they should be responsible for the acts of their children. I think this is a good piece of legislation.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill. To me, a perfect bill is one which expresses what it intends in a half page. You do not need long bills to make laws. This bill is not loosely written because it is short.

This bill makes parents financially responsible to the extent of $150 for willful and malcious destruction of property. I am convinced, and so are a great many people, that possibly fifty to seventy-five per cent of the juvenile delinquency we are suffering in this State, and particularly in Philadelphia, is due to delinquent parents.

Mr. President, there is a difference between making parents financially responsible civilly and criminally. This does not impose criminal responsibility, nor will it lead to it.

Mr. President, this bill has only been on the Calendar a short time. I should like to read, for the record, portions of a letter which I received from Mr. H. Paul Janes, Coordinator of Special Services of the Board of Education of Camden, New Jersey. He says:

"In my opinion, after nearly thirty years of daily experience with juvenile delinquency, this law will prevent one-half to three-fourths of the juvenile delinquency in the State of Pennsylvania."

He goes on further and says:

"What holding parents responsible for so simple a responsibility as keeping their children in school will accomplish has been amply demonstrated in Camden fifteen years ago. When our school attendance was disgracefully poor, we were taking over 300 children a year to juvenile court. Then we changed policy."

Mr. President, this change in policy was that they held the parents responsible. They would call the parents instead of the children into juvenile court.

"Today we never take a child to court unless he must first be placed in protective custody. Instead we prosecute parents when their children do not attend school.

"It is our hope that New Jersey will enact such a law," similar to the law in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I feel this is healthy, worthwhile legislation which will eliminate a great deal of juvenile delinquency.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this legislation, the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, I am sort of curious about this piece of legislation. How would you take action to recover in your trespass action? In other words, supposing there is a child who damaged property up to $150. How would you take action to recover the damages?

Mr. PECHAN. I would get me a lawyer.

Mr. LANE. Let us not be facetious about this matter. After all, we are passing legislation here and I think the people want to know just what you are going to do. How are you going to recover those damages? Are you going to recover in a magistrate's court, a justice of the peace court, the Court of Quater Sessions or Common Pleas Court?

Mr. PECHAN. I would go to the parent first of all. It is not so much the $150 you are going to get as it is the responsibility that this parent has, and that this child realizes he has to his parent.

I am not worrying about the $150. What I am worrying about is parental responsibility and trying to get that child not to go out and do malicious and willful damage to other people's property.

Mr. LANE. Doctor Pechan, what we are talking about is the law which we are about to pass. After all, that may be your opinion, but once this legislation is passed we want to know the procedure. How are you going to proceed to recover the damages?

Mr. PECHAN. I am going to get me a lawyer, if his father does not pay me.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the gentleman. Mr. President, I am quite sure he does not know how the damages will be recovered.

I am sort of sympathetic with the attempt as far as this piece of legislation is concerned, but I am very much afraid it is going to destroy the intent of our Juvenile Court Act. I say that because in the event a child is brought up or the parents are brought up before the court—naturally the child is going to be subpoenaed and has to be a witness in court—he is, therefore, going to be exposed to public ridicule. The Juvenile Court Act was passed for the purpose of rehabilitating junvenile delinquents. The primary purpose is to conceal them from ridicule as far as the public is concerned. On top of that, Mr. President, most of your Juvenile Court Judges in Pennsylvania are not sympathetic with this type of legislation.

I firmly believe that since justices of the peace have had their jurisdiction enlarged to $300, therefore, a parent could bring the action in a justice of the peace's court and the parent of the defendant would appear and be sued. The parents would really be the defendants but they would have to produce their children. I do not believe that we want our children in justice of the peace courts or aldermen's courts because, under the present Juvenile Court Law, they cannot hold a hearing on juveniles under eighteen years of age unless they have committed a felony. All they do is sign a petition and forward the petition to Juvenile Court and the Juvenile Court then takes jurisdiction in the case. The children are not exposed to public view under the Juvenile Court Law and, therefore, I cannot vote for this legislation in its present form.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I feel that Senator Pechan deserves commendation for sponsoring this bill. He did a very good job and I am in full support of it but, before he repairs to the back, I just wanted to point out that to complete his job, he should report from his committee the bills dealing with forest camps for delinquents. These bills are very important. Once he starts on a good job, he should complete the job.

So far as the fears voiced by Senator Lane are concerned, I believe that most of the laws enacted are more or less of a preventive measure. They throw a fear, and in that way they preclude such cases where damages have to be paid.

I do hope that Senator Pechan, in his wisdom, will see to it that those two bills which are now in his committee, dealing with delinquents, will be moving and appearing soon on the Calendar.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it is my humble opinion, as a lawyer, that this act will not hold up many juveniles to ridicule. All this is is a simple action in assumpsit, and that is a civil action to the civil side of the court and not the criminal side. The way I interpret this bill is that the parents would be brought into court as the defendants and the damages would be assessed against them. The youngster, in this bill, probably would be the witness for either side, whichever one wanted to call him, in order to determine the amount or the extent of the damages. The only thing that I want to point out in this Act—and I believe in what it is purporting to do—is that I believe it is unnecessary because there is already an act on the books that covers this type of a situation.

Someone gave an example here a little while ago that if any animal does any damage, then the owner is liable. However, I believe you will find that the rule is that every dog or every animal is entitled to one bite. Therefore, they have interpreted it, as far as youngsters or juveniles are concerned, that if a youngster has vicious propensities and the family or the person who is in charge, or the guardian of that youngster, has reason to know this and the youngster then does some damage, thereafter he would be held liable.

I do not believe that this bill. the intent and purport of which are good, will cover the problem. I do not believe that it makes any innovation in the law other than the amount of damage that is involved. It allows whoever has been injured to have a civil suit. Whether we can do that or not, I have some grave question in my mind.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am not certain that the remarks made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, or my own are strictly in order when discussing this bill. However, I want to reassure he and the Members of the Senate that the bill, I believe it is House Bill No. 1073, relating to the use of conservation camps for delinquents, is in my possession as a member of a subcommittee to get some amendments. It has already been acted upon by the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, and we are quite certain that this bill can be reported out tomorrow.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I might be able to clear up some of the doubt that exists in Senator Lane's mind relative to this bill. First, I do not believe that you would be embarrassing the child in any way by bringing him into court. Under the present law, if someone, we will say, seventeen year of age who has an operator's license and drives a car runs into you, you have a right to bring suit and that person would be a witness and also a defendant and would be in court. This is not a crminal proceeding; it is merely a civil proceeding for the purpose of allowing the person who has property, which has been damaged by willful and malicious acts of a child, to bring suit against the parent up to $150.

Contrary to what Senator Weiner said, I do not believe that we have a present remedy under the law other than in those cases where the parent has been found negligent. In other words, you would have to show that the parent was negligent in giving a gun to a child and that the gun caused the damage, or giving some other instrumentality to a child which caused the damage. Therefore, the parent would be negligent. In that case, you could sue the parent for any amount, even in excess of $150, because that action would be in trespass and would be a court action. This is an action in assumpsit, and I believe that this would enable you to proceed against the parent, even though he might not be negligent. The child, for instance, could be out on his own and could break a window. In that case, the parent would be responsible for the damage caused.

As far as your jurisdiction is concerned, your court would probably be, in a case such as this, the justice of the peace court to start with. I believe you could bring your action before a justice of the peace inasmuch as the amount here involved would be less than the jurisdictional limit of the justice of the peace, which is $300. Then, any judgment which the justice of the peace handed down would be appealable to the Court of Common Pleas, such as any other judgments which are handed down under the present law. You could, therefore, appeal to the Court of Common Pleas and if you did so, you would have a jury trial.

I do believe that if we pass this bill and it becomes law, it will act as a deterrent against children breaking windows and causing a lot of damage. I believe if the parents know that they are going to be responsible for the damage up to $150, they are going to exercise a little bit more supervision over their children.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, the Majority Leader, being an attorney, realizes that this type of an action—although it is referred to as an action in assumpsit in this proposed bill—is, in actuality, an action in trespass. He also knows that a justice of the peace is without jurisdiction in a trespass committed by an agent because the parent who is being sued is not the one committing the trespass and, therefore, there is no jurisdiction in so far as the justice of the peace is concerned, were it an action in trespass. It is not a direct trespass.

Mr. President, the average parent whose child breaks a window or who does slight damage ordinarily pays the damage and does not say anything about it. This bill is aimed at these young boys and girls who have become vandals and who have vandalized school property, property belonging to public institutions and so on, where the damage is in the hundreds and thousands of dollars. This bill, as you see here, limits the liability of a parent to $150. Whether or not the thought upon the part of youngsters who act as vandals, that their parents are going to be liable to pay whatever damage they do up to $150, will act as a deterrent, I doubt very much. It just does not happen that way.

What this bill would tend to do would be this. It would promote some more of these backyard squabbles between parents and their children, where children get into childish pranks and the parents become involved. If you throw this thing open to suits before justices of the peace, you are going to have some more of these backyard squabbles and they will end up with neighbors being mortal enemies and getting nowhere with it. I do not think that this bill, even though the purpose behind its sponsor is to endeavor to stop vandalism, is going to stop it.
Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that it is only going to clutter up our books with useless law.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I just want to ask the Majority Leader whether, in his comparison of a child who is seventeen years of age operating a vehicle whereby damages are sustained by a third party, it would actually be an action in trespass. In this particular case, where a child would willfully and maliciously destroy property, then you would have an action of assumpsit here. Naturally, it is going to bring the children into the magistrates' courts. They are going to go into the magistrates' courts after they have been before Juvenile Court.

I say to you, and I say to the Members of this Senate, that if we pass this legislation in its present form, what we are actually doing is destroying the Juvenile Court Law.

I recall when we had quite a number of debates on that legislation, when we raised the age of juveniles to eighteen years of age in order to protect them and keep them out of courts. When a child is taken into Juvenile Court, generally speaking, it is a private hearing. This way, you are going to expose these children in a magistrate's, alderman's, or justice of the peace court and, where an appeal is taken, up into the Court of Common Pleas. I say it is wrong. Of course, the intent is right. I think there should be a responsibility. However, this is not the approach. I believe it is going to subject our juveniles to ridicule. Therefore, I am going to vote "no" on this legislation.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, over the past week end, twelve boys in a suburb of Philadelphia broke into a house where five girls were having a party. The boys proceeded to break up furniture and things of value just maliciously and willfully. For us to say here that the parents of those boys should be let go scot-free, I think would be very bad policy. I, personally, believe that it is time to stop pampering juvenile delinquency.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Almighty, God, Thou Who are Holiness, Truth, Life, Eternity Justice. Thou Who art all in all, the beginning and the end, the first and last have mercy upon us as we stand at the crossroads in this hour of crisis and decision.

Hold us back O Lord from going this way or that way because some mighty, some wise, some great have been calling to us, noisily and oftentimes confused and frustrated.

God, rather lead us to the foot of the cross. Then we will see light, love, goodness, unselfishness, humility. What more does our world need than light, love, goodness? Then and only then, will we be truly instructed in the ways of peace and freedom. Then will we direct our every energy to the total good of all mankind.

We beseech Thee, give this divine insight to all these representatives and unto all who have the rule and authority over us. For Christ's sake pity us and hear us. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1880.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 16, 1956.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1880, Printer's No. 1447, entitled "An Act to further amend sections twenty and twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine' by requiring additional reports and changing the due date of certain payments of capital stock tax and francise tax changing the gross receipts fraction applicable to foreign corporations and further providing for the computation and payment of the tax by domestic corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships and companies."

This bill was introduced on November 21, 1955, and was designed to place payment of the capital stock and franchise taxes on a current basis. Such result was to be accomplished by accelerating the payment of such taxes for 1956, requiring 80% of the tax due for that year to be paid on March 15th. A tentative return likewise was to be filed on that date. The purpose of this proposal was to provide additional revenues for the current biennium.

The bill was passed finally by the House on November 23, 1955, and immediately sent to the Senate where it was referred to the Finance Comimttee. It languished in that committee for nearly two months, until January 17, 1956, when it was reported out and received first reading. It should be noted that at this point the bill remained in this same form as its original draft. Then, for some inexplicable reason, the bill was recommitted to the Finance Committee and not re-reported out until February 28, 1956, this time with amendments. Final passage occurred on March 2, 1956.

Following recommission of the bill to the Senate Finance Committee on January 23, 1956, it was amended to give domestic corporations doing business outside the Commonwealth the option of being taxed under either the domestic capital stock tax or the foreign franchise tax. The present law requires all domestic corporations to pay tax under the former.

By allowing these corporations so to choose their tax serious fiscal, administrative and legal problems would occur. First, the foreign franchise tax being an excise, not a property tax, it permits allocation of revenue on the basis of the usual fractions. Thus, a domestic corporation allowed so to allocate could materially reduce the amount of tax it otherwise would be required to pay under the capital stock tax. The resulting decrease in revenue to the Commonwealth is inestimable, but it might well have absorbed the full value of the acceleration feature proposed by the Administration.

The bill does not set forth the taxable year to which the option first would apply. Moreover, it would permit a corporation to exercise its option in either direction in any year, thus prompting confusion in the administration of these taxes. If the taxpayer chose to be taxed under the franchise tax formula and the State's taxing officers later redetermined that such formula results in a higher tax than under the capital stock tax formula, the taxpayer could then switch his option to the latter and hopelessly involve the taxing officers in the elusive game of trying to pin down the taxpayer.

Finally, the amendment discriminates against domestic corporations which do all of their business in Pennsylvania by denying to them this option given to similar corporations doing a multiple State business. This situation may well be construed by the courts as an unconstitutional discrimination. Nor does the solution lie in extending the option to all domestic corporations.

It is remarkable to note that the present capital stock and franchise tax structure has existed since 1935 without any serious demand for the option until recently. It does not seem far-fetched to assume that this sudden desire for change stems from the present Administration's policy of enforcing the capital stock and franchise taxes properly and collecting the full measure of these taxes. At a time when the Commonwealth's financial condition is so dire as to necessitate new taxes, it is the extreme of hypocrisy to emasculate an existing tax law.

Further more, the behavior of the Senate Finance Committee in first reporting the bill out unchanged and then having it returned to insert this amendment, reveals only too clearly that private interests were hard at work to achieve the passage of the amendment. I cannot countenance such manipulation under any circumstances; but when the fiscal situation is so desperate, the committee's actions deserve severe condemnation.

Beyond this patent show of favoritism, the committee should be further reproached for its long delay in reporting out the bill. Between November 21, 1955, and March 6, 1956 (when I received the bill), there elapsed a period of 106 days. For 91 of these the bill lay in the Senate Finance Committee. By the time it finally passed, it was obviuosly impossible as a practical matter for a corporation to comply with the requirements that tax be paid and a tentative return filed on March 15, 1956. I can attribute no other motives to these occurrences than a desire on the part of the committee to favor certain private interests and to hinder the Commonwealth even more in its search for revenue.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

FOREIGN OFFICIALS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have the honor today to have as our guests a delegation of jurists, judges, men learned in matters of jurisprudence. They came into the Hall of the House expecting we would have an ordinary, regular session, one of those sessions in which there were differences of opinion perhaps between those who are separated by the middle aisle.

These guests come from a great many countries. As the chair understands, they are studying at Columbia University familiarizing themselves with the way we try to run a country.

The Chair is apologizing to the Members of the delegation that we are unable because of the weather to perform as we usually do.

We have been forced this morning to proceed with a calendar based upon unanimous consent. We can only consider bills if no single Member objects. You who are familiar with parliamentary practices in your own countries know that you cannot consider very many bills if you have to proceed on a unanimous consent basis. When we do not have 106 Members in the Hall of the House, we must necessarily proceed on a basis of unanimous consent.

So we have completed our unanimous consent calendar. There are only purely routine matters to be considered. The Chair apologizes most abjectly that we are not able to produce a performance in line with our usual practices. It might be interesting if we had a day as we had a few days ago when the different policies were the objects of vigorous debate, but this is a very tame occasion. The winds and the storms have chained us. So we once again apologize to you. Thank you for coming. we hope you can return sometime when we can put on a really good show for your benefit.

The members of the delegation are the guests of the International Good Will Committee and they are as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, would I be in order at this time to ask for permission to interrogate one of the gentleman from the other side and to make a short statement?

The SPEAKER. Whom does the gentleman desire to interrogate?

Mr. MOSCRIP. The gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, the Chairman of the Education Committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is at liberty to interrogate any Member who will permit himself to be interrogated.

Will the gentleman from Greene, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether he can tell me if and when the teacher's salary bill will be brought to the floor of this House?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer when it will be brought to the floor of the House. The Committee on Education will meet tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Room 324.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MOSCRIP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief. I hope since the gentleman said his Committee will meet he will bring to the floor of this House in a very short time the teachers' salary bill.

It is my recollection that there was an appropriation passed by this Legislature of approximately $31 million for that purpose. Since we are approaching the closing days of the session and salary increases seem to be the order of the day, I hope he will not disappoint us.

INTERROGATION

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, over this week end I read some newspaper reports in connection with the job classifications and salary schedules of the employes of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission. I believe the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, was a Member of the House during the 1953 session, is that right?

Mr. BRETH. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is the gentleman from Clearfield acquainted with the bill which was passed in the 1953 session increasing the fishing license from $2.00 to $2.50?

Mr. BRETH. Very familiar.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is the gentleman acquainted with the debate which took place on that license increase at that time in 1953?

Mr. BRETH. I am, indeed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have before me—I just want to make this statement before proceeding with the next interrogation—the Legislative Journal for 1953 on pages 3210 and 3211, contains the intrrogation and explanation to which I want to refer and have it referred to in these proceedings.

Is it not the gentleman's recollection, and also as confirmed by the Legislative Journal, that so much of that fifty cent license increase as was necessary should be used for the purposes of taking care of the salary adjustments, and so forth, of the employes of the Fish Commission?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, as I recall that debate, or the expression of sentiment, on the bill raising the fishing license fifty cents, Members on the floor, various Members and the Chairman of the Committee at that time, Mr. Stimmel, made the statement that the primary purpose of the fifty cent increase was to raise wages and salaries of the entire Fish Commission personnel.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is the Chairman of the Conservation and Wild Life Committee of this present session?

Mr. BRETH. I am.

Mr. TOMPKINS. As Chairman of that Committee did the gentleman's Committee hold certain hearings in connection with the salaries and wage scales of the employes of the Fish Commission?

Mr. BRETH. Yes, we did. We were acting under Resolution No. 6, which was passed early last year by this House, and we began hearings with the Fish Commission regarding the wage and salary situation in March, I believe. We held three hearings with them in March and had several other unofficial discussions with them

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as a result of those hearings, which were held along in the early part of 1955, did the gentleman learn that the Fish Commission had not done anything in connection with the adjustment of the wage and salary schedules of the Members of the Fish Commission with the exception of that of the Executive Director?

Mr. BRETH. We learned the Fish Commission had not carried out any complete reclassification of the wages and salaries of their personnel, and we did learn too that in March last year the entire Fish Commission personnel received a ten per cent increase, which was Governor Fine's increase, automatic or stated increase, for state employes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That increase had nothing to do, as I understand it, with the job classifications and the salary adjustments which were intended in 1953 when the increased license went through, is that right?

Mr. BRETH. It was a statewide increase for all employes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire further. The story which I read over the weekend indicates that the Fish Commission even as of this date has not performed this duty. Can the gentleman state whether this is so?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, to answer that I would like to fill in with a little background information.

After our hearings last spring with the Fish Commission, the fact that there were seven vacancies on the Board of the Fish Commission, or seven appointments that could be made by the new Governor, led us more or less into a blank wall. So the Committee at the time—if you remember, we recessed quite a lot now and then, every few weeks—did not press the matter.

By fall a new Fish Commission had been appointed, or was in the process of appointment, and a new Executive Director was appointed. We knew the new Members of the Fish Commission and the new Executive Director would not be familiar with the problem that the gentleman from Cameron is concerned about, so we did not press our hearings further.

However, shortly after the new Commission was formed last fall it did appoint a salary and wage committee to look into the problem with the aim of raising fish personnel salaries and wages.

We read in the newspapers they had been making progress, so we as a Committe waited until just recently, a couple of weeks ago, to inquire further into the matter. In inquiring into the matter here last week, the Committee interviewed Fish Commission officials and we did find that as of now there have been no raises in salaries or wages placed in effect, although recommendations have been made.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, one final question. This news article I read also intimated there was an uncertainty in the minds of the Executive Director of the Fish Commission and a Member of the Governor's Cabinet, Administrative Assistant Dr. Charlesworth, as to whether any portion of this fifty cent increase authorized two years ago, or in 1953, should be used for this purpose. I should like to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether or not there is any doubt in his mind but what this fifty cent increase was to be used for that purpose?

Mr. BRETH. There is no doubt in my mind as to why I voted originally for the increase. That was because primarily I was told on the floor of this House by the combined interests of the State Federation of Sportsmens Clubs, the Fish Commission, the Fish Committee of this House, the Chairman of this Committee and various Members who spoke on the bill, that that was the intent in raising the license fee. But there is no specific stipulation in the bill concerning that.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, we are close to three years from the time when this increased license fee was authorized. Although there was no earmarking in the bill for that purpose, very specific statements were made on the floor of this House, which statements induced Members of the House at that time to vote in favor of the bill. Those statements at that time were in declaration of the legislative intent.

I would like some day before very long to see some of the matters of very specific legislative intent which we declare here carried out not only by the previous administration, as they should have been, but also by this administration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WALLACE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as I recall the year 1953 in the Legislature, I think I was one of the men who questioned one of the sponsors on the other side of the House as to the intent and the purpose of the fifty cents increase. I do recall Members on both sides of this House saying it was a good bill.

I think we also made statements that if we ever came back here we would debate this bill to find out whether these men who are working for the Fish Commission received this increase.

To this date I do not know anything other than what we read in the paper, they are to get a raise, but whether it is to come from this fifty cent increase is another question. I do say this, when we vote a bill on the floor of the House and it is stated on the floor of the House, even though it is not stated in the bill, the intent is there. It was said on this floor that the money would be earmarked for equipment and to put a raise in for the men that are working.

There is proof here today that we voted for a bill, it was debated and we have had interested sportsmen who are Members of this House say it was a good bill

I say to day it is a shame to see the sportsmen of this state paying that fifty cent increase and getting no benefits from it.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1978

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1978, Printer's No. 1377, entitled:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 20, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

No matter how great our effort to improve State Government, it is foredoomed to failure if we cannot attract competent people to the State's service; and if, having attracted them, we cannot induce them to remain in their jobs for a reasonable length of time.

Two vital factors which attract first-rate people to the service of their State are salary and job security.

Our State Government must improve both if we are to have efficient government.

Historically, the policy-making level of jobholders in State Government are appointed under the administrative power. And this also holds true for those whose jobs require only routine training.

But between these extremes there exists a middle group, comprising technical and professional people, to whom State service must offer a non-political career.

At best, such specialists are hard to come by, for their skills are in great demand in the Nation's market places. But it becomes almost impossible to attract them to jobs in government when the government concerned can offer them no security of employment, and therefore no opportunity for building their careers.

It is with the intent of ameliorating this situation that we propose new legislation extending Civil Service in the technical and professional field.

Before discussing this measure, however, I should like to show concrete examples of our failure, under the present system, to recruit the competent people we need for those technical and professional positions which our Commonwealth must fill.

Out of 50 graduates of the Pennsylvania State University Forestry School last year, only one entered the Pennsylvania Forestry Corps. Roughly three-quarters of these men took jobs with the Forestry Departments of our neighboring states.

Salaries were not at issue, for our own are competitive. Job security was, in all cases, the determining factor.

Pennsylvania's Department of Forests and Waters needs twelve trained foresters immediately, but Secretary Goddard, despite personal recruiting trips, has been unable thus far to get them.

We urgently need 200 civil engineers in our Department of Highways. Yet we have had only one civil engineering graduate of the Pennsylvania State University join the staff of our Highway Department since 1951.

Skilled men and women like these cannot be blamed for seeking employment which offers job security and turning their backs on positions which offers no future, or an uncertain future at best.

This Administration, which has faced the problem for upwards of a year, therefore feels that the principle of job security must be extended to some 1100 or 1200 more salaried positions.

Without such job security, we shall not be able to get the people we want, nor hold the people we have.

Accordingly, we strongly recommend a new Personnel Act, embodying the following principal features:

1. It will replace the Civil Service Act of 1941 and cover all positions mentioned in that Act.

2. The range of those positions with job security may be expanded by action of the General Assembly or the Executive Board. But no such positions may be removed from Civil Service protection except by action of the General Assembly. This provision is designed, of course, to prevent liquidation of the job security system by executive action.

3. Incumbent employes will be confirmed in their posts through qualifying examinations.

4. The name of the Civil Service Commission will be changed to the State Personnel Board.

5. The State Personnel Board will be composed of five laymen appointed for five years each on a staggered basis. Of these, no more than three shall represent a single political party. The Board will be semi-autonomous, but will be attached to the Governor's Office for administrative purposes.

6. An Executive Director will administer the Personnel Act. He will be appointed and supervised by the State Personnel Board.

7. Employes in the technical and professional classes affected will have the right to appeal dismissals and the right to reinstatement if they have been improperly dismissed.

8. No employe will have security of tensure until he has completed a six-month probationary period.

9. The status of veterans is unchanged under this legislation.

By making this bill law, the General Assembly will be taking a positive step toward more modern, more efficient and more effective State government.

The proposed Personnel Act is completely in line with the most up-to-date approach to governmental administration.

It is a strengthening of Civil Service and an extension of job security to a critical area of Commonwealth employment, and it cannot fail to ease the task of attracting top people to those professional and technical jobs which now go begging.

I strongly urge the General Assembly's early action on this vitally important legislation.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. This communication will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.
